Specially Reported for the Omaha Daily Bee by the Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph Co.

NEW YORK, May 17. The great calamity which occurred yesterday in Hampshire county, Mass., is the subject of comment of all the papers here. Severe reflections are made by several papers on those having charge of the reservoir, for carelessness in not ascertaining their dangerous condition. The Herald says the disaster showed it was badly built and been badly examined. There is no excuse for building a reservoir that will burst into a death dealing, desola-ting tide under the influence of the first spring rains.

Much sympathy is expressed for the sufferers here, and a movement will no doubt be started at once to extend substantial aid to them.

A Herald special from Springfield says that the flood in Hampshire county was nothing more or less than the result of an insecure, illconstructed reservoir. The dam is about nine years old and has received few, if any repairs, since its construction.

Common rumor at Williamsburg says it has been pronouned unsafe for three years back. The watchman who discovered the leak, thought little of it at first, but when widened and the water rushed through in a rapidly increasing volume, he grew alarmed and hastened to notify the inhabitants in the village below. He started on a run for Williamsburg, two miles off, but long before he reached it the embankment gave way and the mass of water was at Williamsburg before him. He took refuge on a neighboring hill to save his own life. At Haydenville the people thought the approaching mass was fire, and rang the fire bells. In a few seconds after the place was inundated by a resistless torrent. Many of the manufactories destroyed will probably never be re-opened. The blow has been a sad disaster, not only to life but to commercial interests of the large, busy district. In twenty minutes after the inundation the water perceptibly fell and continued to fall slowly ..

BOSTON, May 17. A special dispatch from North-ampton to the Globe, gives the fol-lowing additional details of the terrible mill river disaster: The total loss of life is not yet known, but from returns recently made, it appears that 127 bodies have been identified, while others were found no doubt but that some of the bodies were carried into the Connecticut river, and perhaps will never be seen again. The bodies were tossed about wildly, and thrown frequently in contact with hard substances, and in most cases were stripped naked; and badly bruised. In Williamsburg, a good many French mill operatives were lost, and as they were almost total strangers, their names could not be ascer-tained. In Leeds, a woman was found in the fork of a tree, ten feet from the ground. Seven members of a French family, named Burnett,

A later special to the Globe says the danger is now over and people are now beginning to understand the deplorable condition of affairs. One hundred and fifty persons have been lost. Many survivors are homeless, penniless and destitute; weeping women and children are a common sight in the streets of the ruined villages. Many bodies are still unclaimed; in one carpenter's shop in Leeds there are 47 corpses; in the Leeds school house are 9; in the of the Congregational church, Haydensville, there are 9, most of these have been claimed by friends. Provisions are going for-ward from Northampton. Offers of assistance have been received from the authorities of New Haven and Watertown, Connecticut.

LITTLE ROCK, May 17. Under orders from Gov. Baxter's headquarters, the houses of Chief Justice McClure, Attorney General Yodkley, General Putman, and several other prominent Brookites were guarded last night to prevent any attempt at capture or any violence from the lawless bands. The guards report that they were well treated and cared for by the ladies and in most cases by the gentlemen. The regulars are still patrolling the city, capturing a small number men. It is supposed they are acting in violation of the agreement made by both parties yesterday. They were released to-day; some negroes were taken in hy them.

Baxter's command, by orders of Major-General Churchill, held a dress parade this afternoon. The soldiers made a good appearance, There was much cheering and a salute was gived. The city was quiet and orderly. Governor Brooks' command marched on board the steamer Robert Simple and left for Fort Smith to-day, under an agree-ment made yesterday.

NEW YORK, May 17. Major General Geo. L. Hartsuff, of Pennsylvania, died here yester-day, aged 44. He distinguished him -self in Texas; afterwards in the late civil war; was severely wounded at Antietam, and was promoted to the full rank of Major General, June, 1871. WASHINGTON, May 16. Dispatches received from a nephew of A. H. Stephens say that Mr. Stephens is in a very low state of health. It will be impossible for him to return to Washington. The House Committee on post offices and postal routes have agreed to report a bill directing the prepayment of postage on newspapers in the bulk at the rate of one cent and a half per pound; and on books and other printed matter at the rate of three cents per pound. LITTLE ROCK, May 16. As soon as the contents of the President's proclamation became known in this city the wildest excitement prevailed, and never in the history of Little Rock was there such general rejoicing. Crowds of men, women and children throng the streets, flags are waving and bands are playing.

Baxter issued a congratulatory order to his forces last night, complimenting them for responding to his call. Brooks sent a cummunication to Baxter to arrange for disbanding the forces on both sides. Baxter referred the matter to his commanding officer, Gen. Newton. NEW YORK, May 16.

The prospect of a peaceful settlement of the difficulty seems to be no nearer than before the issue of the President's proclamation.

WASHINGTON, May 16. The President yesterday unequivocally condemned the currency bill passed by the Senate. He considered the bill originally reported by the finance committee a measure of compromise, and though not such a measure as he would wish had been passed to provide a specie pay-met. Yet he would have been willing to accept it as a compromise with the south and west. He now urges the leading men in the House to have the bill so amended as to make it consistent for him to sign it, in the event of the Senate's concurring in the amendment. The President also desires that Congress shall do something, if only to give effect, to the redistribution act.

The Times of this city publishes several hundred dispatches from Ilinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota. and Michigan, showing the condition of the growing crops. With but few exceptions the indications are favorable for abundant crops. The wheat average is equal to that of last year. Corn is not all in, but is promising well.

OTTAWA, May 16. A bill to establish a military cellege on the same principal as the one at West Point passed the Cana-dian Commons. The new tariff bill was also disposed of, but the amendments to take the duties off tea, coffee, and Canadian tobacco, were voted down. The tariff bill is ex-actly as it was brought down by the Finance Minister in amended form. The subject of reciprocity has been much discussed here by. The people earnestly hope that the present negotiats may be successful.

NEW HAVEN, Ct., May 16. The Evening Register has a special from Leeds, Mass., stating that three large reservoirs in the mountains gave way, destroying a whole village, including the large silk works of Hayden, Giere & Co. In parts of the State Brooks signifles his intention of retaining the State officials who have been with him during the late troubles.

He will not, however, interfere with Baxter in any respect.
