

Howard S. Foe
Attorney-at-Law
Republican Candidate For County Attorney

I was born and raised in Webster County, worked on a farm and taught school to pay my educational expenses. I was graduated from the Red Cloud High School and the Law Department of the University of Nebraska and am admitted to practice law in the state and U. S. Federal Courts.

Immediately after graduation I went into the office of W. S. Morlan of McCook, where I tried cases for him continually until I returned to Red Cloud at which place I have since been engaged in the practice of law. If you want to know anything about my ability to handle the office of County Attorney I refer you to E. B. Perry, District Judge of Red Willow County, or to J. L. Rice, attorney-at-law, McCook, Nebraska.

WOOLTEX COAT WEEK

A delightful display of the seasons most charming coat

Beautiful, soft warm materials which pleasantly surprise you with their lightness. Handsome colorings that are most suggestive of the fall and winter days.

Charming models for every figure and every occasion.

Never before have we shown such a diversity of types, all following the season's correct silhouette. Equal popularity is accorded to the belted and semi-belted models that flare smartly from the waist and to the big, loose styles, flaring from the shoulders in sweeping fullness.

The wide cape collars on some of the models are trimmed with fur, some have a velvet edging in darker shades.

There is such a fascination about these new Wooltex coats that we know there is not a woman in this city who could not enjoy them and profit by seeing them.

The Wooltex label sewed in the collar of each garment is your assurance of absolutely satisfactory wear. Yet with all the excellence of tailoring and correctness of style, the prices are exceedingly moderate.
