

COMB SAGE TEA IN HAIR TO DARKEN IT

It's Grandmother's Recipe to keep her Locks Dark, Glossy, Beautiful.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive. ~Adv.

Had It Down Pat.

There is a little Chinese boy who attends night school regularly and is decidedly bright, says the Los Angeles Times. The other night, however, in a test, he met his Waterloo. The question was:

"Where are glacial moraines found?" and Sing Lee answered in his very best style:

"Moraines allee samee b'long United States. Some flight in air, some flight in the ocean and some flight in France. Allee same everywhere flight like — Ask kaiser, him say she does!"

No Escape.

"Good morning, Mrs. Jagsby. We are peace delegates."

"Peace delegates?"

"Yassum. We were sent by Mr. Jagsby, who was unable to get home last night. He wants us to arrange the armistice terms and settle on the size of the indemnity he owes you."

"Umph! You tell Mr. Jagsby if he doesn't show up here in the next hour I'll come and get him. He's not in Ho'land."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

And many a bird fell asleep resting on his laurels.

WITH FINGERS! CORNS LIFT OUT

Freezone is magic! Corns and calluses lift right off— Doesn't hurt a bit

A few cents buys a tiny bottle of the magic Freezone at any drug store. Apply a few drops of Freezone upon a tender, aching corn or a callus. Instantly that troublesome corn or callus stops hurting, then shortly you lift it out, root and all, without any pain, soreness or irritation. These little bottles of Freezone contain just enough to rid the feet of every hard corn, soft corn, corn between the toes and the calluses on bottom of feet. So easy! So simple. Why wait? No humbug!

Every Convenience.

Dick Whittington had come to London to make his fortune. When his uncle paid him a visit that benevolent old gentleman looked around the tiny bedroom and remarked:

"I'm afraid you must find it very inconvenient living in a single room like this."

"Oh, dear no, sir!" said Dick brightly. "Why, it's the most convenient place I ever was in! When I want to go to the dining room or drawing room or my bedroom—why, all I have to do is just sit still where I am."

"O Happy Day" sang the laundress as she hung the snowy wash on the line. It was a "happy day" because she used Red Cross Ball Blue.

"Don't cry over spilt milk!" is good advice, but "Don't spill the milk in the first place!" is better.
