Rovelty and Variety Racks. We have been shown the most novel and yet the most convenient, useful and ornamental racks for books, hats, towels, to;let, music and clothes ever exhibited in Omaha. Mr. H. B. Bryant, of Hamburg, Iowa, has a quantity of these goods at 508 Thirteenth street. We learn he finds ready sale for them wherever offered, and, really, they have only to be seen to be admired, and used to be appreciated. They are suspended from the walls by means of gimlet hooks. When not in use, they can be folded up against the wall out of the way. A few good, "live" young men can make large wages by selling these goods in Omaha, as this seems to be a first-class invention, and, we doubt not, will realize the inventor a fortune.

The Ketcham Case,

Yesterday morning a motion in arrestofjudgment in the case of Charles Ketcham was filed by Mr. Doane, his attorney, the grounds of the motion being :- First, that the facts stated in the first count of the indictment do not constitute an offense under the law. Second, that several different and distinct acts of first count of the indictment; and Third, that the issue presented and tried by the second count of said indictment remain undisposed of by the verdict of the jury. The motion was argued by Mr. Doane and District Attorney Connell, and Judge Lake took it under advisement, intimating that at the present time he was inclined to hold in favor of the motion. Should he decide to grant the motion, it would end the present case and the defendant could only be proceeded against by another indictment.

The Latest Exploit of McWaters, the Desperado. From Sheriff Farbar, who ha ust returned from a western tour on business, we learn, says the Nebraska City Press, the following particulars regarding McWaters, o well known to our people. On the 29th of May, the landlord of a hotel in Hays City, Kan-sas, sent word to Sheriff Ramsey, that a man answering descriptions he held, was at his house. While Sheriff Ramsey was reading the description, McWaters stepped up to him and looked over his shoulder Sheriff Ramsey looked at him, then at a description he had in his pocket and called to Mc., who had walked away. Mo. came back and Ramsey arrested him and put him in jail under his deputy, with injunctions to shoot him if he attempted to escape. Mechanics were at this time putting in a cage in the cell, and were working. The deputy watched his prisoner and the day came on Mo offered the jailor $100 to let him go back to the hotel, This the deputy refused. In the morning while the workmen were engaged in working at the cage the deputy Sheriff told them to be careseveral different and distinct acts of rul and shut the door close when embezzlement are included in the they went out. Shortly afterwards one of the mechanics went out and closed the door but it rebounded open. Quick as lightning McWa-ters shot through it and closed it after him, effectually locking the deputy and two mechanics in the He then quietly walked past the other mechanic out where a fine horse belonging to the postmaster of the city was picketed which he rode away, Sheriff Ramsey who was in Ells worth returned home immediately upon the receipt of a telegram in-forming him of his escape. alds.der of the Council:

THE COMING STRUGGLE.

The voters of our nation,
As ne'er was known before,
Are rising from Pacific's strand
To Atlantic's rocky shore."
Why is this mighty change?
What can the meaning be?
The rising of the masses
From northern lake to southern sea. The spirit of old seventy-six From out our heroes' graves
Forbids a nation drenched in patriots' blood
Should sink to that of slaves;
The motto which our coins once bore,
Though obsolete long since,
Remain as ever true: not one cent for tribute
But millions for defense.

Party ties and party laws
Are but as ropes of sand.
The rights of man to be a man
Should govern Freedom's land.
Then shall our Flag more proudly float
O'er land as well as sea,
And nations yet unborn shall gladly greet
The emblem of the free. In trade we'll try to'deal,
As man should deal with man,
And while we seek to live ourselves,
We'll sell as cheap as anybody can,
And if a hat you need,
Or friend you chance to meet,
Remember Bunce, the Hatter,
On Upper Douglas Street.
