City Council Transactions

Mayor Damerell being absent, President A. R. Saladen convened the Council in regular session last night, with all members present.

At the personal request of a number of business men the Occupation Ordinance was amended to raise the fee for peddlers and street sale of merchandise to $50.00 per day and on Merry-Go-Rounds to $2.50 per day for two weeks and $5.00 per day thereafter.

On the personal complaint of Mrs. McFarland as regards the heights to which her water bill had soared, President of the Council, appointed a committee of one to go with Superintendent Bradford, investigate and adjust the matter.

The report of S. R. Florence was read and ordered placed on file, after which the notice of injury to W. A. Kent was read to the Council and also placed on file.

In order to secure an extra 5 per cent discount on purchases of oil from the National Refining Co. by permitting cash to accompany the order, the city treasurer was instructed to honor the order of the company and charge same to the Electric Light Cash Fund.

The city engineer was instructed to take up with C. B. & Q. officials the matter of draining the lower end of town of flood waters.

City Treasurer was instructed to transfer $30.00 from the Electric Light Cash Fund to the Electric Levy Fund and cancel the $500.00 warrant registered against the Electric Levy Fund.

Hold Annual Meeting

The Farmer's Union Co-operative Association met in annual session in the Kellogg building last Thursday and proceeded to transact the business appertaining to such meetings after a short year of success.

The Association started early last spring and the reports at their first annual meeting were most encouraging.

H. Crowell was elected president, Chas. Phares secretary-treasurer, J. B. Wisecarver, chairman Board of Directors.

The satisfactory growth of the Association induces consideration of larger quarters and a better location in the near future.

Levi Yost Retires

Beginning with Saturday, February 1, the Fourth Avenue meat market, for the past several months, conducted by Yost Bros., will henceforth be J. E. Yost & Son, the junior member of the firm being Harry Yost, who but recently returned, and assumed his former duties at the block, after service overseas. Levi Yost, the retiring member of the old firm, owing to health conditions, is compelled to seek outdoor employment, and will shortly move onto a farm near Guide Rock. J. E. Yost & Son comprise a team too well known to require further comment at our hands, and while all will regret the departure of Levi Yost and family yet the personal of the new firm will meet with the approval of all.—Com-Ad
