

FLEE WITH $37,000

FIVE MEN HOLD UP PAY CAR IN DETROIT - GUARD IS WOUNDED.

FLEE FROM CITY IN AUTO

Bold Highwaymen, Who Robbed Employees of the Burroughs Adding Machine Company, Are Pursued by Posses—Hundreds See Robbery.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 7.—Five desperados, armed with revolvers and rifles, held up and robbed the pay car of the Burroughs Adding Machine company on Friday within full view of hundreds of persons in the street and escaped with $37,000 in cash.

One of the bandits is believed to be Clyde Stratton, who escaped Sunday night from Joliet penitentiary.

The bandits escaped in an automobile and at last reports were driving toward the open country to the north, pursued closely by another car, while several police cars were trailing.

Police headquarters have received no word from the police chasing the Burroughs bandits since five o'clock, when residents of Novi, 18 miles northwest, telephoned that they had seen a car containing five men going at full speed to the north, closely followed by another car with two passengers.

The robbery was the boldest crime of its kind in the history of Detroit. It occurred on Burroughs avenue, between Woodward and Cass avenues. Hundreds of employees of the Cadillac Automobile company saw the holdup. The pay car containing the paymaster, Thomas Sheehan, was returning to the Burroughs plant from a local bank, and it was followed by another car carrying armed guards.

The guards said they were delayed in the defense of the pay car by the idea that the holdup was part of a motion picture, and they did not attempt to interfere until it was too late.

As the pay car was passing the side of the Cadillac plant on Burroughs avenue a touring car drew up alongside and a man stepped out and ordered the driver and paymaster to hold up their hands.

Rudolph Cooper, the driver, grappled with the bandit, and by the time he had been overcome the guards drove up from behind and were met by four shots fired from Winchesters by the robbers.

The men on practically all the surface lines of the city are out, and New Yorkers will have to ride on the "L" or subway, or walk. It is likely that the employees of both the "L" and subway may follow the surface lines out.

The New York Railways company ignored the ultimatum of the union, the time limit of which expired at three o'clock, no reply being sent to union headquarters.

At Wooster street a crowd of strikers and sympathizers stoned a car and its crew, forcing a stop. The car had made its first round trip with a strike-breaking crew and was starting east on its second trip when the attack was made.

Police reserves hurried to the scene, and after dispersing the crowd arrested two striking conductors.

Washington, Aug. 7.—General Carranza's reply to the latest American note accepting his suggestion for a joint commission to adjust border differences, but proposing a broader scope for the commission's work, was delivered to the state department on Friday by Eliseo Arredondo, the Mexican ambassador designate. It announces the appointment of three Mexican commissioners, with instructions to "devote their attention preferably to the solution of the points mentioned in the previous note."

If it is accepted the next step will be negotiations between Mr. Polk and Mr. Arredondo to set the time and place for meetings of the commissioners. President Wilson already has under consideration a score of names suggested for the American membership.

HANGED AS TRAITOR U-BOAT LEAVES U. S.

SIR ROGER CASEMENT PAYS PENALTY WITH LIFE.

One-Time British Knight Executed in Courtyard of Pentonville Prison by a Barber.

London, Aug. 4.—Sir Roger Casement was executed as a traitor at 9:30 o'clock Thursday morning in the yard of Pentonville prison.

The last moments of the condemned man were not without interest. Overnight the public hangman, a man named Ellis of Rochdale, who is a hairdresser when he is not hanging people, arrived at the prison. Ellis received a fee of £5 ($25) from the undersheriff, who was supposed to do the gruesome work, but under the traditional custom had the privilege of hiring someone to do it for him.

Early in the morning Ellis tested the scaffold with a bag of sand of exactly the same weight as Casement. The prisoner was aroused about seven o'clock, and, performing his toilet, received a visit from the governor of the prison, O. R. M. Davis. Then he was asked what he wanted for breakfast.

In the last moments Casement was visited by a Roman Catholic priest—the prisoner recently embraced the Catholic faith. The two remained closeted together until a few minutes before nine o'clock.

Then a medical officer, the undersheriff and the hangman entered. The hangman lost no time commencing his duties. Sir Roger's arms were strapped to his side and he took his place in the solemn procession to the scaffold, a short distance from the cell.

As the procession moved on, the clergyman read the burial service. The condemned man stepped on the scaffold; his legs were pinioned, then the rope was placed around his neck.

While this was going on the chaplain recited prayers, and with a few moments after arriving at the scaffold the executioner touched the spring and the unfortunate man was hurled into eternity.

It is up to the state to rule on the eligibility of its candidates for the legislature, according to a letter to Adjutant General Hall from the attorney general of the United States, asking about the eligibility of Major Douglas, of Tecumseh, now with the guard on the border, who is a candidate for state representative.

Enthusiasm Over Rains. As a result of the general rains which visited Nebraska last week, the corn crop is assured, according to Secretary W. R. Mellor of the Nebraska agricultural board. He says: "The rain was worth many millions to Nebraska farmers, and in most sections will mean that nothing can prevent the farmers from harvesting more than a normal crop of Old King Corn."

Deep Sea Diving Squad. There is but one company of land forces in the United States army that can boast of a thoroughly equipped, well-trained, deep sea diving squad. That company is Company C of Omaha, now on the border, under Captain I. E. Todd, Fourth Nebraska regiment.

Censorship Threatened. "Pitiless Publicity" will be the order of things around Camp Llano Grande, until some newspaper correspondent permits his imagination to run away with him. Then perhaps a rigid censor will be established. Under orders of General Parker, commanding officers of the camp will furnish every facility to newspaper men for obtaining information about the troops.

Sanitary Conditions Good. Sanitary conditions about Camp Llano Grande are all that can be wished for, according to Major John M. Birkner of Lincoln, chief sanitary inspector of the Fourth Nebraska regiment. Discussing conditions he said: "The food for the men is plenty and good in quality. Every meal is inspected by a commissioned officer before it is served to the men. Water is boiled and aerated and I inspect the camp every day from one end to the other to see that every precaution is taken."

Not Enthusiastic Over Report. Officers of the two Nebraska regiments on the border are not particularly enthusiastic over the report from Washington that all college men who want to return to school in the fall will be released from the army.

An Appeal for Recruits. If there are any commercial telegraphers who want to see service with the Nebraska National guard on the border all they have to do is to apply at the recruiting station in the Lincoln armory and pass the physical requirements.

These men are wanted, to replace those who fell down in the physical examination of Company A of the Fremont signal corps. Captain Henry A. Jess, who is now chief signal officer and censor of his division, has sent an S. O. S. call to Adjutant General Hall, explaining the shortage of men and the fact that 7,000 words a day are being handled in official communications, via wireless.

That company is Company C of Omaha, now on the border, under Captain I. E. Todd, Fourth Nebraska regiment. The squad commanded by Captain Todd is composed of Sergeant James Morrin, Obediah K. Miller, Sergeant Joe Fishburn and C. H. Franek. Every man has seen service in the navy and has had practical experience in deep-sea diving. The equipment included a rubber diving suit, brass helmet, lead shoes and weights, rubber gloves, signal outfit and air-pump and tubes.

Newspaper men will not be permitted to send alarmist reports to their papers. The truth, however, will not be objectionable.

FIRST PRACTICE MARCH.

Boys on the Border Take Eight Mile Hike.

The second battalion of the Fifth regiment now in camp on the border, had its first practice march last week. Notification of the tramp was given before taps, so on the morning of the march the troops put on new and seamless socks, and took to the road leading from camp. Two miles to the south to the lake, two more miles in an easterly direction, two miles north and back into camp after an eight mile march, was the morning's program.

The men enjoyed the interesting scenery along the line of march, many of them glimpsing for the first time a banana plantation and cotton pickers at work.

The daily drills and short morning marches are rapidly bringing the men into condition to undergo the longer marches that are to come. Ability to stand a full day's march with complete equipment is what the officers and men are striving for.

The prevailing spirit to learn to be a good soldier as quickly as possible, so evident before leaving Nebraska, is still felt by the men.

Facts Are Misrepresented.

Thousands of letters have been sent from Camp Llano recently. Some of them contain the most imaginative bits of information that could be thought of, describing conditions of the camp as deplorable, when as a matter of fact they are excellent.

The climate is unsurpassed, the nights delightful and cool. In the middle of the day the sun is very hot, but there blows almost constantly a cooling breeze and in the shade and out of the sun it is as comfortable as one could wish.

There are some hardships to be sure, as the men drill four hours a day, and those who have violated some rules of the camp find police duty irksome and inconvenient.

Water is now running through the camp in large mains and plenty of drinking water can be had. It is always first boiled before serving. Shower baths have been finished.

Not Enthusiastic Over Report.

Officers of the two Nebraska regiments on the border are not particularly enthusiastic over the report from Washington that all college men who want to return to school in the fall will be released from the army.

It is also reported that General Hugh Scott, aide to General Bliss, chief of staff, favors the release of all men who have tired of military life and who are anxious to get out of the army. This also does not appeal to the Nebraska officers.

The Fourth regiment will lose a large number of men under the dependents provisions. Yet there will be a lot of men who hope to get out of the army on this point and who are going to be disappointed. Discharges will be given only to those who have mothers, wives or families dependent upon them, and who produce ample proof of this.

HUSBAND SAVED HIS WIFE

Stopped Most Terrible Suffering by Getting Her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Denison, Texas. — "After my little girl was born two years ago I began suffering with female trouble and could hardly do my work."

I was very nervous but just kept dragging on until last summer when I got where I could not do my work. I would have a chill every day and hot flashes and dizzy spells and my head would almost burst. I got where I was almost a walking skeleton and life was a burden to me until one day my husband's step-sister told my husband if he did not do something for me I would not last long and told him to get your medicine. So he got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me, and after taking the first three doses I began to improve. I continued its use, and I have never had any female trouble since. I feel that I owe my life to you and your remedies. They did for me what doctors could not do and I will always praise it wherever I go." — Mrs. G. O. LOWERY, 419 W. Monterey Street, Denison, Texas.

If you are suffering from any form of female ills, get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and commence the treatment without delay.

Righteous indignation. He had been showing his rich old aunt from the country some of the sights, and this evening they were to witness a revue.

He was keen on making a good impression, as he had great expectations from the old lady. So he was quite taken back when, as soon as the curtain rose, the good dame grasped him by the arm and hurried him from the theater.

"Disgraceful! Such bad management!" she said, indignantly, when they had reached the lobby. "Just fancy allowing the curtain to go up before those poor girls were dressed!"

An Unproductive Visitor. "Say, young fellow," said Broncho Bob, "have you got a gun on you?" "No, sir," replied the man with the brand-new cowboy uniform. "I was told that it was better to be unarmed, so as to avoid any impression that I was seeking a quarrel."

"Well, that's a big disappointment. I needed a brand-new gun an' thought you'd be bringin' along at least a pair of 'em. Don't you let anything like this occur again."
