Postmaster General Creswell Resigns, and Eugene Hale, of Maine, Tendered the Postmaster Generalship.

SALT LAKE, June 24. There is but little excitement here over the passage of the Poland bill. Both parties here claim a triumph and all are pretty well satisfied. The News claims it can injure no one so much as its friends and the Congress who passed it. There has been quite a number of rich strikes of ore in Dry Canon, tory never were better. COUNCIL BLUFFS, June 24. At eleven a. m. to-day Mr. Alex Scott, well known and valued general stock agent of the C. B. & Q. R. R., died at the Pacific House, of consumption. The funeral will be held to-morrow. W. B. Strong, general superintendent, telegraphs from Keokuk, as follows: "In the death of Alex Scott, the company loses an earnest and faithful servant and the vacancy cannot be filled. A warm-bearted, sincere friend, and worthy man has gone. Express sympathies to the relations."

WASHINGTON, June 24. A great crowd of Congressmen ook leave of the President to-day. Postmaster General Cresswell resigned this morning. In a letter to the President tendering his resignation, he said only a regard for private interests constrained him to take this step. He thanked the President very warmly for the uniform support and kindness he has always shown towards him; and promised to still give the present administration his support. The President, in reply, expressed deep regret that Mr. Creswell considered this step necessary. His two hopes in separating officially with him, the only remaining member of his first cabinet, were that he might secure as faithful and efficient a successor, and as agreeable a personal friend.

It is generally believed to-night that the President has tendered the postmaster-generalship to Eugene Hale, of Maine. A telegram was sent to him by the President this

NEW YORK, June 24. Theodore Tilton publishes in the Golden Age, a denial of charges against the Moderator of the Brooklyn Council, that he was a cowardly slanderer, and saved disgrace by Beecher's magnanimity. He declares he will endure no onger such clares he will endure no onger such instinuations, instigated by Plymouth Church, and will state facts. Tilton then makes a general and specific denial of all charges laid at his door. He learned in 1870, that Beecher had committed an officers against had committed an offense against him which he forbore to name, and therefore closed attendance on his ministry. He publishes the following extract from a document signed by Mr. Beecher: Brooklyn, Jan. 1, 1871,-I ask Theodore Tilton's forgiveness, and humble myself before him as I do before my (fod; he would have been a better man in my circumstances than I have been.
I can ask nothing except that he will remember all the other breasts that would ache. I will not plead for myself. I even wish that I were dead. H. W. BEECHER.

CHICAGO, June 24. The ceremonies of laying the corner stone of the new government building were inaugurated this morning, forming a procession at 10:30. It comprised the city fire and postoffice departments, military organizations from the neighboring organizations from the neighboring cities and towns, temperance societies, Masonic fraternities, Odd Fellows, and bands of school children, were in the procession, some of them on horseback. General people were gathered. General Hawley delivered the oration. He congratulated the city upon the speedy recovery from the results of the great fire. He invoked the blessing of God on the structure whose corner stone they laid. Prayer was made, an ode sung, the memorial box deposited, and with Masonie formalities, the cement was spread by Judge Blodgett. OMAHA THURSDAY MORNING, JUNE 25, 1874.

Resolved, That an inflated and irredeemable paper currency is among the worst evils that can effect a community. It enables cunning and unscrupulous speculators to rob pro-ducers of the fruits of their labors, and afflicts every reputable business with the peril of continual panic and disaster; we regard a currency based on specie redemption as the very one upon which the business of the country can be safely trusted, and that we should, as rapidly as possi-ble, approximate to such as to the circulating medium.

Resolved, As that protective tariff is a most unjust, unequal, oppressive and wasteful mode of raising the public revenues; it is one of the most frequent and fruitful sources of the corruption of administrations; we therefore, the Democrats of Maine, in convention assembled, declare for free trade and in favor of an unfettered and unrestricted com-

Resolved, That the framers of our Constitution erected a system of government the corner stone of which was local control of local affairs, which for nearly a century has held the states in union as harmoniously as the planets hold their places in the heavens; and it is among the gravest faults of the Republican party that it is wanton-ly arranged and prostrated in the government of several of the states. At an ear y hour last evening, while a festival was being held in the parlors on the second floor of the Central Baptist Church, on the corner of Montgomery and Jeffer-son streets, the floor fell, which was crowded with some three hundred persons, the whole number falling in a crash with the timber. There Mrs. A. C. Vedder, of Utica, Gracie Holmes, Ostrander Berry, Minnie Thomas, Hattie Leonard, Miss Treat, Mrs Barnes, Lulu Horton, John Austin, Mrs. Karr, and Charles Collins. There are at least seventy-five injured and many of them fatally.

The city is under great excitement.

NEW YORK, June 24. The trotting match for $3,500, at Fleetwood park, between Gold-smith Maid and Judge Fullerton, brought out over 5,000 people. Dan Mace was unable to drive Fnllerton, and his brother Ben handled the ribbons. In the first heat, Fuller-ton had the pole, and led at the start; but the Maid, who was in splendid condition, came up even at the quarter pole, and soon took the lead, and won in an easy jog, in 2.26. In the second heat, the Maid took the lead, but the horse caught and lapped her at the quarter pole, but the Maid gained, and won easily by six lengths; time, 2.371. The third heat was most closely contested, but as in the others, the Maid had it all her own way, after passing the half mile pole, and won in 2.23 The second race for a purse of $500, was won by Tanner Boy, in three straight heats, beating five competi tors; time, 2.291, 2.27, and 2.31.

CLEVELAND, O., June 24. Every society with two excep-tions arrived up to yesterday and participated in the procession. Weather clear and pleasant but very warm.

NEW YORK, June 24. The Times is reviewing the work of Congress, and thinks it failed to embody in legislation the views of the county with reference to the most important current issues. Among those issues the Times enumerates the civil service reform, the finances and the franking privilege, and left us nearly as far from specie payments as ever. The Herald's Washington dispatches say that Lyman K. Bass, who has been confirmed as Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, has informed the President that he will not accept the office. He received telegrams to-day from his friends in Buffalo, urging him to continue as a member of Congress, besides personal reasons. The ques-tion would have been raised whether he could enter upon the duties of the office, as the salary was increased while he was a member of Congress, > AUBURN, N. Y., June 23. The State Temperance Conven-Academy of Music. Nearly every county in the State is represented, many sending regular delegates. The convention was called to order by George Bowen, Jr., of Syracuse, chairman of the Executive Committee. Mr. J. L. Bogy, of Syracuse, was elected temporary chairman, James Bruce, of Albany, secretary, G. H. Wheeler, of Syracuse, assistant secretary. The morning session was saken up with details of organization. Committees were appointed on enrollment, on permanent organizations and on business Preamble and resolutions were introduced which strongly condemn the action of both political parties and favored separate political ac-tion on the part of prohibitionists. During the morning session, Mrs. Gage, of Fayetteville, N. Y., made an address and some discussion on woman's suffrage. The general feeling of the convention favored her remarks. At 13 o'clock the convention adjourned till 2 p. m.

PORTLAND, Me., June 24. The Democratic State Convention met here yesteaday. Alonzo Gaccelon was chosen temporary chairman, who with other temporary officers were afterwards made permanent officers. The usual com-mittees were appointed, after which Dr. Garcelon addressed the Convention, thanking it for the honor con-ferred on him, severely critiscizing the Republican party, and claiming that the Democratic party is the great rock of safety to the country, for the equal rights of all men, just administration of law, a sound currency and free trade the world over, for the abolition of the tariff which is for the benefit of the few against the many. He accused the Republican party of being conducted by scheming politicians, and condemned the pro-hibitory law as merely an instru-ment of partiality and profit to pubment of partiality and profit to pub-lic officials, and not a measure of justice and impartiality, adminis-tered for public good. He cited with specific particulars the cities of Portland, Lewiston, Bangor, Augusta, Rock Island and other places, as illustrations of his argument. He called upon the Demoerats to rally to the defense of the liberties and morals of the people, and repeal the obnoxious and intemperance-increasing prohibitory law, and enact in its stead a stringent and imperative license law.
