This morning the box was opened and found to contain an accordeon worth $25. It may be that he has sought employment to earn the balance of the required amount.

OUR SCHOOLS.

The South Omaha School-The Teachers and Pupils.

Yesterday the South Omaha School virtually closed for the summer, and to-day the pupils will re-assemble to receive their certificates of promotion. The examinations passed off successfully, and reflected a great deal of credit both upon teachers and pupils. The work of the term has proved entirely satisfactory, and it is no more than fair to say that the South Omaha School has been well managed by Prof. Rose, the principal, and his assistants.

The attendance during the term has been very good, the average attendance being about as follows: First grade, 70; 2d grade, 65; 3d grade, 45; 4th grade, 60; 5th grade, 35; 6th grade, 20; total, 265. The attendance has run up to over 300; but since the warm weather it dropped off considerably.

Alexander F. Scott.

F. Scott, a man widely known throughout the entire west, the Council Bluffs Nonpareil of yesterday morning contains the following: Mr. Alexander F. Scott died at the Pacific House in this city yesterday morning at half-past ten o'clock, of consumption, with which he had been prostrated for several weeks. The funeral services will be held at the Pacific House this morning, at 10 o'clock, and the remains will be buried in Fairview Cemetery. Mr. Scott was born in Ohio; came to Iowa in 1864, and entered the service of the Burlington and Missouri River Railroad Company, as General Stock Agent in 1868, and has been in the service of that company, and Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad from that time, winning the entire confidence of the companies he represented, as well as the es-teem and friendship of the hosts of men from Chicago to the mountains with whom he had business relations. It is a rare thing for any man to transact a large business an extended territory, dealing with all sorts of men under a great variety of circumstances, for a long period of time, without giving offense and making a large list of enemies, and yet we are told and believe that Mr. Scott, living under these circumstances, died without leaving on earth a known enemy. Friends on every hand, by scores, and by hun-dreds—enemies none! And few are the men in Iowa or the West whose loss would have been more deeply felt by so large a class of business men, and it is meet that his memory be honored, for his virtues were the friendships he possessed and cherished. Large-hearted, generous beyond a thought of with the warmest sympathies for the unfortunate of every name and grade, ever ready to lend means and strength, and above all so deeply wedded to the principles of honesty and integrity, that they were never forgotten or laid aside; a stranger to falsehood, or doubledealing, or trickery, or hypocricy; one whose word was truthfulness er, having been connected with and whose promise was conclusive; sagacity, his counsel was freely sought and freely given-all these reasons and causes being amply sufficient to account for the legion of friends who will mourn his loss.

During his illness at the Pacific House every attention has been given him by his friends and rela-tives and by the managers of the hotel. Two of his sisters have been with him for two weeks past, and friends here and from abroad have been constant and unremitting in their efforts to make his last days as comfortable as possible.
