WM. L. WEESNER.

There are several walks in the city which are in excellent condition except for the overhanging trees. These trees should be trimmed so that passers by will not be obliged to dodge and duck every step or two. If you have just paid two or three dollars for a nice new umbrella it is hard to see where the joke comes in when a limit of a tree breaks thru the silk. By all means let everyone trim the trees which hang over the sidewalks.

Mr. Wm. Weesner has at last yielded to the solicitations of his many friends and has shied his hat into the ring for the nomination of state senater on the Democratic ticket. Mr. Weesner was in the legislature one term and all his acts were plentifully seasoned with cratic and Peoples Independent voters good common sense and justice. He was a stalwart defender of the principles which he believed to be right and was not afraid to oppose any measure which in his judgment was wrong.

> Agricultural engineering is a comparatively new occupation that is offering opportunities for young men who are well trained. At the Nebraska College of Agriculture there has been a strong demand for graduates of such a course. In but the last six months the institution has had opportunities to place men whose total salaries amount to $15,500. These requests have come from all parts of the United States. The positions filled were traction plow operators, blue printers, silo agents, assistants in the Agricultural Extension Service, instructors, experimenters and farm managers.

GEORGE W. BERGE Democratic Candidate for Governor

To the Tax Payers: There is appalling extravagance in the administration of the state's business. Every time the legislature meets appropriations are increased; more offices and commissions are created; and tax burdens are growing heavier every year. We do not complain if our taxes are legitimately spant, but we do most emphatically protest igainst reckless extravagance.

Appropriations for all Purposes, Years Appropriations 1893 94$2.208 940.26 1907-03 4,367,257.31 1911-12 6.184 552.81 1913-14 8,155,077.73 In 1893 it cost us $3,025 each day to run the entire state government, and today it costs us $11.171 each day, an increase of 270 per cent, while the population increased less than 20 per cent. The last legislature appropriated $1,970.524.92 more than the preeding legislature.

Appropriations for Salaries Alone. Appropriations 1893-94$1,021,932 1911-12 2,598.340

1913-14 2,736,210. The last legislature appropriated 137,870 more for salaries alone than the legislature two years before. Salary appropriations are more than two and one-half times larger now than in 1893. It costs us $722 more each day now to pay salaries alone than it cos: us to tun the entire state government

In 1993 we paid legislative employes 38,537,83 In 1911 we paid legislative employee $41,450.00.

In 1913 we paid legislative employes 151,863.00. The last legislature paid out $10,403 more for legislative employes alon? than the preceding legislature paid for the same purpose. I deny that this enormous increase is necessary. I charge most of it to frightful extravagance. The business of the state is not run on a busine basis. Let me give only a few illutrations:

In 1889 the legislature paid ou $4.416.40 for postage. This is enough to pay the postage on 220,820 letters or 1.660 letters for each member.

In 1895 the legislature paid out $2 382.50 for pages; $2,505 for custodians; $3,297 for janifors and $1,347. for newspapers for members.

The 1911 legislature paid out $5. $69.60 for custodians and $2,095.55 for fanitors.

The 1913 legislature paid out $7.32 for compodians: $1,380 for germant time: $1.779 for gate and doorker ers: .21,003 for meeters and fanite: $1,000 for watchman, and $239 photographs, cuts and half tones.

Just think of it, $7,322 for custo as (hat hangers) to bang up the con and hats of the members during t ant person. This is about $82.00 f.

ased that $15,210 would have by aply sure out to pay legislative e yes for the last leadslature. Th stature, However, paid out $51 30 or $26,053.00 more then th gislative committee said was accesary. Just think of it, $36,653.00 of fl av payers' money wasted on legis! tive employes alone during one se sion of the legislature lasting a litt move than two months. words $36,653.00 of the lax town oney was taken out of the st reastry during one session with whi o pay political debts. This is only a illustration. Every legislature and to entire business of the state is hone combed with frightful extravagance

Millions of dollars could be saved

the business of the state was co

ducted on a business basis. And while this appalling extravcance in going on we learn that al though the last lesislature appropr sted nearly $2,000,000.00 more than the preceding legislature, that right now the state of Nebraska is nearly $1, 000,000.00 behind in the payment of its current expenses. It is admitted by state officials that it will be necessary to levy a 1-mill special tax this year to get us out of the hole. All of this is astounding, and I say drastic steps are necessary to put a stop to it all. My battle in this campaign is to help clean up the state house and put the business of the state on a business basis. I am in favor of liberal appropriations for all legitimate purposes, but I am unalterably opposed to waste and extravagance. This is my fight in this campaign and I ask the taxpayers to help me.

"A Woman is as Young as Her Figure"

Never was this saying so true as today.

The newest gowns depend entirely upon the lines of the natural figure to give them style. So every woman must be so cleverly corseted that she looks as though she wore no corset at all.

PARISIANA (ORSETS

Marvels of Skill

These new models will mold the form, correct defects, and at the same time give the desired corsetless look.

Though soft and elastic the new Parisianas maintain their shape so well that they require very few bones. Their secret lies in the way they are cut.

There is so wide a range of styles that every woman will find the model which will bring out the best points of her figure, give her the correct fashionable lines. These new Parisiana corsets are most reasonable in price, $5.00 to $1.00.
