Sunday Morning Fire Destroys Three Buildings

Sunday morning, about two o'clock, the unexpected big fire broke out which wiped three of the frame buildings out of existence in the business district of this city.

The fire broke out in the Herburger building, from some unknown cause, which was occupied by George Trotter as a vulcanizing shop, and was discovered by Marshal Phillips who turned in the alarm.

The fire department responded quickly but the fire gained rapid headway on account of the fact that there was no water pressure and they worked under difficulties. It soon spread to the Diederich buildings, one of which was occupied by Jacob Petersen as a cream station and feed store and the other by Henry Diederich as a shoe store and repair shop.

Mr. Trotter had sold his business to his brother, Roy, and Mr. Fred Hines, but the new proprietors as yet had not taken possession and no stock or fixtures were saved. The stock was insured for $1500. Mr. Herburger did not carry any insurance on the building.

Considerable flour and office furniture was removed from the cream station and Mr. Petersen's loss was covered by insurance.

Part of the shoe stock and repair machinery was removed from Mr. Diederich's store, but owing to the fact that he carried no insurance on his stock or this building his loss was very heavy. He carried some insurance on the building occupied by the Petersen cream station.

We have not learned whether Messrs. Herburger and Diederich have made any plans for the erection of new buildings. These lots are an ideal place to build and no doubt someone will buy them and erect buildings that will be a credit to the business district of this city.

It is time that this city was waking up and getting some new modern equipment for the fire department as they are handicapped which was proved at this fire. A new auto fire truck with a pump attachment would help considerably as the department then would have plenty of water pressure to fight fires.

Mr. Garber was born in Clayton county, Iowa, October 24, 1860, and moved with his parents to this county in 1871, where he has since resided. He was married to Miss Margaret Albright October 25, 1883, and to this union were born two sons, Roy and Bert, who, together with two brothers, Charley, of Mankato, Kansas, and Dick, of Alexandria, and one sister, Mrs. Thad Saunders, of Inavale, who are left to mourn his demise.

He was an expert penman and book-keeper, and served faithfully as Deputy County Clerk of this county for several terms, after which he was elected County Clerk and held the office one term.

Several electric lights have been installed in the alleys of the business district of this city so that prowlers can easily be seen by the marshal while making his rounds at night.

The NEW EDISON

The Three Million Dollar Phonograph

THOMAS A. EDISON invented the phonograph in 1877. Later he improved his original phonograph to a point where his business advisers said to him: "You now have the best phonograph in existence. Let's go ahead and market it."

Mr. Edison shook his head and replied: "I am not going to put out a new phonograph until it is so perfect that its reproduction of music cannot be detected from the original music."

Thomas A. Edison spent three million dollars in cold cash to develop an instrument which matched the human voice and all kinds of musical instruments so perfectly that the original could not be told from the reproduction—or RE-CREATION, as it is now called.

We are prepared to sell you today, for $285, an exact duplicate of Edison's three million dollar phonograph. You may even have extended-terms of payment, if you desire that accommodation. First of all, however, we want you to hear this wonderful new instrument.

May we have the pleasure of demonstrating to you that Music's RE-CREATION is a reality and not merely a fanciful phrase?
