NUMBER 15

Overland Model 81

FOR MONTHS they had planned to get an automobile all of their own. So to town the family went. Car after car was examined. One did not please—it was a new car on the market and hadn't been tried out. They didn't know where they could get repairs.

Another had the engine hung so low when the car was loaded, the engine dug on the high places in the road. So they bought an Overland. It had been tried and not found wanting.

Capable Men Elected At Election Tuesday

The spring election held here Tuesday passed off very quietly. The vote was heavy and the issues well defined. There is no questioning the present sentiment in regard to the wet and dry controversy, the city having gone dry by a large majority. Mayor Damerell was returned to office with a very flattering vote. This vote means that the people of the city were satisfied with the manner in which the public affairs were handled during the past year and Mayor Damerell feels that it is an endorsement of his policies.

There was less of personality evidenced in this election, perhaps, than any other previously held here. Principle and policy were talked more than men and candidates. The vote of the two wards was as follows:

Easter Sunday Found Many At Church

Easter Sunday was an ideal day, the first we have had for some time. The various churches were well filled and many special programs were given. At the United Church the morning service was given in honor of the Masonic fraternity, Rev. Beebe preaching on the Resurrection. In the evening an Easter cantata was given. A great many were unable to get into the house. The program was a real musical treat, and greatly enjoyed.

At the Methodist church a farewell reception was given Evangelist Sullivan, who concluded his revival services at that time with ninety converts. The Methodists express themselves as highly satisfied with this revival, and from the standpoint of numbers, at least it was a success.

Early Mass was observed at the Sacred Heart church and afterwards the beautiful and impressive Easter ceremonials were celebrated. The attendance was very large at this service, the singing exceptionally fine and the entire service was one long to be remembered.
