RED CLOUD WILL PLAY MCCOOK

RED CLOUD—A post game of football is to be played between McCook and Red Cloud high schools next Saturday at McCook. This was decided at a conference held here today between local school authorities and a committee from McCook, consisting of Superintendent True and two members of their school board. A game played here between these teams some weeks ago was unfinished because of a disagreement after the referee had ordered a player out of the game. A compromise was later effected by which the unfinished game was to be resumed at McCook but the local school board vetoed the proposition. After conferring with citizens here today the McCook authorities consented to an entirely new game and the local board agreed to this.—Tuesday's State Journal.
