The Council granted him this privilege. Only in the sense that the Bible is a "war story," for the reason that it deals with a multitude of wars, is the new production of "The Unpardonable Sin" a "war picture." Just as the bible in its entirety is a narrative of war, adventure and exploration, just so, "The Unpardonable Sin" is a creator for entertainment purposes made with incidents of the recent World War as a background. Insofar as the war incidents deal with the action of the picture, it is unquestionably true that they might just as well have been chosen from some earlier war in the history of the world. There are no combat scenes, adroitly staged to hold the interest, no atrocities pictured to arouse sympathies and stir up hatreds. A love story, a tale of adventure, some facts to make one think—all these have been combined to make "The Unpardonable Sin" just what critics everywhere concede it to be, namely, one of the foremost screen attractions which has ever been produced.—At the Orpheum Monday and Tuesday.

Mr. Bohrer returned home the first of the week after visiting his son, Merle, at Maybell, Colo. He states that it is a grand country out there, and he has filed on land there and expects to move on the same in the spring.

Inexpensive Fun.

Probably complaining about everything all the time does no real good, but it seems to be about the only way we can have any fun at all and still live within our means.—Ohio State Journal.

Wheat Berry Perfected.

Many of the present superior wheats produced in the United States were introduced into this country from Asia, Europe and South America, and acclimated to our country while undergoing the test. They have been bred and crossed until a berry has been secured which will adapt itself to the region requiring a wheat crop.
