THE WORK Originally published under the title or The completed in 1863, since which time the wide circulation which it has attained in all parts of the Uni ed States, and the signal developments the Uni ed States, and the signal developments which have taken place in every branch of ecience, literature, and art, have induced the editors and publishers to submit it to an exact

The movement of political analys has kep pace with the discoveries of science, and their truitial application to the industrial and useful arts and the convenience and refinement of social life. Great wars and consequent revolutions have occured, involving national changes of peculiar moment. The civil war of our own country, which was at its height when the last volume of the old work appeared, has happily been ended, and a new conres of commercial and ip-ustrial activity has been commenced.

Large accessions to our geographical knowedge have been made by the indefatigable explorers of Africa.

The great political revolutions of the last decade, with the natural result of the lapse of time, have brought into public view a multitude of new men, whose names are in every one's mouth, and of whose lives every one is curious to know the particulars. Great battles have been fought and important sieges maintained, of which the details are as yet preserved only in the newspapers or in the transient publications of the day, but which ought now to take their place in permanent and authentic history. In preparing the present edition for the press, thas accordingly been the aim of the editors to bring down the information to the latest posible dates, and to furnish an accurate account of the most recent discoveries in science, of every fresh production in literature, and of the newest invention in the practical arts, as well as to give a succinct and historial event.

The work has been begun after long and careful preliminary labor, and with the most ample resources for carrying it on to a successful termination.

None of the original sterestype plates have resources for carrying it on to a successful termination.

None of the original stereotype plates have been used, but every page has been printed on new type, forming in fact a new Cyclopedia, with the same plan and compass as its predecessor, but with a far greater pecuniary expenditure, and with such improvements in its composition as have been suggested by longer experience and enlarged knowledge.

The illustrations which are introduced for the first time in the present edition have been added not for the sake of pictorial effect, but to give greater lucidity and force to the explans-

Quong-Won and Long-Yok.

A Wedding Tour Interrupted by an Arrest.

The Celestial Bride Tried and Acquitted.

Interesting Developments in Regard to the Chinese System of Slavery.

Denver worse, sune 1. Early on Saturday morning, Justice Sayer had the honor of uniting in the holy bonds of matrimony the first and second Chinese couples ever so united in this territory, the contracting parties being named respectively Loe Quong and Gin Won, Fong Long and Kin Yok. The Justice was equal to the occas-ion, and he rattled off the marriage service as glibly as could a parson of twenty years standing. After the ceremony was completed, the Justice informed the small but select audience present that the newly wedded pairs were open for congratulations and magnanimously waived his acknowledged prerogative, of first saluting the blushing brides, in favor of any one then present who might consider it an object. None seeming disposed to avail themselves of the opportunity offered the happy couples were conducted to a carriage in waiting, and drove off on their bridal tours, amid the congratulations of a small but select Fee, has telegraphed to San Fran-cisco for the President of the comcircle of friends. But alas, their new found happipany, and when he arrives extreme measures will, no doubt, be adopted ness was destined to be short lived. While they were in Perry & Bohm's photograph gallery, preparing to have their photographs taken, their serenity was disturbed, and their happiness marred by the sudden appearance of a guardian of the peace, who held in his hand a warrant for the arrest of Gin Won, on a charge of felonously abstracting some $2,500, from beneath the pillow of one Ah Tee, the reputed owner of that interesting damsel. The weeping bride was ruthlessly torn from the arms of her distracted husband, and consigned to one of the dark and dreary cells of the county jail, until such a time as the charge preferred against her could be legally investigated. The friends of the disconsolate husband immediately secured legal talent, and though very late in the afternoon, Judge Walker, moved by a generous spirit of compassion, feelingly appreciating as he did the peculiar hardships of the case, consented to try the case at once. The court room soon became lite:ally packed with Celestials, deeply interested in the issue. The parties to the suit being unable to speak the English language intelligibly, an interpreter was, of course, necessary. It was here discovered that the contending parties had each a disinterested friend who would answer the purpose. Each attorney to fill the position, and there being no prospect of their coming to an agreement, the defendant's counsel proposed to draw lots for a choice, but the plaintiff's counsel objected, and Justice Walker then put an end to the discussion by appointing the friend of the prosecuting party interpreter, at the same time instructing the other aspirant for the position to observe closely the interpretations made, and report any attempt at deceit.

The interpreter being sworn, the counsel for the defense asked him if he understood what the Justice had said, referring to the oath administered. "I don't know," was the reply. At the sugggestion of a friend, he immediately added, "no tell he," which was considered satisfactory. Witnesses for the prosecution were examined at some length, but it was patent from the start that they had been thoroughly drilled by their master, and that no theft had been committed by the defendant, and that the suit had been instituted by the "Boss Chinaman" to prevent the woman being carried out of town. After a short consultation between the Justice and the two counsel, the complaint was dismissed, and the once more happy Celestials left the court room, but even here their troubles were not to end. They returned in a short time and asked protection from the threatened murderous attacks of the defeated party, who had congregated at the foot of the stairs. For a time the wildest excitement existed and a general fight between the two contending parties seemed imminent. but the appearance of a few policemen upon the scence caused a general scattering of the Celestials, and the persecuted bridegrooms and brides were allowed to depart in peace, though it is not all probable that their persecution is at an end. The marriage of these Chinese in Colorado is of much more importance than is generally supposed. Two wealthy Chinese companies, with headquarters in San Francisco and branches here, do an extensive and profitable business in what is really the slaveholding line. They furnish passage to men and women from China, and retain absolute control over them, compelling the poor creatures to work under agents who collect their wages, until such time as they shall have paid back to the company the amount of money advanced for passage and for board, clothes, and incidental expenses, with interest, during the time of servitude. And such marriages as those of Saturday operate directly against the interest of the two branch companies here, and greatly weaken their power to exercise their despotic control over the Chinese women and slaves. The men can ransom themselves in a few years. They being able to adapt them-selves to any kind of labor, and are rarely out of employment, and being also able to live on comparatively nothing, they are soon enabled to lay by the money necessary to liberate themselves. But with the women the case is far different. The expense of keeping them being so great they are rarely ever enabled to get out of bondage by being able to repay the amounts ignorance of the protection afforded them by our laws, The charges preferred against the woman Gin Wom, on Saturday by Ah Tee, the agent of one of the the companies, in charge of the slaves in Colorado, were preferred to regain possession of that woman. Had she been convicted, the agent could have induced her to return to his care by threatening a second suit as soon as her term of imprisonment expired, and when again in the power of the company, she would have been subjected to such a strict surveilance as to render it utterly impossible for her to again escape. When the companies fail to convict, as was the case on Saturday, every means that devilish ingenuity can devise, will be adopted to regain possession of the woman. When all other plans fail, they will even kidnap her, and sup-ply her place with a woman similar in appearance, who is in sympathy with the company, and who will testify that she is the wife, but that she now desires to repudiate her husband, and return to the care of the company. The husbands of the two women named, yesterday, were well aware of this fact, and to prevent the possibility of any such occurrence taking place, went to the gallery of Perry & Bohm, to provide a means for the identification of

In California this traffic in human flesh is carried on to an alarming extent, one company alone, the Hop Kee, of which Ah Fee is the subagent here, exercises despotic control over 40,000 men and women. The authorities there find it impossible to prevent these companie from perpetrating the most brutal outrages upon men and women who have violated contracts made with them. The devices employed are so horrible that the slaves are kept in the most abject fear of the comthat any of them attempt to break their connection with the company in any way but that prescribed by the laws of the companies. The laws which govern the companies there also govern the companies here, the latter being branches. It can be readily understood how very important it is to the companies that those married yesterday should not be allowed to go unmolested; and though the law here has thus far vouchsafed them its protection the end is not yet. The sub-agent here, Ah

Or Sugar-Coaled, Concentrated, Root and Herbal Juice, Anti-Billous Granules. THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC, or Multum in Parvo Physic.

In Parvo Physic.
The novely of modern Medica, Chemical and Pharmaceutical Science. No use of any longer taking the large, repulsive and nauscous pills, composed of cheap, crude, and bulky ingredients, when we can by a careful application of chemical science, extract all the cathartic and other medicinal properties from the most valuable roots and herbs, and concentrate them into a minute Granue, scarcely larger than a mustard seed, that can be readily swallowed by those of the most sensitive stomachs and fastidious tastes. Excludible Purgative Pellet represents, in a most concentrated form, as much cathartic power Each little Purgative Pellet represents, in a most concentrated form, as much cathartic power as is embodied in any of the large pills found for sale in the drug shops. From their wonderful cathartic power, in proportion to their size, people who have not tried them are apt to suppose that they are harsh or drastic in effect, but such is not at all the case, the different active medicinal principles of which they are composed being so harmonized and modified, one by the others, as to produce a most searching and thorough, yet gently and kindly operating cuthart!.

$500 Reward is hereby offered by the proprietor of these Peliets, to any chemist who, upon analysis, will find in them any Calomel or other forms of mercury or any other mineral Being entirely vegetable, no particular Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. In explanation of the remedial power of my Fargative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, I wish to say that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative impress. Are does not impair them; their sugar-coating and being enclosed in glass battles preserve their virtues unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are simple fresh and reliable, which is not the case with the puls found in the drug stores, put up in cheap wood or paste board boxes. Recollect that for all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative or Purgative is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction to all who use them.
