An exchange says a good housewife never opens the condensed milk can with her husband's razor, nor will a loving husband carry the horse with the nutmeg grater.

President Wilson has appointed October 4th as a day of prayer for the cessation of hostilities in Europe. We trust that the president's request will be universally observed on that day. The end of this monstrous war can not come a moment too soon. Millions of lives and millions of money are being needlessly wasted. May this state of affairs speedily end.

The cost of maintaining our electric lighting plant is borne by all property owners in the city. The way to receive a benefit from this method of operation is to use the electric current in the homes and business houses. Those who do not utilize the city current should wire their houses and get something for their money.

The High School foot ball eleven is getting into form and we may be sure of some excellent games this season. We do not know whether or not a game has been arranged with the Franklin Academy but we trust not. The Franklin team is always composed of players considerably older than our boys and consequently makes an uneven match.

We would like to make a suggestion to the committee on programs of the Farmers' Institute. A portion of one afternoon should be given over to the merchants of the city for a parade of floats. These floats have been a success in the past and while they involve considerable work for the merchants they are greatly appreciated by the crowd.

The Webster county fair will be held in Eladon next week and we wish them success. The most successful method of conducting a county fair is to give very liberal premiums for agricultural products and animal husbandry. If the fair management would give less in prizes for foreign race horses and more to farm products they would increase their attendance one hundred percent. A county fair to be a real success must attract the interest and draw the whole county into hearty co-operation.

Nebraska ministers of the M. E. churches will hold their 1915 convention in Omaha. That was decided Friday when the ministers, in session in Fremont, by unanimous vote decided to accept Omaha's invitation, extended by the ministers of the city and supplemented by the Bureau of Publicity. The 1915 meeting will be the largest in the history of the state organization for next year each church will be represented by one layman, which means the attendance will be doubled. The number of visitors will aggregate more than one thousand. This meeting will be the first joint meeting of the ministers and laymen since the consolidation of the two organizations. The laymen meet once every four years while the minister's meeting is an annual affair, where assignments are made for the following year.

Hagenbeck and Wallace Great Shows

In Moving Pictures Four Reels-4400 Feet

The Carl Hagenbeck Trained Wild Animals, Combined With the Wallace Circus

THE TEPEE

Wednesday, September 30

ONE DAY ONLY

Afternoon and Evening at 2:30, 4:00, 7:30 and 9:00 P. M.

Hagenbeck and Wallace Great Shows in four reels of motion pictures, showing the entire circus and animal performance, menagerie, parade, unloading trains, erecting the circus city, in fact everything pertaining to the daily life of this great circus.

The 700 people, 300 horses, 200 wild beasts, 200 performers, 50 clowns, etc., taking part in this show are all portrayed in 4400 feet of film and explained by a lecturer.

Four shows will be given of this wonderful film, viz: 2:30 and 4:00 in the afternoon, and at 7:30 and 9:00 in the evening.

Regular Prices only will be charged for this special program, (though double prices are being charged everywhere else) but all children will be required to have a ticket, 10 cents for adults; 5 cents for all children under 12.

To The Voters of Nebraska

The United States is threatened with a famine of coal tar chemicals, drugs, and other products indispensable to our health and to our industry. The reason is that the Germans, who have previously supplied our markets, are now engaged in war and can neither make nor ship these goods, and besides this much of the raw materials used by the German chemical manufacturers comes from England and is not now obtainable.

The industry in Germany is a direct result of the encouragement of chemical study in the universities of the empire. Organic chemistry has become almost a German science. The great leaders in the manufacture of artificial dyes, aniline dyes and similar articles were University professors and graduate students.

Can we make these products in New York, Chicago, Omaha or Denver? Only in a limited way at present. We haven't the trained men. Can we get the trained men? Yes, by developing chemical studies in the United States. We must do this if we are to be economically independent. We have the raw material and the potential ability.

The first great step to build up this industry in America must be done by chemical teaching on the proper basis. Is Nebraska prepared to do this? No, we have a little chemical laboratory costing originally $25,000. Minnesota is building a new building costing $400,000. I recently visited Ames, Iowa, and found that they were building a new chemical laboratory, which covers they say, including the basement, a total of five acres of floor space. I do not know the exact cost, but I estimate it at ten times the amount that we originally invested in our laboratory. Illinois is doubling its plant. The schools that I have mentioned are not yet so very much better equipped than we are, but if we do not build a new building soon, I cannot conscientiously advise young people to do advanced work in chemistry here when dozens of splendid new laboratories in neighboring states are placed at their disposal.

How can we get the new building that will do its part in developing the chemical industry of the country and save sending millions of dollars to Germany every year? You have it in your power. Vote to settle the location question. A part of the money released can be expended in providing adequate chemical facilities for our students. The money is now locked up and is idle. If a sufficient number of votes are cast, either for extension or consolidation, the question will be settled and the university can go on making progress.

The university does not need a chemical laboratory any worse than it needs a great many other things, but the war in Europe emphasizes at the present moment this particular need. Voters of Nebraska! Study the location problem and be prepared to vote so as to release the money now tied up pending the settlement of the question.

MONDELL HOMESTEADS

YOUR CHANCE GOING

Farmers are just realizing how money is to be made by farming on these Free Wyoming 320 acre homesteads and that they can also get what will make the future increased values of these farms. 1000 acres more all joining, if you wish, at $1.50 per acre; 480 acres, all told, 1520 acres. Nine thousand Mondell farms taken last year. This shows how your chance, or your boy's chance, is growing less every week. Claim one of these homesteads as land wealth in your family before all free land East of the Rocky Mountains is gone. No free land left in Nebraska.

Write me. Join our excursions. See the West's 1914 crop. Find out for yourself. I am paid to help locate you.
