Forgery-The Much Wanted Man Not to be Found. On Tuesday, Mr. Charles Greniug, made complaint before Justice Hale, against Charles More, a former employe of Sweesy & Cuthbertson, charging him with forgery. It appears that More drew a check of $20 on the State bank, and signing the name of Sweesy & Cuthbertson to t, had it cashed by Grening. The sheek was dated yesterday, but the forgery, however, was discovered soon after Grening had got possession of the check. Yesterday the much wanted More could not to be found by the officer, and it is quite likely that he has run away. Another Soap Factory.

Every attempt to build up the manufacturing industries of Omaha deserves encouragement. We are gratified to learn that Mr. P. J. Quailey, one of our old citizens, has established a soap factory which soon promises to rival the older establishments in this city. Mr. Quailey begins on a small scale, but he has the ability and determination to produce first-class goods at reasonable prices. He proposes to furnish our dealers an article that will not only compete with home and foreign productions, but can fairly lay claim to superiority and

A Mormon Baptism. It reminded one quite forcibly of the old Bible times, when the early Christians were persecuted and driven from one place to another, to see the lonely band who so stealthily wended their way to the little creek in Gise's addition Saturday night, to administer the rite of baptism. It was after eight o'clock in the evening, and the quiet of Nature was broken only by the plping of the frogs, who were disturbed at the unwonted scene. The pale moon in the heavens above lent her light for the self-ordained priest of Joseph Smith's persuasion to read his chapter and sing his hymn, and then, with the assistance of two other devotees, the waiting disciple was plunged in true orthodox style.

It was useless for him to flinch as he seemed likely to do, for the three were too many for him, and under he went, just once, but they held him tili well soaked; then they drew him out with his mouth full of the muddy water from the hole which nad not had time to settle since the assistants' spades had scooped it out to enlarge it. Then with sonorous voice the self-made priest pronounced a blessing upon the convert, whose name was none other than Joseph, (whether Smith, too, or not, is not known,) and the little band dispersed, walking into the city, leaving the disciple's clothes to dry in the evening air; possibly his faith kept him warm, who knows?

Postal Notes. -When the law, ordering that no city under 30,000 inhabitants should have the free delivery system, it was feared that Omaha being below the required standard, would have this great convenience taken away from it. The independent and outspoker ourse of the BEE during the past three years The voters of our nation,
As ne'er was known before,
Are rising from Pacific's strant
To Atlantic's rocky shore.
Why is this mighty change?
What can the meaning be?
The rising of the masses
From northern lake to southern seais a sufficient guarantee that it will sustain all just measures, and ever be ready to assail coruption and rascality wherever it may appear. An outspoken advocate of the rights of the

Reform and Economy,

The spirit of old seventy-six From out our heroes' graves
Forbids a nation drenched in patriots' blo
Should sink to that of slaves;
The motto which our coins once bore,
Though obsolete long since,
Remain as ever true: not one cent for tribu
But millions for defense. The issue of the coming campaign involves the prosperity of the state for a decade of years, and the voice of the Bee will be heard with p intertain sound, for

Party ties and party laws
Are but as ropes of sand.
The rights of man to be a man
Should govern Preedom's land.
Then shall our Fiag more proudly float
