THE MEN IN CLASS A1

A sound, healthy man is never a back number. A man can be as vigorous and able at seventy as at twenty. Condition, not years, puts you in the discard. A system weakened by overwork and careless living brings old age prematurely. The bodily functions are impaired and unpleasant symptoms appear. The weak spot is generally the kidneys. Keep them clean and in proper working condition and you will generally find yourself in Class A. Take GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules periodically and your system will always be in working order. Your spirits will be enlivened, your muscles supple, your mind active, and your body capable of hard work.

Don't wait until you have been rejected. Commence to be a first-class man now. Go to your druggist at once. Get a trial box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. They are made of the pure, original, imported Haarlem Oil—the kind your great-grandfather used. Two capsules each day will keep you toned up and feeling fine. Money refunded if they do not help you. Remember to ask for the imported GOLD MEDAL Brand. In three sizes, sealed packages.—Adv. A sound, healthy man is never a back

Want Old Fort Preserved.

There is a movement afoot for the preservation of Fort Wilkins at Copper Harbor, almost on the tip of the Keweenaw peninsula, which juts out into Lake Superior, 'oward the Canadian shore, 50 miles. Fort Wilkins, established in the forties by the federal government, was one of the northernmost of the United States army posts. It is located on Lake Fanny Hoey, a stone's throw from the shore of Lake Superior. There remain several of the old barracks and officers' quarters, an remnants of the old stockade of pointed cedar poles can be seen. The Keweenaw Historical society is back of the movement to preserve the fort.

MAN MADE IN THE IMAGE OF GOD.

LESSON TEXTS-Genesis 21:26-28; Ephe-Stans 4:20-24; Genesis 2:7-9. GOLDEN TEXT-God created man in his own image -Gen. 1:27. DEVOTIONAL READING-Psalms 8. PRIMARY TOPIC-God Our Creator and JUNIOR TOPIC-What God Expects INTERMEDIATE TOPIC-Loyalty to Our Heavenly Father. SENIOR AND ADULT TOPIC-The Dignity and Worth of Man.

1. The Creation of Man (Gen. 1:26-

1. Time-when the earth, his home, was ready for him. The order in creation shows design on the part of God. He anticipated man's need in storing the coal in the earth, piling up minerals in the rocks, storing electricity everywhere, causing the water to gush from the valleys and hillsides, preparing plants and herbs for the healing of man's injuries and food and raiment adapted to every climatic condition.

2. His nature (vv. 26, 27). He was created in the likeness and image of God. This act was preceded by a spectal counsel of the Godhead. It was said, "Let us make man." This precludes the foolish and wicked assumption that man ascended from or through the brute. He came into being by a special creative act of God. This creative act is confirmed by Christ (Matt. 19:4; Mark 10:6). With such testimony we can dismiss the evolution theory as to man's origin as a human vagary. This likeness and image is not physical and bodily, but intellectual, (Eph. 4:24), and moral, (Col. 3:10). Man is spirit, soul and body (1 Thess, 5:23). God's likeness is reflected in man's tripartite nature. As there is a trinity and unity in God, so there is a trinity and unity in man. Spirit is the highest part of man, that which makes it possible for him to know God. The soul is man's selfconscious life, the sent of his emotions and desires. The body is the seat of the senses, the agency by which he knows the world. God made man with a personality capable of having fellowship with himself, with whom he could share his glory.

3. His rank and power (vv. 26, 28). Man, the last in creation, was placed above all else, over all the rest of creation. Being in the likeness and image of God, he was fitted to rule. How far short man comes of living up to the position given him by the Creator! The first man was not a savage, neither a baby. Fresh from the Creator's hands he possessed such lofty powers of intellect as to enable him to name the beasts as they passed before bim, (Gen. 2:19, 20).

II. Man Alone in Paradise (Gen. 2:7-9).

Adam had a most beautiful place in which to live. "Pleasant to the eyes, and good for food" describes his surroundings. His environment was in keeping with his nature. Eden was only fit for him in an unfallen state. As soon as his nature was wrecked. out he must go. Paradise with all its splendor could not satisfy man. His heart was desolate. Reciprocal love is the only thing that can satisfy the heart of man. Animals of all varieties surrounded him, but none were adapted to be his companions. To accentuate this need God caused the animals to pass before Adam. He was differentiated from all the animals in that he was a personality. He was endowed with the power of love, therefore only a being who could love in return could satisfy him. To meet this need woman was made for man. They had minds alike; they had spir-Itual natures alike; therefore they could commune together about the things that surrounded them and about God.

Man was made from the dust of the ground and woman was taken from his side. She is therefore one remove further from the earth than man. The fact that woman was made from man's rib points to unity, similarity and equality. God charged this first pair with the responsibility of replenishing the earth. (Gen. 1:28). Marriage is a divine institution and most sacred; for God made them male and female and performed the first marriage ceremony. In view of this, polygamy and divorce are grossly criminal. Marriage is the fountainhead of all life, religious, social and national, therefore corruption here is most fatal.

A Joy Forever.

An aspiration is a joy forever. To have many of these is to be spiritually rich.-Stevenson.

Motives.

Mr. Gladstone was once heard to remark that if all the wits of men were to be united in one brain, that man would be unable to appraise with perfect justice any single moral action. "The shades of the rainbow." he wrote, "are not so nice, the sands of the seamore are not such a multitude, as are the subtle, shifting, blending forms of thought and of circumstances that go to determine the character of one act. But there is one that seeth plainly and judgeth righteously."

When the Army Captain and the Hospital Nurse Consult the Dictionary Together.

I dropped into a French hospital the other day to see if my men were all right. There is the daintiest little girl in the office. She buzzes around among the books and files and indices and things. She is very accommodating, too, and when the lleutenant doctor, who has a little English, is not In, she pilots you around the different wards. Did you ever notice an American when he talks to a foreigner and realizes that it does not take? First he tries shouting at the top of his lungs, and then he tries talking very slowly and distinctly. Not so when a French girl sees that she is missing. She seems to feel that if she keeps on getting closer, and coos it, you semehow just must understand. Now, isn't that too absurd? You stand very still so as not to frighten her away and look at her out of the corner of your eye, but you don't put your mind on your business. Of all the 'mologies that might interest you just then, ety has the poorest chance.

Of course, when I go to the hospital to see my men, I have to find out in the office where they all are, and of course I know the lieutenant doctor's dinner hour. I go in and she looks up and smiles, I say: "Smith." She says, "Smeeth?" I say, "Oui," and we both smile. I say, "John Smith." She says, "John Smeeth?" I say, "Oul," and we smile again. Then she plunges into a drawer of well-thumbed cards and in a moment comes up triumphant with a bit of pasetboard. "Mumps?" says she, which in French sounds like mumps in English. "Out, mumps," say

I, and we fairly beam. Sometimes we get a hard one like measles, and then we resort to a dictionary. When you try to talk through a dictionary you never get anywhere if you take it turn about. You must both look together. One day we pursued a most clusive word through a very small dictionary. She got an arm around my shoulder before we had captured the third 'syllable. You see, don't you, where going to a hospital might become a habit?--Capt. Hill P. Wilson In K. U. Graduate Magazine.

France Building Long Canal.

Notwithstanding the war, the largest tunnel in the world is well under course of construction in France, its object being to give Marseilles connection with Paris and the interior of the country in general by rall and water. The canal will provide ample waterway for barkes. The entire profect involves the building of a new harbor and the cutting of a ship canal, actually tunneled through solid rock for five long miles, joining the old harbor and the Mediterranean to the River Rhone. The Rhone's upper stretches are placid, and already are used extensively for barge navigation, but near Marsellies the stream is far too turbulent for commerce. A range of hills had prevented the construction of a canal in days gone by. Now, with France energized by the war and with the necessity for the canal emphasized thereby, the tunnel is being cut and the canal will soon be opened. The work was begun in 1911-12, and has been continued through the war. By this canal and links already available, barges can be sent from the Mediterranean to the English channel.

The Human Hyena.

"How easy it is to fling a coin to a beggar!" philosophically said Professor Pate. "Thus you purchase relief from the sympathetic feeling aroused by his misery, but love is withheld. If you really love the beggar you would do more for him."

"Possibly," returned J. Fuller Gloom. "At any rate I have taken your little lecture so much to heart that hereafter I expect to carry with me small cakes of soap instead of coins, and to each measly mendicant who importunes me fling one cake, with the admonition that he wash his face therewith, so that on the morrow when I come by that way I can see how he looks and thus determine whether or not I can ever love him."-Kansas City Star.

Paris Craze for English Nurses.

The Bois de Boulogne (writes a special correspondent of Manchester Guardian) is a lovely scene. Besides United States soldiers riding and French soldiers walking, and members of the Polish legion with their square, floppy caps, one sees there numbers of children-French children, of course, but more than half of them had English nurses, and were speaking English to them. It is very noticeable, this fashion for English-trained nurses. The children's clothes are modeled much more on the lines of English children's clothes-bright-colored cloth coats and little beaver hats.

Fear Radium Shortage.

A shortage of radium was recently forecast by Dr. Blanchard B. Moore of the United States bureau of mines. "It is difficult to estimate the amount of radium in existence at present," said Doctor Moore. "Six years ago the engineers of the bureau of mines estimated that at the current rate of production the deposits might last, commercially, 10 or 12 years."

Year's Mineral Products.

The estimated value of the mineral products of this country for 1918 more than $5,000,000,000, which is more than $150,000,000 increase over 1917, and nearly $2,000,000,000 more than 1916. The estimates show that the output of pig iron, copper, ferro alloys, lead, zinc, gold, silver and aluminum was valued at slightly under $2,000,000,000 in 1918, as against a little more than $2,000,000,000 in 1917, whereas the nonmetallic products, the principal of which are coal, petroleum, clay products, cement and natural gas, were valued at more than $3,250,000, 000 in 1918, as against less than $3. 000,000,000 in 1917.
