VERY LATEST. MIDNIGHT. Specially Reported for the Omaha Daily Bee, by the Atlantic City, N. J. Co.

CONCORD, N. H., July 10. The legislature to-day adjourned for the last Monday in May next. The bill to prevent bribery in elections failed, owing to a disagreement in the two houses.

WASHINGTON, July 10. The District commissioners to-day issued an order abolishing all the offices connected with the late District government, disbanding employees connected therewith, directing the horses, carriages, etc., belonging to the District to be sold, that copies of all pay rolls be filed with the comptroller, that current expenses be paid on the first Monday of each month, that engineers discontinue all but two property taxes, that eleven assessors' offices be abolished immediately, that the comptroller, auditor and treasurer be constituted a commission to receive all moneys, bonds, etc., from the treasurer of the late board, and to deposit the same in the United States Treasury, subject to the order of the commissioners; that all contracts heretofore given out shall be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder, after due notice by advertisement, and the right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

DES MOINES, Iowa, July 10. The Republican Congressional primary elections, in this city to-day, were warm and spirited. About 600 votes were cast in West Des Moines township, and 459 in East Des Moines township. The contest was between John A. Kasson, the present Congressman, and Gen. J. A. Williamson. Kasson carried both townships, having 17 majority in both townships, and 90 in East Des Moines. Kasson arrived home from Washington last Monday, and has spent the whole week in active campaigning, and in making personal appeal for support, having about his person a list of names of those who have already announced position of not being a candidate. There is considerable feeling over the result among the friends of Williamson, who claim that Williamson would not have been a candidate only on the plain understanding that Kasson would not be a candidate. Williamson has always been a partisan friend and supporter of Kasson.

YANKTON, July 10. The usually quiet neighborhood, six miles north of this city, was thrown into a fever of excitement yesterday afternoon by the announcement that Daniel Hackenberg had shot and very dangerously wounded Thomas Kilbride, in a quarrel concerning some grass growing on a vacant lot, which both claimed. It appears that the wife of Hackenberg was driving their machine and cutting some grass, when Kilbride's dog began to bark and she requested him to stop, and on his refusing to do so, she went to the house and told her husband, who said, "I will stop him," and he rode to where Kilbride was at work, and shot him through the left breast, and as he arose, shot him a second time in the head. Not satisfied with this butchery he rode to the corn field of Nelson Larned, two and a half miles, where he, Larned, was at work and demanded the firing of some money and he refused, began shooting at him, firing five shots, three of which took effect, one in the neck, one in the shoulder and the last one in the arm. His horse ran away and taking Mr. Larned's best one he rode off, since which time nothing has been seen of him, although parties are scouring the country in every direction in search of him. It is well understood that Hackenberg and Larned have had trouble for six months past, arising from the alleged robbery of the latter with the former's wife.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10. The steamer Granada, bringing Yokohama date to June 23. The Yokohama Gazette says the report of the assassination of Minister Kido was untrue. The Japanese were victorious, and nearly all the southern tribes surrendered. A son of Degroot, Minister for Belgium, shot and killed himself, accidentally at Yokohama, June 15. The investigation was being prosecuted in the case of the Japanese officials, who are accused of having illegally entered the grounds of the British legation at Tokyo, to arrest a member of the legation. No decision had been reached.

The Granada beat the Vesco Degoda to Yokohama about five hours. The small pox was very prevalent and fatal at Rlatoy. Between October 22 and April 12, 1873, 1200 people died of that malady. The question respecting the residence of foreigners out of the treaty limits is being steadily pressed and those who have already taken the way of the other very shortly. The report is, that either the Japanese government must permit all foreigners to reside beyond the present limits, or those who have already taken the way of the other very shortly. Dion the celebrated hand-stroke player.

CHICAGO, July 10. The Tribune publishes a crop report from seven western states, which show the evil effects of the drought. In Missouri and Kansas the damage is noted. In Illinois and Iowa, the yield of corn will be about the average, but there is a great falling off in oats and wheat. The recent rains were just in time to prevent serious damage from chinch bugs, which are reported to be doing much damage in Kansas, says a large party of Comanches, Kiowas and Arapahoes are on the march, threatening lives and property. A party of buffalo hunters were surrounded at Cimmaron river, and they fought for five days with no prospect of success. Six whites and sixteen Indians were killed. Settlers are flocking to towns, and crops are going to waste. An Indian force of three thousand braves, including the cut-throats of Lone Wolf and Kicking Bird, are in the field committing depredations.

NEW YORK, July 10. The middle in the Board of Commissioners still continues, and many rumors are afloat to the effect that the resignation of the Board in connection with the rumored resignation of Commissioner Disbrower. It is stated that his appointment to the Board is a matter of course, and that he should resign whenever called upon by the Mayor to do so, and that in fact he wrote out and gave the Mayor his resignation before he received the appointment. He now declines to resign, and announces his intention to stick to the Mayor.

WASHINGTON, July 9. The following dispatch was received by the secretary of War this morning: St. Paul, Minn., July 8. A terrible calamity has befallen the people of several counties in the southwestern part of this State. The locusts have devoured every kind of crop, and left fields for miles perfectly bare. It has done the same thing last year in the same districts. Many thousands are now suffering for food, and I am using every public and private resource that I can lawfully command to send immediate supplies.

This State is entitled to two years quota of farms estimated at eighteen hundred and sixty dollars. I earnestly request that assistance may be made to the turn over to me in place of those arms. I should not make this request but for the gravest reasons, and to prevent the State from being a source which the State has given me I earnestly hope that no obstacle of worth will be allowed to interfere. Please advise me by telegraph.

Mr. J. J. Johnston, a lawyer of this city, received a telegram to-day requesting him to attend to Mr. Dana's interest in anything that may come of Governor Shepherd's efforts to have him indicted for libel in the city. In this case the grand jury did not make judgment to-day.

A number of witnesses were before the grand jury to-day to testify in the Harrington burglary case. There are remaining in the general land office, undelivered, more than 200 patents for mineral lands. Of this number 25,000 are from Illinois, and nearly as many from Indiana and Missouri. Among them are patents signed by Moore, and by every President down to Lincoln. The cause of this accumulation of patents is in the fact that many land owners believe that a duplicate receiver's receipt is sufficient evidence to title of their land. It ought not to be so regarded. Entries are being constantly cancelled by the general land office, without any formality, and if the office of an interested person is not known at once at the local office, as is often the case, to whom he has sold his land, he will some day be astonished to find another person holding a government patent for his property. Every man in the States and Territories who has been waiting more than five years on a receiver's receipt should make enquiry through the proper channels and find out whether the general land office has issued a patent for his claim or suspended or cancelled his entry. No landholder should rest sure in his title until he has a government title in his hands.
