Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Larrick of this city and son, Percy, of Bladen spent the week end with the boys at Camp Funston. Mr. Larrick informed us that he had the pleasure of having a short visit with Editor McArthur and that all the boys are looking fine.

Both Training Camps Are Under Measle Quarantine

On Sunday night it snowed about 2 or 3 inches and owing to the fact that the ground being covered with snow Monday morning, we took a hike and then came back to the barracks and spent the rest of the morning at lectures and manual of arms. At noon the company was placed under quarantine on account of one of the privates becoming ill with the measles and during the week we could not leave the barracks after supper which was rather hard on us. We also received two new Victrolas, Monday and now have plenty of music at night. On Monday evening we came in early and listened to a lecture on the use of first aid bandages and also how to dress wounds and stop hemorrhages.

Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons the 25th regiment marched to a new field four miles northwest of here and practiced at maneuvers. Wednesday morning we all turned out for muster and answered present by bringing our rifles down to order arms then we had inspection. About eleven o'clock the company marched over southwest of our barracks and had our picture taken.

Friday morning several regiments of us put white bands around our hats and marched out northwest where we had maneuvers. Several thousand men were on each side and our side won the battle as we were not discovered by the enemy.

Saturday morning we had company inspection and spent the rest of the morning at drill and then were off for the rest of the day.

In the football game Saturday afternoon Company G. played Company B. and the game was hard fought from start to finish and resulted in a score of 6 to 6. Our team under Captain Baird is doing good work and will soon be able to take on any team in the camp. Guy Scott was cheer leader for the game and the boys put up some very classy yells under his efficient leadership which no doubt put pep in to our team. All games are free here.

We are indebted to Mrs. Lavina Gilbert for the following letter which may be interesting to our readers:
Camp Cody, New Mexico, Oct. 31.
Dear Mother:

Well we are quarantined for measles and can't leave the company streets. There are three cases in one squad. They moved their tents and belongings I will bet they are a lonesome bunch. We will have to be caged up 14 days unless more cases break out and if there are I don't know how long we will be quarantined.

We were mustered for pay roll today, so we will be paid in about a week. It won't do us any good while we are penned up. We can't drill only in the company street and that isn't very big so we don't get very much drilling. I have laid on my bed all day and I am sure getting lazy. I sure took some hike last Sunday, walked over to the mountains and back. The trip made about 35 miles and I sure was all in when I got back to Camp Cody again. Chas. Barnes, Cecil Cummings and myself started at 9 o'clock in the morning and walked until 1:30 before we even came to the foothills. I took a kodak with me and took some pictures. We took a lunch with us which consisted of 6 sandwiches 1 dozen apples and 25 cent boxes of cookies. We ate them before we started up the mountains. We had climbed for half an hour and stopped to rest when a couple of boys came up. They had killed a rattlesnake, which was about four feet long and had eleven rattles and a button. The boys said the snakes were thick there, but it being cool that day they were not out. I tell you it sure looked like a good place for them for there was nothing but rocks from the size of my fist to the size of my head, of course there were large ones too, but we went around them. The mountain was so steep that we crawled on our hands and knees.

"Civilization"

When we got to the top, which was almost straight up and down, we were "all in". We were up there about an hour. We could see all over the valley but all we could see of camp was dust for the wind was blowing awful hard. One place where we went through between two big rocks the wind was so strong that we had to hang onto rocks to keep on our feet. We could look across onto the other mountains and see other boys on them.

When we got down again we were very tired and it took us until 7 p. m. to reach town where we sure took on a feed. We saw lots of cattle on the range and they are fat. I don't see what they live on though. There is nothing but miskeet grass.

The next morning after the hike my feet were so sore I could hardly walk. The other boys were the same and we had to go drill too. The drill grounds are two and one half miles from camp.

The top soke just came in and told us we were quarantined in our tents. Gee, but that is awful. A guard is placed in front of our tent to see that we stay. They called us on the line tonight and a doctor examined our eyes. He found many of us had measles. I don't know how many there were. You can tell how healthy this country is. They can't build hospitals fast enough to hold them all. The alkali dust has blown every day for a week.

Tonight is halloween and the boys are raising cane. One of the boys dressed up as a girl and they took him down to Sargeant Adams and told him a lady was there to see him. The Sargeant did not know what to do but the boys couldn't keep still and he got wise.

Well I will close for this time as this will be all I will have to do for a month. I have not seen Art for quite a while.
Good Bye,
Your son James

The story of "Civilization" is so comprehensive in scope that to attempt a recital of it would end only in failure. One must actually see to appreciate this masterpiece. It deals with things that are vital. Things that interest big minds. Things that humanity hopes for and that dreamers believe may some time come true.

It depicts an idealistic conception of the birth of the millennium and the bringing about of universal peace through the second coming of Christ.

It is remarkable for the fact that it presents on the screen the first filmed record of how a submarine operates when attacking a big steamer.

A passenger steamship is destroyed, a submarine sunk, aeroplanes are brought to earth, and a city is destroyed.

There's a human interest in the spectacle—a love story; Kings, Queens, Princes and Princesses; pastoral beauty; scenic grandeur; every conceivable form of screen vastness.

The fact is, it is such a big theme handled in such a big way, that to do it justice you would have to write a very big book indeed.

Over a year was spent in making this great cinema spectacle with 40,000 actors, 6,000 horses a first-power fleet of war vessels, including a flotilla of aeroplanes and a squadron of submarines in action. At the Orpheum Theatre, Red Cloud, Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 12 and 13.

Mrs. J. C. Myers returned home Monday evening from a visit with relatives in Lincoln.

A new front is being installed in the Miner building on South Webster street, occupied by R. P. Weesner & Co. When completed it will present a very attractive appearance.
