THE MAN OF THE HOUR
In Five Reels

Monday ^D Tuesday
December 7 and 8

One of the greatest successes the American stage has ever known is shown in a splendid five reel picture with Robert Warwick and a fine Broadway Company, who created the leading parts in both the original play and the photo drama. Both the exterior and interior scenes are well chosen and many of them beautiful. The story is forcible and true to life. It deals with American political life in a splendid way that cannot fail to both please and entertain.
