Luka McLuke Says:
It might be a good scheme for every couple to get married on the 13th of the month. Then they would have something to blame it on in later years. When a man goes shopping with his wife he is either inspected or in love with her. Every clerk knows that if the boss made the office clerk undergo an efficiency examination the clerk would run first and the manager last. If we had to unbutton our overcoats and get down into our pants pockets to extend sympathy we would be as stingy with sympathy as we are with some other things. The big difference between the parade put on by a woman when she starts downtown and the parade put on by a circus when it starts downtown is that the circus paints the whole wagon and keeps some of its mysterious attractions under cover. Lots of people who wouldn't work for you for $2 per day are perfectly willing to attend to your business for nothing. Father sometimes believes that the reason why the baby doesn't yell any longer than it does is because father isn't home any oftener than he is. What has become of the old fashioned bride, who was ashamed of her store hair and hid it from her husband? Most women know that gambling is wicked. But it eases her conscience a whole lot if her husband happens to win. A man who has patience enough to sit down for a year and a half and color a meerschaum pipe hasn't patience enough to devote a minute and a half to undressing one of the children at night. Some men are too thin blooded to work in winter and too thick blooded to work in summer. You never hear a winner boiler that the cards were stacked. Common ordinary diseases like small pox will snuggle up to you without even asking your name. But a high brow disease like klebsiella must know your social status and your bank account before it will condescend to make your acquaintance. Cheer up! The cost of everything else has gone up, but happiness and smiles and kind words are as cheap as ever.

Famous Painting of Adam and Eve
Draped on Request of Fastidious Monarch.
An art treasure of Ghent cathedral which seems to have been saved for another fate has a long and curious history—the triptych of the Van Eycks. Commenced by one brother in 1420 it was finally finished by a third brother in 1432, and represents Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden. It has traveled much, but was in Brussels in 1784 when the Emperor Joseph visited that city and he was so shocked at the nudity of the revered subjects that the museum was closed and the figures were draped by the Artist Lapeye in deference to his wishes. It managed to get to Paris in 1794 and was sold and resold, resting for a time in the old museum at Berlin. Restored in 1816, it was later concealed until 1861 and later found its way to Ghent, where it now rests. Which visiting royalty of all the nations would be shocked at a nude Adam and Eve in these days, and what country would be so courteous as to have the nakedness draped in deference to a foreign monarch's tastes now?

Bible Class Entertains

On Tuesday evening about one hundred men met with the gentlemen who comprise the Bible Class of the United Church, in the Masonic hall, where all enjoyed a well prepared program. Fred Maurice acted as toastmaster, in his usual pleasing manner, and short speeches, songs, music and a dainty luncheon, comprised the main features of this notable occasion. The Bible class has on its membership roll some of the most studious men of the city, all of whom believe in keeping out of the rut.
