Binding Twine Must Be Insect Proof

D. S. Phelps has just informed us that the Supreme Court of Nebraska has just handed down a decision in the much litigated twine case in his favor.

In 1916 Mr. Phelps ordered a carload of twine, being about 25,000 pounds. He sold it to the farmers around Bladen and it was cut by crickets and insects after it was used in binding grain. The farmers complained to Mr. Phelps and he agreed to return the money to them for the car of twine in case he could defeat payment for the car of twine. After consulting with the farmers it was agreed to employ Attorney Frank Munday of Red Cloud to contest the case. The twine company claimed that there was a written contract and that the purchaser could not show the implied warranty that the twine should be reasonably fit for the purpose of binding grain, but the defendants relied upon the implied warranty and Judge Dorsey held with them and Mr. Phelps won in the district court before a jury. Since that time the case has been argued in the Supreme Court twice, with a decision on Tuesday of last week that the decision of the lower court had been affirmed. Much interest was taken by other twine companies in the case as well as scores of farmers who used the twine. A leading official of the International Harvester Co from Chicago testified at the trial that there was no such thing as twine being insect proof, but the courts of Nebraska seem to disagree with him. Attorney F. J. Munday lead this case alone through all the courts and won every time.—Bladen

Rev. B. N. Eshelman, Pastor

Harry Thompson has received word that his wife, who is in a sanitarium at Hastings is very much improved and a quick recovery from her recent illness is expected.

Lazzari! Carolina Lazzari! She is the most eagerly sought contralto of a decade.
This fall, she goes under exclusive contract with the Metropolitan Opera Co., New York. Yet, rival operatic stages and concert fields continue to plead for her appearance.
Why? Because there is only one voice of such rich, noble beauty in all the world.
But, look at these two pictures. You see—extraordinary thing—that

Lazzari's Voice and the New Edison's RE-CREATION are without any difference

THESE pictures are drawn from actual photographs. They show Lazzari in the act of comparing her voice with its RE-CREATION by the New Edison.
She sang. Suddenly she ceased to sing, and the New Edison took up the same song alone. There was no difference. It was only by watching Lazzari's lips that the audience could tell when she had ceased to sing.

The test made before more than ten thousand music lovers and music critics, proves there actually are two voices of Lazzari. This fall she will sing not only to the music-lover who sits in the Metropolitan's golden horse shoe, but also to you, where ever you are.
Both of you will hear identically the same voice. You could even change places—it would make no difference. The voice of Lazzari, as RE-CREATED by the Edison, is indistinguishable from her voice as heard on the stage of the Metropolitan Opera House.

We want you to hear the world's greatest contralto.
Come into our store. Let the New Edison prove its RE-CRE-ATION of Lazzari's voice is equal to any contralto you have ever heard on any operatic or concert stage.
