

A REMARKABLE STATEMENT

Mrs. Sheldon Spent $1900 for Treatment Without Benefit. Finally Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Englewood, Ill. — "While going through the Change of Life I suffered with headaches, nervousness, flashes of heat, and I suffered so much I did not know what I was doing at times. I spent $1900 on doctors and not one did me any good. One day a lady called at my house and said she had been as sick as I was at one time, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made her well, so I took it and now I am just as well as I ever was. I cannot understand why women don't see how much pain and suffering they would escape by taking your medicine. I cannot praise it enough for it saved my life and kept me from the insane hospital." — Mrs. E. Sheldon, 5667 S. Halsted St., Englewood, Ill.

Physicians undoubtedly did their best, but with this case steadily and could do no more, but often the most scientific treatment is surpassed by the medicinal properties of the good old fashioned roots and herbs contained in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If any complication exists it pays to write the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for special free advice.

Novel English Church. A novel church, in the parish of St. Paul, Southsea, England, was originally a stable, and the cross on the altar was used by the Rev. H. W. There is a possibility that the Omaha-Lincoln-Denver highway will be changed from its present route from Holdrege to Oxford to include instead Loomis and Bertrand, going southwest from the latter town to Edison. The reason that a change is contemplated is that there is a strip of bad road through clay hills between Atlanta and Oxford, which those responsible either cannot or will not keep in shape for travel, especially during wet weather.

A very distressing accident happened at the farm home of Charles Williams, near Cook. Williams had driven his team into the yard from the field, harnessed to a disc. He left the horses for a moment and they ran away, knocking his 7-year-old daughter, Dorothy, over and running the machine over her, causing a long cut through her face, dividing the nose, and other injuries. It is thought the child will live.

One of the most elaborate dedicatory services that ever occurred in Nebraska took place in Otoe county recently when the new St. John's Catholic church, located nine miles from Nebraska City, was dedicated. The church is one of the largest rural edifices in the state, and cost nearly $36,000. Bishop Tihen attended the services.

All Chinese Provinces Recognize Li Yuan Hung—German Casualties of War to Date Are Immense.

Western Newspaper Union News Service. Laredo, Tex.—Many Americans living in the district bordering the Rio Grande have begun arriving here with the intention of remaining until rumors of new danger from bandit raids had been quieted. The women and children from a number of outlying ranches have been sent here as a measure of precaution.

El Paso, Tex.—Uneasiness as to the results of the anti-American agitation in Chihuahua are manifest in almost every quarter here and in Juarez. A number of American refugees arriving from Chihuahua City said that they were hooted by Mexicans at almost every station on the way to the border but no violence was attempted.

German Casualties to Date.
London.—Germany up to the end of May had lost 2,924,586 soldiers, of whom 734,412 were killed, according to a British official tabulation of the German casualty lists given out here. The compilation did not include German losses in naval engagements or in the fighting in the German colonies. The British official statement notes the German casualty list for the month of May as placing the German losses in killed, prisoners and wounded at 102,507. This number, it is pointed out, brings the German total losses, exclusive of naval and colonial casualties, to 2,924,586.

Washington.—Willing acceptance by all of the Chinese people of the new president, Li Yuan Hung, is indicated in official dispatches reaching the state department. They said all of the northern provinces had recognized him. President Wilson has received a cablegram from President Li Yuan Hung replying to a message of condolence on the death of Yuan Shi Kai.

If the former president has any plans for the immediate future other than to continue his literary work he has not made them public.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. SELLERS, Acting Director of the Sunday School Course in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)
(Copyright by Western Newspaper Union.)
LESSON FOR JUNE 18.

THE PHILIPPIN JAILER.

LESSON TEXT—Acts 16:16-40.
GOLDEN TEXT—Believe on the Lord Jesus and thou shalt be saved, thou and thy house.—Acts 16:31.

Dean Vaughn has said of this lesson that in it "we have an epitome of the whole history of the gospel." The time was A. D. 50 or 52 and the place was Philippi, an important city, as before suggested.

I. The Damsel Delivered of Demons (vv. 16-18). On their way to the praying place where they had met Lydia, the disciples met this maid who "had a spirit, a Python." Greek soothsayers were supposed to be inspired by Apollo, who killed a great snake at Mt. Parnassus and left it to rot. The girl was probably possessed of hysteria and thus spoke strange words, and her condition brought much profit to her masters, who professed to interpret her words. This evidence of evil possession awoke a sympathetic response in Paul's heart. "Her misery and degradation were a symbol of the transfiguration of womanhood."—Stalker. Her cry after Paul was perhaps that they were the slaves of some god, even as she was the slave of Apollo. The Gadarene (Luko 8:28) used similar language. Paul did not at once stop her (v. 8), perhaps to avoid a controversy, but his deliberation made more profound the final deliverance wrought. Worn out at last with her cries, but taking no credit himself, Paul spoke the name of Power which had foretold just such acts (Mk. 16:17; Lk. 9:1; Jk. 10:17).

II. The Disciples in Prison (vv. 19-24). Of no further commercial value, the slave drivers sought revenge by inciting a mob to attack Paul and his companions. So today the liquor interests would seek remuneration for the loss of their "business," and anathematize their opponents, while the underworld tries to overthrow all who seek to restrain them. Paul and Silas were accused of "troubling" the city, for the trade has been interfered with. It, indeed, went hard with them thus to be unjustly set upon and finally, through the connivance of the spineless authorities, to be incarcerated in a filthy dungeon. Still, though the majority was against them, yet the mob was not right (compare 17:5; 18:12; 19:28-29), and they had One on their side who was sufficient (Rom. 8:28).

III. Deliverance and Salvation (vv. 25-35). Christ before Pilate was accused of sedition, and these flogged disciples were likewise innocent sufferers. (1) Prayer and praise (25-26). Note the circumstances—darkness, torn and bleeding, aching backs and a morrow filled with blackness. There was no sleep for the disciples at that midnight hour, but often strength is better gained in prayer than sleep. "Praying, they sang hymns,"—in the midst of that heterogeneous lot of prisoners they did not, could not, keep silent. The result was attentive listening by the other prisoners and by a loving Heavenly Father, who shook the place to evidence his interest (v. 26). (2) The jailed delivered. The place was so shaken that every barred door was opened and the staples of the stocks were so loosened as to liberate every prisoner. (3) The jailer saved. The brutal one is now the anxious inquirer, and becomes a good type for all to follow who are out of Christ. (a) He saw he was lost. He was subject to the same death as his escaped prisoners. "Supposing" (v. 27) has darkened many lives, and our greatest sorrows are often imagined. Face to face with death, the jailer would plunge into an eternity for which he was not prepared. Paul's clarion call brought the jailer to express his anxiety (v. 29), and it was not a trifling nor skeptically indifferent man who appealed to Paul. He was brought face to face with two holy men, with God and with eternity.

Those to whom he came knew the facts, had faith, and could meet the emergencies of life with confidence.

IV. The Humbled Magistrates (vv. 35-40). The jailer evidences joy, hospitality and a changed home, which news must have reached the magistrates. Their early command was to "let these fellows go." Paul here rises to his full dignity. Beaten openly, condemned without trial and verdict, does not allow them to cover their crime and blunder by stealth.

The magistrates were liable to loss of position, goods, and even life, and hence willingly did all that Paul required.

Thus the imprisonment turned out to the honor of the apostle and the glory of God.

Nor did Paul hasten at all in leaving the city.

After recovering strength to travel and encouraging the members of the infant church they departed, taking Timothy (17:14) with them.

Thus God gloriously delivered those who labored amidst sore trials, and there was established in Philippi a church which was dear to Paul and which was especially kind to Paul, and to which is directed one of his most tender epistles.

Big Sturgeon on Trot Line.
A 400-pound fish was caught in the Sacramento river by Eugene Barion, the "musical fisherman." Barion is called the "musical fisherman" because his 200-foot trot line stretched across the Sacramento at Middle creek in equipped with a chime of twelve Swiss bells—one for each line dangling from the main line with spoon attached. Barion's catch was a sturgeon, a big fish that measured seven feet without the head. When the sturgeon grabbed the hook every one of the twelve bells rang a clatter that awakened him from his afternoon nap in his cabin ashore. The "musical fisherman" was unable to land his big catch alone. He had to call in the assistance of two neighbors. Barion's catch netted him $63.—Redding (Cal.) Dispatch to San Francisco Call.

Apostle of Silence.
"Could I interest you in a volume which will teach you how to become an eloquent public speaker?" asked the agent. "I'm afraid not," answered the man at the desk. "I made my reputation in politics as a pussyfoot and the less I have to say the better off I'll be."

Not Available This Year.

The Rev. W. H. Book, pastor of the Tabernacle Christian church of Columbus, is telling a story told him by a schoolteacher in a county not far from Bartholomew. The teacher and the township trustee were talking over plans for the annual school commencement. The question of a speaker for commencement arose.

"Let's get this here Rip Van Winkle the township trustee," suggested the teacher.

"Who?" asked the surprised teacher.

"Why, this here Rip Van Winkle," the trustee replied. "I've heard a good deal about him and I thought maybe he might make a right smart speech."

The teacher had to tell the trustee that Rip was not available for commencement addresses this year.

The Delight of Children

The self-developed, inner-flavour of New Post Toasties bear a unique attraction for the kiddies—they even like them dry from the package for their lunches. A box of Toasties provides "eats" that will delight the children.

New Post Toasties are usually served with cream and sugar, in which form the flavour is more pronounced and the flakes more delicious. These New Toasties do not "chaff" or crumble in the package and they don't mush down in cream—both common defects of old-fashioned "corn flakes."

Then, too, notice the tiny bubbles on the flakes, produced by the quick, intense heat of a new patented process of making which imparts delightful crispness and a substantial body to the flakes.

New Post Toasties are a vast improvement over any old-style "corn flakes."
