WHEN Master Allen of the Missouri Grange wrote the following comments on the political situation he evidently had Doctor Johnson's Industrial Ko-operatives in his mind's eye:

"Now look at the present political cauldron! Men advertising themselves for office! Hear their clackers, their rhapsodists spouting their praises. See their subordinate ring—men already treating in their names and interest. Are these men for important and responsible places of trust? Oh, my countrymen! Shame, where is thy blush? Why are these men rushing to the front? Who has called them? Are they in real true sympathy with us whom they seek to serve(command)? What has been their occupation? What is it now? From whence have they obtained the money they are now freely spending to obtain office? By industrious toil? Have they produced any wealth? Or have they only accumulated of that produced by others? What sympathy have they with the toilers? These are not silly, idle questions, but go to the very root of our present troubles. This is hot weather, and as the heated term advances the political cauldron will boil more furiously. This is unfortunate, for it should be a time to cool reflection."

CLEVELAND, July 16.

Gen. Garfield publishes in the Leader, a denial of the statement that his private secretary has ever been on the pay rolls of the House of Representatives without performing public duties.

UTICA, July 16.

MILWAUKEE, July 16.

The Sentinel publishes reports from 39 counties in Michigan, showing that the wheat crop, with the exception of several counties where the drought has prevailed, will be above the average. Rye, average. Oats will be fair. The crop of barley is light. Winter wheat is already harvested and there is a good yield.

LITTLE ROCK, July 16.

The friends of Sid Wallace, a noted desperado, when he was hung in Clarksville last spring, vowed vengeance on all connected with the affair. The threats culminated yesterday in the shooting of Sheriff Kline, who acted as hangman on the occasion. He was fired on from an ambush and mortally wounded. A cousin of Wallace, by the name of Robinson, has been arrested, charged with the shooting.

NEW YORK, July 16.

A Paris correspondent in a letter to the London Times says: It is positively affirmed by the French journals that Marshal Serrano's late efforts have increased the chances of the recognition of the Spanish Republic by England, Russia, and Germany, and that Serranno has signified to those powers his intention of claiming 250,000,000 francs indemnity from France when he shall have conquered the Carlists, on the ground that that nation favored the Carlists.

LOWELL, Mass., July 16.

A thunder storm and hurricane passed over this city to-day, doing immense damage. The steeple of the First Congregational church was blown off and fell on the adjoining block, which was badly shattered. The Branch street church was ruined. The Universalist church roof was blown into the street. The locomotive house of the Boston, Lowell & Nashua railroad lost its dome, and much other damage was done.

Goldsmith Maid broke once in the first heat, but still won by a length. She won the second heat by two lengths, and the third by four lengths. Fullerton's time was 2:20½; 2:18; 2:18½. NEW YORK, July 16.

News is received by way of San Domingo, that three of the Cubans who lately landed on the coast of Camaguay from a vessel in the Old Bahama Channel, were captured shortly after landing by the Spaniards, and were executed on the Spanish gunboat Neptune, while they were being conveyed from Naultas to Havana.

Juan Bellido de Luna, editor of the Cuban paper, La Independence, and Jose Ferre de Canta, editor of the Spanish paper La Cronista, have been placed under bonds to restrain them from duelling.

All the secret service officers on duty in this city have been summoned to Washington to answer charges pending against them in connection with the ring safe burglary.

News has been received here that the French Steamship Company has dismissed from its service Captains Lemare and Rousseau, the former of the steamer Europe, and the latter of the steamer Amerique, both have been removed for abandoning their vessels.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of James McCarthy, the first mate of the American ship Cultivator, on the charge of having, on the 11th of last January, shot and killed John Smith, alias John Wright, one of the seamen on the vessel, when she was one day out from San Francisco. McCarthy and several witnesses are daily expected at this port on the steamer Calima, having been sent here for trial by the American consul at Brussels.

The News says the question of the separation of Mr. and Mrs. Tilton is now in the hands of N. B. Moore, formerly judge of the court of appeals. Judge Moore is stepfather of Mrs. Tilton, and has been her husband's intimate friend for many years.

The grand jury found three more indictments each against the convicted police commissioners Charlick and Gardiner for a violation of the election laws.

Washington advices state that Secretary Bristow announces in explanation of the terms upon which the five per cent. funded bonds are offered for proposals, that all interest on bonds accepted to date of subscription and have accrued up to three months thereafter, must be paid by subscribers whose bids are adopted, and must be so calculated in all settlements, together with payment to be made at the time of subscription or at any time within three months thereafter. The bond of England rate of discount remains at 2½.

CABLEGRAMS.

The Paris Journals Think That the Attempt to Assassinate Prince Bismarck Was a Put Up Job.

A Crisis in the Spanish Government is Reported.

LONDON, July 16.

The Standard says that later accounts from Kissengen represent that Bismarck's condition is not so favorable as was at first reported. He has feverish symptoms and slept but little Tuesday night.

SANTANDIN, July 16.

The commandant of Bilboa has asked for reinforcements and they were sent from here to-day. The blockade of Bilboa by land is complete and is stringently maintained by the Carlists.

PARIS, July 16.

The resignation of Magne, after to-day's vote in the Assembly, is considered as certain.

Some of the Paris journals affect to consider the attempt to take Bismarck's life as a plot concocted by the German police.

LONDON, July 16.

A dispatch from Vienna explains that the police circular describing persons suspected of a design against the life of Emperor Francis Joseph, was a forgery, the author of which has been arrested.

MADRID, July 16.

A crisis in the ministry is reported as impending. Gen. Zebella and Amicho, minister of finance, will probably retire. The former is said to be ill. In case Gen. Zebella resigns, Gen. Mornz will probably be appointed as his successor in command of the army of the north.

CALCUTTA, July 16.

There are disastrous accounts from the Purnah district. The rain fall there has been excessive, and the country is under water. The river Ganges is unusually high. The rain fall around Calcutta has thus far been scanty, which causes apprehensions of the failure of crops in this vicinity. Advices from the Bombay Presidency are more cheerful. The fall of rain there has been abundant, and the crops are in excellent condition.

LONDON, July 16.

A special from Berlin says Kullman, who attempted to take Bismarck's life is considered a mere fool. He confesses that he was acting in connection with others. Hauthaler, the priest who was arrested for his connection with this plot, belongs to the village of Walchsee, in the Austrian Tyral. He checked Bismarck's horses by stepping in front of them at the critical moment. Immediately on hearing of the affair, the King of Bavaria sent his congratulations to Prince Bismarck on his fortunate escape. The Berlin press declare that the attempted assassination proves the necessity of repressing the ultra-montaine teachings.

PARIS, July 16.

The debate on Magne tax proposals was continued in the Assembly yesterday. The minister in referring to the vote on the salt tax, accused the Republican deputies of subordinating the financial interests of the country to political considerations. This was followed by tumult and discord, which compelled President Buffet to temporarily suspend the sitting. Subsequently the minister's proposition to increase certain taxes was rejected by a vote of 35 to 256.

Further investigations into the doings of Bonapartist propaganda have resulted in compromising M. Haentjens. The imperialists are beginning to feel uneasy as the investigation progresses. The Minister of Justice has not yet commenced legal proceedings against the implicated parties, expecting additional discoveries.

Kate Stoddard, the Supposed Murderess of Charles Goodrich, Sent to an Insane Asylum.

NEW YORK, July 16.

In the court of General Sessions in Brooklyn, yesterday, Lizzie King alias Kate Stoddard, who, it is supposed, murdered Charles Goodrich, was pronounced hopelessly insane. She will be sent to the asylum tomorrow.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 16.

The shore end of the telegraph cable was successfully landed from the steamer Ambassador at Rye Beach yesterday. The crew and deckricians were assisted by many of the townsmen and a number of ladies and gentlemen visitors. At six o'clock the splice was completed and communication established with the steamer, which was lying about three-quarters of a mile off shore. The manager of the cable, and officers of the steamer, with Mayor Miller and other gentlemen, breakfasted at Gov. Straw's cottage.

The Ambassador will commence laying a cable from Rye Beach to the Shoals about noon, and will probably complete the work so as to sail east to-night with the Faraday. The weather was fine, the sea smooth, and everything favored the complete success attained. A salute of one hundred guns was fired on the beach, and rockets and other fireworks displayed during the landing. Guns and rockets were also fired from the steamer. A number of ladies and gentlemen have gone on the steamer Ambassador to witness the completion of the laying of the cable.

CHICAGO, July 16.

The fire Tuesday night did not result in as heavy an aggregate loss as might be supposed. The total loss is about $2,500,000; insurance about $800,000. Of the thousand or so of buildings consumed, only a few were substantial or valuable, the majority being mere fire traps. The bulk of the fires actual loss, was east on State street, where it swept down the First Baptist church. The building occupied by the postoffice the St. James and Michigan Avenue hotels, Mr. Scammon's buildings, the Adelphia theatre, several fine residences, and a number of stores. The fire department lays the blame of the spreading of the fire of last night's conflagration to the board of public works; insufficiency of water is the excuse.

Insurance in the devastated district was comparatively light for some. More prudent companies have been withdrawing policies in that section, not deeming them safe, owing to the peculiar inflamable condition of the buildings. Up to the present writing, it is impossible to procure an accurate list of the losses of the Companies. Much of the insurance was held upon stocks of goods and furniture, which were quite generally removed, and the salvage will prove a considerable item. No Company admits a doubt as to its ability to stand the strain. The total losses to the insurance companies will not much, if any, exceed $800,000, and very much of the net loss will occur in the four blocks burned north of Harrison street, and in the residences on the avenues. The leading insurance men judge that the total loss will not exceed $2,500,000. This will be wonderful, considering the area burned over, and shows the character of the buildings burned.

NEW YORK, July 16.

H. P. McGrath, the owner of Tom Bowling, has published a card about the condition of the famous horse, and warmly denies that he originated a gambler's fiction to make the horse sell low in the pools. He says: "For some unknown reason Tom Bowling's jockey was instructed to hold the horse, and not to let him exhaust himself unnecessarily. Tom Bowling's struggle to get his head free to go on, threw him out of his stride, and he struck himself on the near fore leg, causing a swelling, which developed itself the same night.

The opinion was divided as to whether the horse was broke down, and I am frank to say that at first I feared he was, and it was only after he had been examined by such turfmen and surgeons as Mr. Littlefield the trainor, and Dr. Cattnach, who pronounced it only a bruise, and not an injury to the tendon, that I had hopes of his recovery.

John Mitchel, the exile, sailed yesterday for Ireland, to engage in the politics of that country. He openly expressed the opinion that no good can come to Ireland from the British Parliament, and that Ireland can never be prosperous or happy until she completely controls her own destinies, and her connection with England entirely severed. With regard to the present home-rule movement, he thinks it does not represent the real hopes and aspirations of the people, that it is a nerveless effort to patch up a national quarrel in an incomplete and unsatisfactory manner. He considers the whole movement a mere milk-and-water kind of national effort. He will not place himself in antagonism with the home-rule movement, but he intends to demonstrate to England and to the world that there is something stronger and more determined in Ireland than home-rule. He has a firm conviction that England will never grant self-government till forced to do so, and that all her delusive concessions to Ireland have been wrung from her by force. He himself will seek the suffrages of the people on the broad principle of Ireland's right to complete independence. He has the belief that the British Government will not arrest him, but should they do so, he is prepared to take the consequences.

NEW YORK, July 16.

A cable dispatch received here announces the safe arrival at Cork, Ireland, last evening, of the American schooner Benson, loaded with corn from Toledo to Europe. No news has as yet been received from the Pembilico which sailed at the same time.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 16.

Secretaries Belknap and Bristow returned to Washington this afternoon. Secretary Fish will arrive tomorrow. Attorney General Williams left Washington this afternoon for Raleigh Springs, Va., to be absent a week or ten days.

WASHINGTON, July 16.

The Secretary of the Treasury has decided that national banks will be permitted to make good the amount charged to the five per cent. fund for redemption of their notes, by the remittance of national bank notes, thus saving the expense of remitting legal tender notes from the treasury in return for bank notes to be redeemed, and of the return of legal tenders by the bank to make good the five per cent. fund. The first deposit of the five per cent. bonds must, however, be made in legal tender, in all cases.

TORONTO, Ont., July 16.

There is still no news from the missing yacht Foam, with a crew of seven prominent Toronto gentlemen. The United States revenue cutter Chase volunteered her services and has left this harbor on a cruise after the missing boat.

The International Regatta takes place here to-day. The entries comprises some crack United States oarsmen, including P. Luther, H. Coulter, and others.

SALT LAKE, July 16.

The young men of Mormon faith ask the Gentiles to appoint a committee to meet them in convention, to make a common political battle against stereotyped old fogies, as they term them to be, who serve Brigham Young. Their object is to crush the Church or force it to attend exclusively to its spiritual affairs. The Chief Justice of the territory has granted a peremptory mandamus to compel the city officials to allow copies to be taken of their books and accounts, by the citizens' committee of forty-five, for the purpose of investigating the alleged gross frauds on tax payers.

Preparations for an ovation to Mrs. Ann Elliza Young, upon the occasion of her return to Salt Lake to-night, are being made. A reception at the Walker House will take place.

Gov. Woodson has issued his proclamation for holding the terms of the District and Supreme Courts.

NEW YORK, July 16.

The Times this morning published an addressed to people of the U. S. issued by the Union Republican Congressional Committee. The document is very lenghty, occupying over six columns. It is devoted principally to a review of the political events since the accession of the Republican party to power, and to a comparison of acts of the Republican and Democratic parties, tending to prove that the Democrats did not provide either a powerful or an economical government

The address also enters into a lengthy discussion of the currency and transportation question; argues that neither party has agreed as to how necessary reform should be effected in currency, but claims that the Republican party is best able to treat with the great question.

The committee refer to various suggestions made on the subject of transportation to the seaboard, and endorses the proposition to open or enlarge several different water channels between Mississippi and Atlantic, or subject cheap railroad transportation. Committee object to placing railway fares and freights under the control of states, but does not offer any suggestions on the subject. The address concludes with a strong appeal to the people for a renewed support of the Republican party in the coming election.

For some time past war has been raged between the La Independence, a Cuban patriotic organ, and of which Senor Delna is editor and Senor Deconto, editor of a paper devoted to Spanish interests, and in the columns of each paper have appeared vile threats against each other, such as the term of coward, poltroon, charlatan be prominently conspicuous. The result was a challenge to mortal combat, given by DeConta, and accepted by Delnna. The details were arranged and Canada fixed upon as the battle ground, and the time of meeting to be early next week. The secret leaked out and yesterday Delnna was arrested and taken before Judge Murray. He was put under $1,000 to keep the peace.

SARATOGA, July 16.

The town is crowded to overflowing with strangers to witness the the inter-collegiate regatta this afternoon. A light breeze prevails and the water is smooth, and an excellent race is anticipated. Betting on Harvard and Yale is even, and professional sporting men are backing them. The Columbia crew are hopeful.

It is estimated that the crowd going toward the lake numbers thirty thousand. The Yale crew report themselves in excellent condition. The Harvards are in first-rate condition and confident of victory. Tee Wesleyan crew are all right, but quiet. There is no pool selling this morning.

3 P. M.—The committee have just returned from the trip around the course. They have postponed the race until six o'clock on account of the high wind. Betting is now in favor of the Connecticut crew against the field.
