At the M. E. Church Sunday Summoned by the Master

The Centenary meeting held at the Methodist church, Sunday, announced and advertised in the columns of this paper last week, was a great success, large audiences, representing Guide Rock, Inavale and Cowles, as well as our fair city, gathering to hear the speakers on the Centenary.

Dr. Sherman Powell of Indianapolis, Indiana, was the speaker at the morning service and delivered an address on the "New World," which he stated the church was trying to bring to pass through the Centenary. The speaker strongly emphasized the fact it was not enough to make the world safe for Democracy, but that Democracy should also be made safe for the world.

Dr. J. W. Embree, the speaker for the evening dwelt on conditions in this country. He stated he was no alarmist, but that we are compelled to recognize the danger threatening Columbia's brow and "Woe Be unto Us If We Do Not Christianize The Foreigners Within Our Borders."

The music by the choir and the solos by Glen F. Walker, Misses Ruby Koon and Ethel Owen and Mrs. Bruce Eshelman were enjoyed by all and added their due portion to the occasion.

Much credit is due the pastor and the district superintendent in securing this meeting for Red Cloud.

Rev. Harper dismissed his services and attended the Centenary meeting at the Methodist church Sunday. Brother Harper's fervent prayer prepared the hearts of the audience for Dr. Powell's address.

Rev. Eshelman assisted Rev. Hammel in the Centenary meeting last Sunday, delivering the evening prayer and dismissing the meeting with the benediction.

Quite a number of strange faces were noted at the services Sunday. If you live in Red Cloud and have no other church affiliation, come again and worship with us. The special music and addresses were a feast of good things enjoyed by all.

One Red Cloud pastor remarked to Rev. Hammel that the Centenary was the biggest program Methodism ever undertook and he wished it God speed.

Happily United in Marriage

SAYLOR-BLANKE
Lieutenant Ernest A. Blanke of Red Cloud and Miss Susie Saylor of Beaver City were united in marriage Saturday afternoon, March first, by Reverend A. F. Howell, pastor of the Baptist Church.

The bride is a refined young lady of the Beaver City vicinity where she has spent most of her life with her parents.

The groom is a brother of Mrs. J. F. Schultz of this place. Mr. Blanke is a well-known young man throughout this part of the country, and has been serving his country for the past two and one-half years. He was stationed on the Mexican border until he received his honorable discharge at Camp Dodge, Iowa. Since then he has made his home with his father at Red Cloud.

After a few days visit at the J. F. Schultz home they will go to Red Cloud where they will make their future home.—Guide Rock Signal.

Janssen-Wademan
Henry Janssen and Miss Augusta Wademan were united in marriage at the Rev. Ernst home Wednesday, Rev. Ernst performing the ceremony that joined these young people for life's journey. The couple were attended by Harry Janssen, brother of the groom, and Miss Edith Hartman.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Wademan of Blue Hill and is an estimable young lady.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Janssen, residing northwest of town. He is a young man of sterling qualities.

Many friends extend congratulations to Mr. Janssen and his bride.—Blue Hill Leader.

Fred Moranville, aged about 44 years, passed away on Monday evening at the home of his uncle, Dr. C. F. Moranville, in this city. The gentleman had ate a hearty supper and apparently was in his usual state of health. He had gone to secure a bucket of coal, when he suffered a hemorrhage, living but a short time, in spite of the best of medical skill. The remains were taken to Guide Rock, on No. 16, this morning, accompanied by Mrs. Eliza Moranville, Mrs. Max Mizer and Harold Moranville, where funeral services will be held and interment made beside his father.

Mrs. Anna Viens, aged 22 years, 11 months and 14 days, wife of the Superintendent Viens of the Cowles school, passed away on Monday, after an illness of long duration. Funeral services will be conducted Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock and interment will be made in the Cowles cemetery.

FRED NOBLE

Another of Webster county's pioneers answered final summons in the passing away of Fred Noble early Sunday morning.

Fred Noble was born at Washington, Missouri, on February 17, 1884. He came to this county in the spring of 1874 and located on a homestead about five miles south of town where he made his home until a few years ago when he moved to Blue Hill. During the last two years he has made his home with the Hans Oye family and it was there that he passed away March 2nd. Mr. Noble had been ill but a short time but due to advancing years he was unable to withstand the sickness. Deceased leaves no immediate family, his wife and children having preceeded him to the great beyond some years ago. The closest kin, a brother-in-law, George Davis and wife of Garden City, Missouri, came Tuesday to attend the body.—Blue Hill Leader.

Commercial Club

The semi-monthly meeting of the Commercial Club was held in the Club rooms Tuesday night and the attendance and enthusiasm was such as to warrant the statement that the new blood recently injected into the veins of this body, upon its re-organization, is of a permanent nature.

While Tuesday night's meeting consisted of more or less discussion, yet the same was of a friendly nature and utterly devoid of that heretofore plainly exhibited attitude, "I Am Against Anything You Are For."

The meeting was presided over by President County Judge A. D. Ranney, which itself assures only the best of order, was opened by the Secretary, F. W. Cowden, reading a communication from The New York War Camp Community Service, asking the Club's aid in securing work for the returned soldiers and sailors of this and other states.

After this came a report on the Fairbury Golden Rod Highway convention by Secretary Cowden, which account has heretofore been given publicity in these columns.

The chairmen of the various committees, when next called upon for their reports, outlined the progress made to date, or clearly gave evidence of activity. Henry Fausch, as chairman of the Agricultural committee gave an exceedingly plain, but interesting and to the point, talk on matters pertaining to subjects of agricultural flavor, and his reference to the various Farmers' Unions, could not help but tend toward placing the light in the path.

Col. H. E. Maurer, whose elocution was seriously handicapped by a cold on the lungs, gave an elongated address on, "Harmony," which was anything but sophistical, yet possessing those tendencies that pacify.

Chairman E. P. Weesner, of the Credit Bureau committee, announced his committee ready to submit constitution and by-laws for the formation of a local Credit Association, on ascertaining as to whether or not the new organization was to be a body within, or separate from the Commercial Club. Naturally this involved a point demanding some study, consequently no action was taken in this matter until the next regular meeting.

The Club now boasts of a membership of one hundred and thirty-two.

This much can be depended upon to a certainty: If a big wheat and corn crop along with good yields of other things in proportion are raised in this portion of the west this year our business men can confidently expect one of the greatest trade harvests for the late summer and during the fall seasons ever known Big crops are all that are required to bring this about. The condition this February times were never known to be more promising in the memory of the oldest Nebraska resident.—Adams County Democrat.
