Your Watch Ideal

Many people have learned to consider such, and such a watch as an ideal time piece.

When they buy they want that particular watch.

We don't blame them because we have watch ideals too—and ideal watches.

They are the South Bend and the Hamilton and the Howard and one or two others. These we have learned to depend upon—these we buy and sell each year in greater quantities. And before you make a watch purchase we would like to talk to you about these movements. May we?

George Kleib, in Webster county, Neb., has managed for 10 years to raise and sell each year 2 carloads of hogs. His farm contains 320 acres. An alfalfa pasture where he runs his hogs during the summer months, and well arranged pens for wintering them, where they are kept clean, also a dipping tank, constitute his arrangements for taking care of his hogs. "They are the best paying live stock on the farm," he said.—Kansas City Drovers Telegram.

Webster County Secures Premiums at State Fair

Webster county proved successful in landing several premiums at the State Fair which was held in Lincoln last week. The exhibits from here were in charge of George W. Hummel and L. C. Pisiger, and considerable praise is due these two gentlemen for their efforts in seeing that Webster county was fittingly represented.

The following is the list of those securing premiums:

- G. W. Hummel—
Corn, 1st, 3rd, 4th, 5th; tomatoes, 3rd; citrons 3rd; sunflowers, 1; W. W. beets, 3rd; white cucumber 2nd.
- C. A. Baldwin—
Sweet Potatoes, 1st, 2nd.
- C. M. Funk—
Sweet Potatoes, 3rd.
- Joe Topham—
W. W. beets, 1st.
- Ryan Burkner—
Table beet, 2nd; W. W. beet 2nd.
- C. Harris—
Squash, 2nd.
- Donald Funk—
Red Rice pop corn, 4th.
- Wm. Lane—
Watermelon, 4th.
- L. Pierce—
Alfalfa, 1st.
- L. C. Pisiger—
Spring rye 3rd; Silver Hull buck-wheat, 3rd.

Praise Given Webster County

The following taken from the write-up of the state fair, published in the Lincoln Herald, will prove interesting reading:

"Webster county lies on the south line of the state, fourth county west of Lancaster. It bears an illustrious name, once furnished the state an excellent chief executive in Gov. Silas Garber and is itself illustrious as a rich, productive and prosperous farming country. The county was organized and settled shortly after the admission of Nebraska to the union in 1867 and has done its full share in the development of this great commonwealth.

"Webster county had a fine display at the fair of all staple grains grown in the state, alfalfa, potatoes, sweet potatoes, beets, water melons, etc. It had the best beet display on the grounds. The display told a very strong tale of the thrift and prosperity of the county.

"The collection was in charge of G. W. Hummel and L. C. Pisiger of Red Cloud, two very affable gentlemen, who gladly furnished information to inquirers regarding Webster county.

An Early Settler Passes Away in Washington

Mrs. George Page, formerly Mrs. C. H. Smith, was one of the earliest settlers of Garfield township.

Mrs. Page settled in Garfield in 1872 and lived there twenty-five years, taking an active part in church and Sunday school work and in all movements for improvement.

In 1897 she moved to Cleveland, O., where she lived until 1913, when she was married to Mr. George R. Page of Toppensish, Washington.

The following is taken from the Review, published at Toppensish, Washington:

"The funeral of Mrs. Geo. R. Page, who died on Tuesday afternoon after a lengthy illness, occurred on Wednesday at 3 p. m. from the Presbyterian church. The body was shipped to Seattle for interment. The remains were accompanied by Mr. Page and Mrs. E. H. Sheldon of Tacoma, sister of the deceased, who arrived in Toppensish shortly before Mrs. Page's death."

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Martin of Riverton spent Sunday here with her mother, Mrs. Pegg.

Mr. and Mrs. George VanCamp and baby returned to their home in Omaha Wednesday morning.

Red Cloud Is A Good Town For You To Live In

At the present time there seems to be a good-natured rivalry between progressive towns of respectable proportions to make "our town" a good place to live in. On every hand can be found evidence of this commendable spirit being fostered in our midst—the friendly competition of traffic, the observance of social amenities, the support of church and school, the beautifying of home and environment and all else comprising to that end. These, and more, may be secured by well directed human effort, but individual nor municipality cannot make to order that chief consideration of desirability for residence known as a healthful climate.

Red Cloud is so situated that the porous soil has a perfect drainage, which necessarily makes it an extremely healthy section. The winters are reasonably mild, although the thermometer at times registers extreme cold. The heats of summer are moderated by the cooling breezes and by the almost unflinching coolness of the nights. The rapid radiation of heat into a clear and cloudless sky causes a delightful change at night-fall. The climate is favorable to health and vigor, and proves indeed a beneficent sanitarium.

Practically speaking, contagion has ever been an unknown quantity here. The extreme purity of the water has had much to do with this condition.

Efficient Telephone Work

Rain during the first three days of the Nebraska State fair reduced the attendance to a remarkable extent. When the sun finally broke through the clouds, rain was falling in nearly all parts of the state. The fair grounds owing to the system of walks between buildings, became dry within a short time. The Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph company sent a bulletin to all the exchanges in the South Platte country and this message was repeated over the principal farm lines, explaining the condition on the grounds. The Nebraska Telephone company did similar work in the North Platte region.

The bulletin work continued until one o'clock Wednesday night and doubtless was of immense value to the fair management. It also showed the wonderful organization of the telephone companies and their ability to give prompt service in emergencies.

Resignation.

As pastor of the Congregational church for the past three years, I learned to know very favorably many members of all other denominations, who are without a preacher the coming Sunday I most cordially invite you all to worship with us, as I have a message for the people of our town before bidding you farewell.

My choir will render "Gloria" from "Twelfth Mass," by Mozart, as a special selection, and I bespeak for you a musical treat as well as a gospel message to a people I have learned to love. "Come, and welcome."

JOHN J. BAYNE.

Clark Crow spent Sunday in Guide Rock with relatives.

Will Patten and wife returned home the last of the week from Lincoln.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gund and children of Blue Hill spent Sunday here with her mother, Mrs. J. L. Miner.

Last Thursday afternoon the fat men's ball team from Cowles came down and crossed bats with our local fat men's team. The home guards won the game by a score of 8 to 6.

E. H. Newhouse and wife left last Monday for Atlantic City, New Jersey, where Mr. Newhouse will be in attendance at the Sovereign Grand Lodge I. O. O. F. representing The Grand Encampment of Nebraska. Mr. Newhouse will also spend some time in the jewelry markets selecting his fall and holiday stock.
