Lawrence Pierce has purchased the small white house of Henry Diederich which was located on the corner of Seward and Division streets and the first of the week John Barkley with a force of men moved the same to the A. B. Pierce farm west of town. J. A. Casebeer stopped off in this city between trains on Wednesday and favored this office with a fraternal call. The gentleman is the editor of the Blue Springs, Nebraska, Sentinel, and likewise bears the distinction of being the oldest newspaper man in the point of service in the state. He was enroute to McCook. The Chief this week received five hundred large two color posters, for the business men of this city, who are to give away, absolutely free, on Wednesday, April 26th, a new 1916 model 5 passenger Overland automobile. The bills were printed by the Western Newspaper Union of Lincoln and are a work of art, to say the least. Owing to a desire to get trains over the road on a faster schedule, C. B. & Q. officials ordered a switch engine to be put in operation at this place. The engine arrived in the city the last of the week and on Sunday evening the "Goat" began work. The switching will be done at night and as yet a permanent crew has not been selected. On Sunday noon, a double wedding was solemnized at the home of Rev. G. W. Hummel. Orval Upp and Miss Sadie Rudd and Frank Rudd and Miss Addie Crawford were the contracting parties. Both the young couple are residents of Smith and Webster county and are well and favorably known. The young men will engage in farming and of course the women will become exemplary farmer's wives. A. C. Hosmer, who has been in failing health for more than a year past, is still confined to his home, where he was taken a week ago Monday, after becoming seriously ill at his office. Brother Hosmer is a newspaper man of considerable ability and has been in the game so many years in this city, that his hearty salutation and friendly smile is missed by old and young alike, and the entire community unite in wishing he may soon be seen around old haunts again.

McCormick of Jewell county, Kansas, and Miss Edith Reynolds of North Branch were united in marriage at three o'clock on Wednesday afternoon by Rev. G. W. Hummel at his home south of this city. W. H. McKimney left Wednesday morning for McCook, being called as a witness in the trial of Wm. Jefferies vs two or three well known insurance companies doing business in this state. The suit is brought by Jefferies to force payment on certain insurance policies held by him, covering the old Burlington hotel, which was destroyed by fire in this city in the spring of 1914. The insurance companies, it is alleged, refused payment on the grounds of arson, notwithstanding the fact that Jefferies, together with one, Nathan Carey, were tried and acquitted on this charge.
