Money Talks

To be sure Money Talks, especially if it is actively employed. Money that is idle is asleep. If you could hold all the money that passes through your hands it would be a fine thing for you, but if every one else followed the same plan where would you get yours? The place for money is in a reliable bank like ours, but subject to your check. Hoarding money takes it out of circulation and it is constantly liable to be lost. Money on deposit talks and the things it says to you are "security, comfort, satisfaction." We invite you to open an account with us.

Secures A Better Position

Bruce Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Robinson, of this city, who for some time past has been chief electrician for the M. M. Johnson Company at Clay Center has resigned this position and will go to Hastings where he will be in charge of the Willard Storage Battery Company's establishment at that place. Bruce is one of the many Red Cloud boys who have deserted the family fireside to go forth into the world to engage in life's battles, and have been victorious. During his school days here he won the respect and friendship of both teachers and fellow students who with his many other friends will be pleased to hear of the swift progress he is making toward the goal of success, in his chosen profession.

Loses Life in Accident

Mrs. J. H. Clark received a message this morning containing the news of the death of her sister, Mrs. Leona Argabright, which occurred yesterday and was caused by an elevator accident in San Francisco says the Smith Center Journal of April 12th. Mrs. Argabright's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Skeen, live north of town and her daughter, Miss Irma, makes her home with her grandparents. A nother daughter, Mrs. Frank Phillipot, lives in Chicago. No particulars of the accident were given in the message that was received this morning. The body will be taken to Nemaha, Nebraska, for burial, but just when the funeral party will arrive at that place is not known. The relatives from here will attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Argabright resided in this city for several years and while here made many friends who are grieved to learn of her untimely death.

Argus Installs an Intertype

Brother Edson, of the Argus, recently purchased a Model B. Intertype, which arrived in the city last week. One of the Company's experienced mechanics arrived about the same time, and immediately began work on the erection of the same. The machine is now in operation, and Editor Edson expects to give his readers a paper printed from slugs this week. Heretofore Bro. Edson has been a very busy man, and, now, with the new duties of Machinist-operator confronting him, he will be about the busiest man in town.

We are pleased to note the prosperity of our neighbor, and bear no malice or envy toward him, but until such times as we can see our way clear to get a corner on a volume of business large enough to keep the "slug caster" in operation nine hours a day and six days a week we will be content to "chase the hell box for sorts" and let the price of the machine draw eight percent.

City Buys New Road Drag

Guy Barnes, the genial conductor on the City Water Wagon may be seen on the streets of the city now days driving a new vehicle, which is classed under "road drags".

The said vehicle arrived in our city recently and after careful consideration Guy decided just what it was and immediately began the task of assembling the many (?) parts.

Two important points were taken into consideration by the city "dads" when making the purchase: the simple manner in which it is constructed and the fact that but one team will be required to draw it. We have not learned what manufacturing firm is responsible for this new addition to our street cleaning and repairing department, or its cost, but judging from its appearance we are of the opinion that its purchase will not bankrupt the city purse.

If the demonstration Guy has been making the past few days is an example of the work it will do we may look forward to seeing the streets of our fair city in the best of condition in the future.

Samuelson Issues Statement

In this morning's World Herald the following statement was made by Senator C. E. Samuelson in regard to his opposition on the first prohibition bill which was introduced in the house of representatives and after several amendments were made by the Senate it now has become a law.

"An examination of the house bill and the senate committee amendments discloses that this body has done its full duty. The house bill was hastily drawn—imperfect in its provisions, uncertain in its definitions, extreme in its regulations, and in some things silly and senseless.

When that bill came to this body its friends insisted that it was so perfect that no amendments should be made to it. The house has now agreed to over half of the amendments proposed by this body, which amendments have materially changed the bill. In addition to this, the house has deadlocked the conference committee for many days in order to make amendments to its own bill, thereby proving that the friends of that bill who insisted that it should not be amended either were deliberately trying to mislead this body or were ignorant as to what was contained in the bill. The house attempted to pass a drastic and sumptuary law, which forbade a person to have liquor in his own home for personal use. One of the senate amendments corrected this important defect.

The house bill was not in keeping with either the constitutional amendment or the arguments made in favor of this amendment last fall. The most important defects have been corrected by the senate amendments, and by the adoption of the majority report of the conference committee we will have a workable and reasonably satisfactory law. I vote aye."
