  - Selection—Band.
  - Music—High School Quartette.

- The program will be given on the State Bank corner, or if the weather is stormy, will be held in the Orpheum theatre. Come out and help celebrate on that afternoon.

Proclamation

Whereas, Tuesday, Nov. 11th, is the anniversary of the signing of the Armistice and whereas our City and Schools are going to celebrate this day, I hereby declare it a holiday and request all business houses to close in the afternoon.

Married at Smith Center

Four young people, representing as many of our county's best families, journeyed to Smith Center, Kansas, on yesterday and returned "as but two"—or to be more explicit, were united by Rev. J. B. Simms, a Baptist minister at that place, in the holy bonds of matrimony.

The contracting parties were Harry Barker, of Inavale, the son of Mrs. Jane Barker, who besides being a successful young farmer, has many months overseas service to his credit and Miss Clara Jones, the charming and attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Jones, and for the past few years the faithful and efficient inter-type operator at the Argus office, and Andy Watson, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Watson of Inavale, likewise a prosperous and industrious young farmer, who also faithfully served during the late war and Miss Beatrice McAllister, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed McAllister, an equally as charming and attractive Miss as was her companion, who, since graduating from the Red Cloud High School last year, has successfully proven her ability as an instructor.

School Board Met Monday

On motion it was decided that the schools close Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, November 26, 27 and 28 for the Thanksgiving holidays and close for one week only for Christmas, from the 22nd to the 29th of December.

Superintendent Holtzen made an extended report and the board by vote decided to increase the salaries $5.00 per month of all the teachers in the High School, Junior High and grades who were receiving less than $100 per month with the exception of the kindergarten and assistant kindergarten teachers.

Acting on the suggestion of Superintendent Holtzen, the matter of putting up flag poles for the different school buildings was left to the Building and Grounds Committee, who were instructed to find out the cost of same and report at the next regular meeting.

Motion made and carried that the request of Miss Vance relative to purchasing of Indian clubs for the girls' physical culture class, to the amount of $5.00 be granted.

Board adjourned to meet Monday, December 1st.

C. J. POPE, Secretary.

Killed Tuesday Morning

Barney Moore, for years a familiar figure, in the local C. B. & Q. yards, met death in a pathetic manner, on Tuesday morning near the crossing over which he had, since meeting with an accident on the road some thirty-one years ago, which cost him practically the use of both hands, faithfully guarded and piloted the traffic over in safety. Due, no doubt, to the infirmities of old age and while apparently toying with an old paint brush, on the side of a box car, he failed to note that the day hostler with the engine taken off No. 16, and pushing a string of cars, was approaching the string against which he stood, and was knocked down, dragged a considerable distance and so badly mutilated that before medical attention, which was promptly summoned to his rescue, could arrive on the scene, life was pronounced extinct.

A quaint old character was Barney Moore, a trifle optimistic, but filling his sphere in life in a manner that not only displayed real character, but that oft times, big men, through misfortune and other causes, are found in menial pursuits.

His wife passed away in Casper, Wyoming, at the home of their daughter, about a year ago and this daughter, together with her brother, "Dub" Moore, now in Denver, Colorado, are the only remaining members of the family, pending word from whom, funeral arrangements have not been completed.

BIG AUCTION SATURDAY

Col. J. H. Ellinger will auction off the remaining portion of the Roy Sattley furniture stock for Beck & Boyer, at the old location, beginning at 2 o'clock on this Saturday afternoon. While the stock is greatly depleted, yet there still remains a considerable number of highly desirable articles and the auction will afford an opportunity of securing some rare bargains. Plan to attend.

The NEW EDISON

The Three Million Dollar Phonograph

THOMAS A. EDISON invented the phonograph in 1877. Later he improved his original phonograph to a point where his business advisers said to him: "You now have the best phonograph in existence. Let's go ahead and market it."

Mr. Edison shook his head and replied: "I am not going to put out a new phonograph until it is so perfect that its reproduction of music cannot be detected from the original music."

Thomas A. Edison spent three million dollars in cold cash to develop an instrument which matched the human voice and all kinds of musical instruments so perfectly that the original could not be told from the reproduction—or RE-CREATION, as it is now called.

We are prepared to sell you today, for $285, an exact duplicate of Edison's three million dollar phonograph. You may even have extended terms of payment, if you desire that accommodation. First of all, however, we want you to hear this wonderful new instrument.

May we have the pleasure of demonstrating to you that Music's RE-CREATION is a reality and not merely a fanciful phrase?

Smashing Photoplay

A really big photoplay that makes a smashing impression will be the attraction at the Orpheum theater Nov. 17, 18, 19. It is "The Miracle Man," a Paramount-Artcraft picture, produced by George Loane Tucker, and which was adapted from the remarkably successful Broadway play by George M. Cohan. Thomas Meighan, Elinor Fair, and Betty Compson are included in an unusual cast.
