The Omahosses are evidently superior mathematicians. They have already solved the problem by the decimal rule, and lager came down to $10.

THE special St. Joseph correspondent of the Chicago Times is again trying to write Vining down "An Ass." Judging his sketch by the elongated ear-marks, the BEE is forced to the conclusion that this is simply another case of mistaken identity. That clever St. Joe artist was evidently looking into the mirror, and has taken his own shadow for that of the irrepressible Vining.

In view of the impending annual conclave of Nebraska medicine men, at Omaha, the BEE would suggest that a revised schedule of professional charges be made to cover. cases of which the following is an A Connecticut man, whose son

.Congressional. SENATE.

WASHINGTON, June 1. Senate met at noon. Mr. Windon called up the Indian appropriation bill and gave notice that as soon as it was disposed of, he would call up the resolution reported from the select committee on transportation, providing for a new survey for the projected lines of interior water communication, He explai ed the items of the Indian appropriation bill, and said amount came from the committee, it called for $5,570,705, which was an increase of $504,903 over the bill as received from the House, but $514 less than the revised estimates of the department, and nearly one million less than last year. Mr. Wright introduced a resolution instructing the committee on transportation to inquire whether any legislation is required to regulate the commerce passing from one globe to another across navigable streams, and report by bill or otherwise; agreed to. Mr. Conkling, from the judiciary

NEW YORK, June 1. A Tribune special from Washington says Secretary Richardson has at last acknowledge he is going out of office, and has informed some of his friends that he proposes to resign the secretaryship, the office not being congenial to him. It is probable his resignation will occur to-day or to-morrow, when the name of General Bristow, of Kentucky, will be sent to the Senate. Richardson's name will be sent to the Senate for the vacant judgship on the bench of the court of claims, an office for which he is becter fitted both by character and training. The names of Bristow and Richardson will probably be sent to the Senate together, perhaps to-day, but certainly in the next three days. Assistant Secretay Sawyer and Solicitor Banfield will also retire, following soon after Richardson. A Times special from Washington says that the District investigation committee meets to-day to consider its report, and is thought that there will be a wide divergence in the commicee as to the legislation that committee, rejorted with amend-ments the bill introduced by Mr. shall be recommended; and there is no doubt that many of the mem-Ingalls, April 16th, amendatory to bers of the committee are in favor the 5th section of the Pacific Rail- of a radical change in the method of governing the District of Columbia, The Indian appropriation bid was then considered, and a number of der which the ter iterial government was established by the departmeats of the general government.
