 Out here in Kansas the people's attention was considerably attracted by that great phenomenon the almost total eclipse of the moon, on the night of the 11th. Probably you Nebraskans saw it over there, even if you are further north of the equator and across the line.

Clarke Stevens of Red Cloud was out here for a few days visiting his folks and old neighbors. He says that he likes to get out in the country once in awhile, as it seems to invigorate him considerably, feeling the climatic conditions some what different and of a more temperate fibre.
 In the forenoon of last Monday a fire of the greatest intensity occurred near Duckerville when the residence of Jessie Cox burned down. All or most of the household goods were removed before the fire gained much headway, and were it not for the stillness of the day, besides the energy displayed by the neighbors in quenching the flames, which spread with great rapidity, the loss would be still greater, as the offices which are in close proximity to the dwelling, was sure to go with the mass of flames. The total loss is estimated to be in the neighborhood of $1500, with an insurance of $850.

Bandmaster Betz
A Man Of Note

The following article which was published in the American Musician and Art Journal, which is published in New York City, speaks in high terms of the Red Cloud Concert Band and its able bandmaster, Betz, and will prove interesting reading:
 "The Red Cloud, Neb., Concert Band gave their opening concert at the Opera House on Friday, March 6th, to a large and appreciative audience. The program consisted of the better class of overtures and selections, cornet, trombone, saxophone, xylophone and bell solos, including two very catchy descriptive fantasies.
 "The Red Cloud Concert Band is well known throughout the central State, by press and public, as the leading organization of its kind in the State of Nebraska. The band is under the efficient leadership of Bandmaster Betz, who has spent some fifteen years in professional ranks, leading some of the best featured bands in the show business. In the winter of 1907-8 he directed a concert band in the Auditorium of San Francisco, and the following summer had a thirty piece band of the famous Norris and Rowe shows, who played Pacific Coast and Canada towns, and is also well known among the foremost organizations as bandmaster, cornet and violin soloist.
 "This band is an organization that has prided themselves in obtaining bandmasters of the best talent that money can secure. Two years prior to the engagement of Bandmaster Betz, the band was under the able leadership of Bandmaster Snapp, late of the A. G. Fields. The band has at present thirty members and bids well to hold its envious reputation."

This Stomach Remedy
Helps Your Friends

Almost every day some grateful person comes into our store and tells us of benefits received from the use of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. Knowing how much good they have done others and knowing what they are made of, we feel sure they will help you. So great is our faith in them that we urge you to try them entirely at our risk, with our personal promise that if they don't do all you expect them to do and make your stomach comfortable and healthy and your digestion easy, we'll hand back your money.
 We couldn't endorse anything any more strongly than we do Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. Containing Pepsin and Bismuth two of the greatest digestive aids known to medical science, they soothe the stomach, check heartburn and distress, promote a natural flow of the gastric juice and help regulate the bowels. Remember, if they don't make your digestion so easy and comfortable that you can eat what ever you like when ever you like, we want you to come back and tell us and get your money. Sold only at the more than 7,000 Rexall Stores, and in this town only at our store. Three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00—H. E. Grice Drug Co., Red Cloud, Nebraska

As Others See
Court House Situation

Inavale, Nebr., March 17th, 1914.
 Editor Chief:—
 I will write you a few lines as to how we think in regard to the court house proposition. I believe it is the best for the taxpayers of the county. I don't think any reasonable person would say that we don't need a court house. I hear some saying that it is Red Cloud that wants the court house. I live fifteen miles away from the court house, and I need my portion of it just as much as Red Cloud does. I would not want the people of Red Cloud to sit the old trap that we have for a court house on my farm, to keep the county records in and to transact the county business in.
 And I don't believe that there is any tax payer in the county that would want the old trap that we have for a court house on his property for them to transact the county business in.
 I think that the proposition that the county commissioners propose is the best and the most economical way that we can secure to have a court house. The commissioners say they will build and equip a court house for $60,000, and I believe they can do it, according to the plans or proposition that they have now.
 If the old trap that we have should burn down it would cost the county $75,000 or $100,000 to get a court house and perhaps we would have to bond the county to get the money to build with. I for one don't want any more county bonds. We had $44,500 rail road bonds and paid over $88,000 in interest besides the principal, so let us build a court house without bonds.
 If we bond the county for $75,000 or $100,000 we are liable to have to pay that much in interest, besides the principal. Don't kick Red Cloud or anything else. The proposition is the best that we can possibly get to secure a court house. Now this is the time for every tax payer to do his duty and go to the polls and vote for the proposition.
 Yours truly,
 F. E. PAYNE.

AND MR. SNUCKLES DEPARTED
Experience Had Taught Him It Was Not Wise to Be the Refugee in Family Quarrel.

"Twuz dis-uh-way, Brudder Snuckles," heately declared Mr. Mauley, who bore somewhat the appearance of having recently met a bear. "Dis yuh am puhzely de way it stanted; Muh wife, dar—dag-kawn her!—she said—"
 "Never said no sich-uh-thing!" wrathfully interrupted the militant wife of Mr. Mauley's mused-up bosom. "Dess tell yo' how it burgun: Dat varmint, he took and—"
 "Well, yo' done flung de—"
 "Didn't hit yo', did it? Den, what yo'—"
 "I dodged in time, bless goodness, or 'twould-uh busted muh head! But—"
 "Now, now, Brudder Mauley, and Sistah Mauley," interjected square-headed old Brother Snuckles, "uh-whilst I loves trouble as much as anybody—and mo' dan a good many, may-be—when yo'all axes me to be de refugee in a quar' uh-twixt a man and his awful wedded wife, I's 'bleeged to retaliate, mo' in sorrer dan in anger. 'Uh-goodyby, sah! Uh-goodyby, mom! I'm gwine fum yo'!"—Kansas City Star.
 Temperance Drink.
 An amusing story is being told of a clergyman who was being entertained over a week-end by one of the well-to-do but plain men of a Lancashire town not far from Manchester.
 As soon as the guest was settled by the fireside on the Sunday evening his host asked him: "Are you a teetotaler?"
 "Well, no; not exactly," the clergyman admitted.
 The master of the house received the statement with obvious relief.
 "Ah! might glad to hear it," he said; "we'n had that sort stayin' with us afore. Now, if ye'd been wantin' soda water and lemonade and lime juice and ginger ale, and nobody knows what all. But as ye ain't a teetotaler, ye'll be like the rest o' us, an' satisfied w' plain water!"
 Bee's Eye for Landmarks.
 There can be little doubt that so intelligent an insect as a bee has a long memory and a keen eye for landmarks. This is testified by the fact that almost all bees fly by day, whereas such creatures as moths—of no fixed home or occupation—fly in the darkness. A bee would be lost at midnight because it could not recognize its surroundings.
