"Whoever thought of Robinson Crusoe as a successful advertiser? Yet he was as history proves," says the American Gas Association Monthly. "He knew what he wanted—a ship—and he put up an ad for one. He flung a shirt on a pole at the top of his island; that, in the language of the sea, was plain to every sea-faring man. The circulation was small—there was no other medium—but Crusoe kept at it, despite the fact that he got no inquiries for a long time. He changed his copy—as one garment after another was frayed out—and in the end he got what he wanted. But had he taken down the signal after a time and declared "advertising doesn't pay," where would Crusoe and his story have been today?"

One of J. C. Mitchell's neighbors tells a good joke on him of another escapade with an imaginary robber, although this time Jim decided to do his own shooting in as much as Marshal Doyle made such a mess of the last affair in which Dr. Hurst played the leading role. One night last week Mr. Mitchell heard the purr of a motor that sounded exactly like his "Lizzie". Deciding that someone was trying to purloin her from his garage he took his revolver and went out to investigate. After looking over his premises but unable to locate the thief he found up the alley that his law abiding neighbor W. A. Maynard had just put his car up for the night. Jim didn't shoot but we don't blame him for not wanting to lose his machine as he had just had it painted and polished up.

City Clerk.

NOTED SINGERS IN RECITAL HERE LAST OF MONTH

Miss Jean Mac Neil, contralto, and Emerson Williams, baritone, assisted by Mr. Chester Gaylord, pianist, will be heard in an unique recital at Besse Auditorium on the evening of September 29th.

Miss Mac Neil and Mr. Williams present a part of the program in "Kilts". They sing the songs of Bonnie Scotland, and from expression of the press in cities where they have appeared, they are extremely efficient in dialect. In addition to solos, they sing duets which are said to be delightful. The second part of the program consists of solos and duets of American songs.

Miss Mac Neil is said to possess a voice of rare beauty, while Mr. Williams has been acclaimed as one of the foremost bass-baritones in the concert field. They have been decided favorites in Chautauqua for several seasons, and come to us highly recommended.

Mr. Chester Gaylord is an artist of considerable reputation who has toured the country for several seasons, making friends and admirers wherever he has been heard.

Admittance to the recital will be by card of introduction only which may be secured from E. H. Newhouse.
