TRACE MEXICAN RACE TO CHINA

Recent Discoveries Bear Out Tradition That Chinese Once Peopled Country.

MAY SOLVE ANCIENT PUZZLE

Hieroglyphics Found on Foundation Stones of Pyramids at San Juan Teotihuacan Indicate Primitive Migration From Orient.

Mexico City.—Hieroglyphics recently discovered on the foundation stones of the pyramids of San Juan Teotihuacan, 27 miles northeast of Mexico City, may solve the problem which has perplexed historians and archeologists for centuries as to the true origin of the Mexican nation. These strange carvings are said by some authorities to be Chinese, thus tending to bear out the old tradition that in the dim past wandering tribes from China crossed to the new continent, settled within the present boundaries of Mexico and became the progenitors of the race which now dominates this republic.

So interesting are the recent discoveries that the bureau of anthropology has been instructed to conduct a vigorous research, and in this connection

HUNT TURKISH HEIRESS

Was Left $100,000,000 by "Rockefeller of Turkey."

New Arabian Nights Tale Told in New York by an Alleged Sheikh.

New York.—The tale of the "Thousand and Second Night" was told in New York by Ben Mahomet, who proclaimed himself a sheik of Arabia and a brother of the amir of Hedjaz. Ben Mahomet arrived here with six retainers. His mission, he said, was a world-wide search for Sari, Turkish heiress, who, the sheik declared, was pledged to marry the amir.

Sari, according to Ben Mahomet, was last seen in Constantinople talking to a sailor from an American warship which had put into the port. How the Turkish maid was able to escape the vigilance of her nurse long enough

The little village of San Juan Teotihuacan, which in the Aztec language means "City of the Gods," was in the early days of Aztec history the scene of extraordinary religious ceremonies. The two pyramids, one dedicated to the sun, the other to the moon, are known to have been the tombs in which hundreds of tribal dignitaries were buried, and excavators have exhumed wrought stone containing human bones, obsidian knives, terra-cotta heads with broad faces and flat noses, fragments of rare pottery and great numbers of arrowheads.

Fong Tsing Kuang, charge d'affaires of the Chinese legation in Mexico, visited the pyramids and stated that the hieroglyphics were similar in many respects to certain symbols now in use by the Chinese. He declared the words "sun," "city" and "eye" were clearly depicted. Mexican anthropologists who have interested themselves in the discovery have declined to pass final judgment until further excavations are made and more evidence obtained.

The pyramids of San Juan Teotihuacan as well as those in Cholula, in the state of Puebla, are among the oldest marks of primitive habitation to be found in the republic. They stand as colossal monuments to peoples whose history was as obscure to the conquering Spaniards in the sixteenth century as to present-day historians. Because of their general construction, some authorities believe they are the handiwork of the Egyptians, who in some mysterious manner crossed the seas and denoted their places of permanent habitation with these stone and cement structures, which are even larger than the most famous pyramids of Egypt.

AS HE SAW CHRIST

Pen Picture of Jesus Is Discovers in Rome.

Drawn by Proconsul in Palestine in Letter Describing "Man of Strange Virtue."

Rome.—From the dust of more than 1900 years a studious modern Roman has rescued a pen portrait of Jesus Christ. It was drawn in one of the letters that Publius Lentulus, who was a Roman proconsul in Palestine and knew the Saviour in Nazareth, wrote to a friend in Italy.

"There has appeared here a man of strange virtue," Publius Lentulus wrote. "His disciples call him 'The Son of God.' He cures the sick and raises the dead to life. He is a very handsome man and worthy of all our attention. His hair is blond and covers his shoulders in separate curls and is parted in the middle, after the fashion of the people of Nazareth. His forehead is smooth and serene, without marks or wrinkles; his countenance is pink; his nose is well formed; his beard, of the same color as his hair, is parted in the middle.

"In his gaze is an expression of wisdom and of openness; his eyes are blue, but shine terribly when he reproves people; but in conversation they are amiable. His observations

BELL SOUNDS WIRELESS CALL

New Emergency Calling Device Insures Attention for S. O. S. Signals.

London.—A novel wireless emergency calling device by which ships in distress can ring alarm bells on other ships within wireless range, is reported by the American chamber of commerce in London.

The present wireless system of communication requires that an operator to hear a call, must be on duty, wearing the usual telephone headset. The calling up, according to the American chamber, is effected by a bell which starts ringing on the ships called.

It is claimed that one of the most important uses of the device will be to insure immediate and general attention to S. O. S. calls.

One of the most recent and most valuable discoveries was a jadeite mask of some past monarch with the brow covered with the diadem known to early Mexican history. The pyramid to the sun measures 761 by 721 feet at the base and is 216 feet high; the one to the moon is 511 by 426 feet at the base and is 151 feet high. They both contain numerous chambers, and their several stories are complete temples in themselves, but connected by winding stairs.

The inscriptions having Chinese characteristics were discovered through excavating in the ruins of what has generally been known as La Ciudadela (The Citadel), but which, according to recent reports of investigators, are what is left of a pyramid larger and perhaps older than the two pyramids of the sun and the moon.

HAS NO PAIN NOW

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did for Mrs. Warner.

Onalaska, Wis.—"Every month I had such pains in my back and lower part of stomach I could not lie in bed. I suffered so it seemed as though I would die, and I was not regular either. I suffered for a year and was unfit to do my housework, could only wash dishes once in a while. I read an advertisement of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other women and decided to try it. It surely did wonders for me. I have no pains now and I can do my housework without any trouble at all. I will always praise your medicine as I do not believe there is a doctor that can do as much good in female weakness, and you may use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. LESTER E. WARNER, R. 1, Box 69, Onalaska, Wis.
