AND now Detroit furnishes a victim of noble charities in the proprietor of the Commercial Advertiser, who was arrested and is held for trial for promoting lotteries contrary to the Michigan statute.

CHIEF JUSTICE WAITE is said to be in favor of the woman's movement, and Susan B. impatiently urges him to throw his whole weight into the breach without waiting for reinforcements.

Mr. JOHNSTON'S next friend swears that he has observed his first brother-in-law enter a saloon, and that is simply horrible. It settles Baumer's hash at once. Don't it Mr. Lucas?

It now looks as if the Mormon Cannon would not remain permanently planted in the national capitol. A special committee to investigate his polygamous propensities will be appointed by the House, and the indications are that the Mormon delegate will be canonized by being sent back to Brigham's b-b-om.

The Herald has made another wonderful discovery. This time it records most startling manifestations in the mysterious movements of lead pencils by some invisible agency. Nothing startling in that, however. Such an invisible movement has been going on for years among the lead pencils on our editorial table, and strange as it may seem, we never have been able to solve the mystery of their taking off.

Was there ever such an affectionate and tender-hearted relation, as Edward Johnston? With an unparalleled self-sacrificing devotion, he preferred to cruminate himself rather than humiliate his brother-in-law by contradicting his sworn statements concerning the ballot fraud. And then the fraternal Johnston ransacked all the town for somebody who had smelled the breath of his brother-in-law, and thought he might be unreliable. Oh Damon, oh Pythias.

Knocked Down! A remarkable fact can be ascertained by investigating our stock and prices that we have reduced to a very low figure all of our clothing and Gents' furnishing goods, far below the price of any other house. Overcosts in particular can be bought of us now at 25 per cent, less than our former prices. Quick sales and small profits is our motto.

The Post, in an editorial on the subject of American finances, remarks, that the hopes of a complete victory in the next Presidential election entertained by the inflationists, or, properly speaking, repudiators, are, melancholically to contemplate. Should their hopes be realized, then a declaration of independence from common honesty, would be celebrated. The most American feature is that the struggle is defined by geographical limits, and threatens to become sectional, like the anti-slavery contest.
