WHERE, oh where is that $1850 subscribed and paid by Council Bluffs for pulling the bridge bill through Congress? MAYOR CHASE has been absent twenty-four hours, and the acting Mayor has been practicing with the great seal.

GOVERNOR GENERAL WELCH is of the opinion that we shall all have glory before the battle is half over. GOVERNOR (?) James M. Patee, threatens to withdraw from Johnson and Dudley's political Klux-Klux brigade, unless he is promoted to an office, and obtains the privilege of a female assistant.

ACCORDING to the St. Louis Democrat Canada Bill is to represent the Omahans at the bridge celebration on the coming Fourth. We would suggest that he be permitted to monopolize the time of St. Louis clergymen who are afflicted with betting and horse racing proclivities.

ACCORDING to the rules of Doctor Johnson's sham industrial protraction, members are required to patronize each other. That rule has been found to work admirably with the vendors of spirituous consolation, and now they are trying to pull Corner Gish through, by pledging each member to patronize him, when he shall want a commodious coffin.

NEW YORK, June 25. A letter from London says the bill of the First Bishop of Canterbury for better regulation of church services is likely to lead to very serious consequences. The bill has been prepared it is rumored under the direct inspiration of the Queen, and it is intended to check ritualistic rites now so prevalent. The ritualists are for ever insisting and declare that immediate consequences will be the secession of a large number back of the clergy, men and laymen from established church organization, with one of two ex-Orthodox Bishops at their head.

WASHINGTON, June 25. Hon. Eugene Hale, of Maine, has accepted the portfolio of post-master general. Reports received at the headquarters of the army, from almost every section of the Indian country, show that large bodies of large, well mounted and armed, and having a full supply of the most approved fixed ammunition, are roaming at will over the western plains, and every now and then making a combined movement upon the least protected points, stealing horses and cattle, and in many cases carrying off the entire stock of settlements, leaving farmers and herders almost helpless.

Prominent army officers, and old Indian fighters, say that indications are tending to serious trouble in the Indian country. The tribes on both north and south of the Pacific river have come to the understanding with each other, and will act together in any movement that may be settled upon. It is not barely possible that Gen. Quesada's expedition to the Black Hills, will deter the Indians from any formidable outbreak.
