

APPLETON'S American Cyclopaedia

New Revised Edition.
Fully rewritten by the ablest writers on every subject. Printed from new types and set in the most beautiful and readable type ever published.

The Cyclopaedia is published under the title of THE NEW AMERICAN CYCLOPAEDIA, and is the largest and most complete work of the kind ever published in this country. It contains the most accurate and reliable information on every subject, and is the most valuable and useful work of the kind ever published.

Within the last ten years the progress of discovery in every department of knowledge has made a new work of reference an imperative want.

The movement of political affairs has kept the Cyclopaedia up to date in every respect, and the Cyclopaedia is the most complete and reliable work of the kind ever published.

OUR PARIS LETTER.

Political and Social Reviews.

Special Correspondence to the Omaha Bee.

PARIS, June 1. The ministers of emotion have been much disappointed; the new ministry in making its debut before the Assembly read no message, and made no statement of its policy.

The chief of the cabinet, General de Clusey, merely begged of the Chamber to "furnish the government with the necessary funds to supply France with stallions."

Then followed a debate on horse-breeding. More stallions will neither content France nor prolong the existence of ministers. Affairs were never more entangled, never graver.

To the reluctance to organize anything by the Assembly, the country is startled at the Frenchists making any so vigorously while the sun shines—only to be terribly in earnest, and above all things, frank and explicit.

France is weary and disgusted with the political intrigues and irresolute policies. If adversity wins in the indecision reigns, Imperialism will be the result.

The great political revolutions of the last decade, the result of the lapse of time, have brought into view a new order of things, and in every corner of the globe, and of whose lives every one is anxious to know.

Money and Commerce.

Daily Review.

OFFICE OMAHA DAILY BEE, June 15, 1874.

Monetary affairs in this city remain in the same position as previously reported. Reports from the East show a decided lack of buoyancy in the market and a good deal of dissatisfaction among bankers at the condition of affairs. Wall street continues comparatively lifeless.

U. S. Bonds are firm and command a much higher price than gold. Railroad and miscellaneous securities are dull and receive comparatively little attention.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK quotes: Land Grants, $800.00; Land Warrants, (160 acres) 185.00; Agricultural Gold Scrip, (160 acres) 185.00; State, County and City Warrants, .95; Gold—buying, 109; selling, 110.

Trade to-day was only moderate, and confined chiefly to staple goods for immediate wants.

The grain markets of Europe are reported quiet, with a general downward tendency for wheat, and a corresponding advance in corn.

Our own produce market shows some changes, as will be shown in the quotations given below.

MONACO. NEBRASKA CROP NOTES.

Crops could not possibly appear better.—[Franklin Co. Guard.]

Rain! Rain! Rain! Crops look splendid.—[North Platte Enterprise.]

In Wayne county wheat looks good; but corn is not far advanced.—[Oakdale Journal.]

It is unnecessary for us to say that the crop prospects were never better for everyone knows it.—[Sparry Sentinel.]

Corn and wheat never looked better at this season of the year. Many farmers have worked their corn well.—[Stanton Bugle.]

The crops look very promising, especially wheat. There is a good prospect of what yielding 25 to 30 bushels per acre.—[Hebron, Thayer Co. Journal.]

The damage done by the storm, on Sunday night last in this county, was very slight in comparison to the ravages in other States.—[Dakota Mail.]

The heavy rains of late are beginning to make the farmers look blue on the other side of the mouth. They say too much of a good thing is worse than nothing.—[Ashland Times.]

Crops fine hereabouts. Wheat and oats are unusually well, and an unusual harvest is now being broken up and sown.—[Lowell (Kearney Co.) Journal.]

The rains of the past few days have given crops and weeds also a tremendous start. Farmers report that, although late in getting the crops in, they are as far advanced now as they were last year at this time.—[Nebraska City Press.]

Crops never were more promising than they are now in this portion of Howard county. Wheat has already commenced heading and promises an abundant harvest, while corn cannot be beat in this respect.—[Dannebrog (Howard Co.) Sentinel.]

This fine growing weather is putting a head on wheat.

The rain never came in a more favorable season than last week.

We opine that Saline county alone will turn out upwards of a half million bushels of wheat.—[Saline County Post.]

The prospect could not be better than it is at present for a splendid crop of all kinds of grain. All kinds of vegetation are growing with wonderful rapidity and the yield will be large.—[Fairbury (Jefferson Co.) Gazette.]

Crops of all kinds never looked more promising.

Potatoes never looked better than at present, and corn on the up-land is growing very rapidly. It has been a little wet for the past two weeks for crops to do well on the bottom lands, but now that the rain has "let up" crops on the low-land are coming out all right again.

Will plow in this section are completely loaded down with the wild grape crop in the largest ever known here, every vine being literally weighed down with grapes. Cultivated small fruits will also be more plentiful than ever before in this part of Nebraska.—[Grand Island Independent.]
