stated that a Poston lady who made a number of purchases, gave no

A free fight is reported in the Piegan camp, near the Blackfoot agency, growing out of the illicit traffic of whisky to the Indians. It occurred on the same night as the fight above reported, May 20th. A drunken Indian named Heavy Runner-a notorious desperado of the tribe-was shot and killed by two of his associates in carousal. Two others of the band, savagely besotted with "fire water," were also shot and seriously, if not fatally wounded, and three more escaped with only slight flesh wounds. This was only a gallon of whisky affair, and lasted only as long as the effects of the liquor held out. The parties who traded the miserable stuff to the | Lancaster ...
