Beginning Tuesday, Feb. 1st, the Burlington put on a through freight between Kansas City and Denver which will be due to arrive here at 5:30 in the evening and to leave at 6:30. This is to take care of carload business from St. Louis, Kansas City and St. Joseph enroute to Denver and beyond. In the past all such shipments have been routed via Lincoln and Hastings and the officials of the road figure that the new trains will be able to handle the business in twenty-four hours less time than under the old management.

The publishers of the Lincoln Journal believe that during the session of the legislature is the best time to demonstrate to non-readers the advantage of being a Journal reader; therefore, are making the very unusual offer of that daily two months by mail for only 50 cents. Add 25 cents if you also want the big Sunday paper with its news and feature pages, its magazine supplement and colored comics. On account of being the only morning paper printed at the state capital The Journal can give later news to most parts of the state, than any other paper. The paper will be stopped at the expiration of the trial term. Every family should read a daily newspaper during these strenuous days of reconstruction. For those who for some reason must depend on a weekly, The Weekly State Journal at only 50 cents a year is a wonderful newspaper bargain.

DIED IN CALIFORNIA

One of the pioneers of Nebraska and one time resident of Red Cloud passed peacefully to her reward at Berkeley, California, January 9th, 1921.

Mrs. Sarah Frances Randall, mother of Mrs. O. W. Pope, was beloved by all who know her as wife of the pastor of the M. E. church at this place in 1899 to 1902.

Her mind remained clear and her faith steadfast to the end.

The funeral was attended by her daughter, Mrs. O. W. Pope, of Berkeley, and her son, Congressman C. H. Randall of Pasadena, her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Tate, and many warm friends whom she had made during her five years residence in Berkeley. The state officers of the W. C. T. U. attended in a body and placed about her remains a halo of white ribbons and beneath her a bank of fragrant white lilies. Over her was a blanket of orchids and opelia roses and thus she was left at the California Crematorium—this being her request.

Armenian President Asks American Aid

Erivan, Armenia: Dr. H. Ohandjanian, President of the Armenian Republic, has sent an urgent cablegram to Charles V. Vickrey, General Secretary of the Near East Relief, 1 Madison Ave., New York City, requesting immediate assistance to prevent the starvation of the Armenian people before the next harvest can be gathered. President Ohandjanian's message reads:

"Owing to hail, rain and field mice, the harvest in Armenia fell below expectations. Standing crops appeared well, but owing to poor seed, returns were not as good as was expected. Maximum returns 140,000 tons, only sufficient for eight months for one and a half million people. Food crisis critical and intensified by new Turkish invasion of Armenia. It is estimated that 100,000 peaceful inhabitants of Sarikamish and Kars region have been forced to renew the life of refugees and flee towards the interior of Armenia. There are also large numbers fleeing from Bolsheviks in Azerbaijan and Southern Russia, and coming to Armenia. Farmers, fearing famine, are unwilling to sell crops, thus leaving the cities foodless. In addition to the Armenian crops, ten thousand tons have been purchased from neighboring countries.

"In order to save Armenia it is necessary to secure flour from America, 50,000 tons, maximum requirement. In the name of the Armenian Government and the Armenian people, I beg that you use your wide influence in order that the Near East Relief may secure and ship the flour needed. I am sure that in this serious crisis the Near East Relief will not fail to continue its aid to Armenia in her struggle for existence.

"H. OHANDJANIAN, "President of Armenia."

GOB DESCRIBES ARMENIAN HORRORS

"You can't realize what a sight it is to see the refugee camp at Batum," Petty Officer George Porter, of Racine, Wis., writes his family, telling of the work of the Near East Relief in the ports along the Black Sea.

"The people are dying off little by little. There are workers of the relief organization here, but they don't seem to be able to take care of them all. They were the ones that made the camp. The families all live in grass huts, just high enough to sit up in, and they are covered with blankets. There is disease everywhere and the smell is terrible. I'm glad we didn't stay long, as I couldn't stand it, and you know when I can't stand anything there are few that can. I am sorry for these refugees, but we can't help any. They don't want money though they would sell their lives for some clothes and food. They don't stop praising the Americans.

"Trebizonde was another Armenian town, but it was completely wiped out by the Turks, who are now in control of it. The Turks massacred all the Armenians over fifteen years ago and kept all under that age to bring them up as Turks. The city looked as if it was shot to pieces. Samsoun is the same as Trebizonde, so you can see what kind of country we are travelling through. I am sure glad that we are leaving Russia and Armenia because I am sick of what I have seen. I think that these tourists who are trying to see ravished Armenia will be sorry they ever came over. These relief workers are nearly dead from work. They are the people who can tell the U. S. something about this country."

The Near East Relief, 1 Madison Ave., New York, is now appealing for funds to continue the work so graphically described by the young American sailor.
