

New Laws Cut Hunting Season

Bag Limit Now Includes Birds Killed by Persons Assisting the Hunters.

AIRPLANE SHOOTING BARRED

Tendency to Tighten Restrictions on Hunting of Birds and Big Game is Shown in Federal and State Laws for 1921.

Washington.—A tendency to tighten the restrictions on the hunting of birds and big game is noted in the game laws for 1921, a summary of which, both federal and state, has been compiled by the federal biological survey. Among the notable changes made during the present year was the amending of the migratory bird treaty act regulations with respect to bag limits.

This amendment provides that the daily bag limit of any person shall now include "all birds taken by any other person who for hire accompanies or assists him in taking migratory birds." This will put an end to the abuse of privileges under the regulations regarding the prescribed daily bag limits by persons who claim that birds were killed by guides accompanying them.

Waterfowl Season.

The federal waterfowl season for California was fixed from October 1 to January 15, replacing the old season of October 16 to January 31, the season now being the same under both federal and state laws. Regulation 9, governing the issuance of federal scientific permits, was amended to permit the issuance of limited and special permits.

State legislation harmonized federal and state laws on waterfowl and shore birds in Kansas and Oregon, and on waterfowl in Pennsylvania and Rhode Island; Washington prescribed a statewide open season on all migratory game birds from October 1 to January 15, thus deviating from the federal regulations, which supersede the state law, east of the Cascade mountains, where it will now be possible to hunt migratory game birds only from October 1 to December 31, without violating either federal or state law; in Idaho the open season on migratory game birds has been shortened under state law two weeks by opening October 1, instead of September 16, and extending to December 31.

Idaho, Kansas, Montana, Nebraska, Oregon and Washington enacted legislation similar to the federal regulation prohibiting hunting from airplanes. Colorado reduced the bag limit on ducks from 20 to 15 a day, while Kansas increased the limit from 20 to 25. In New Jersey reedbirds were protected at all times by being placed in the nongame class. The open season for woodcock was shortened 25 days in Michigan, two weeks in New York and one month in Vermont. Doves were protected until 1924 in Colorado, and in Kansas an open season on them was provided from September 1 to October 15.

In general, seasons on big game were shortened and hunting further restricted. Buck laws were enacted in Michigan, Montana, Nevada, North Dakota, South Dakota, Vermont and in Washington east of the Cascades. Maine protected spike bucks and prescribed that one of the two deer allowed in the eight northern counties must be an antlered buck, and provided that in two of the counties only residents may hunt deer during the last two weeks of the open season. Bull moose were protected for five years in Maine.

Exploration May Develop Information of Surpassing Interest to Archaeologists—Greatest Structure of Kind in World.

East St. Louis, Ill.—Probing of the mysteries of the great Cahokia mound near this city has been begun by Prof. Warren K. Moorehead of Andover, Mass., upon the suggestion of the Smithsonian institution, universities and scientific associations. With a corps of experienced assistants he will open Cahokia and the chain of 72 other mounds in Madison and St. Clair counties which furnish the most remarkable memorials of North America. Exploration may develop information of surpassing interest and value to archaeologists.

Covering 16 acres, the Cahokia mound, which is 100 feet in height, is the greatest structure of its kind in the world. It was supposedly a religious temple. Archaeologists estimate that the settlement of the mound

Mother Says Her Lot Justifies Profanity

Arraigned on a charge of profanity, Mrs. Agnes White of Columbus, O., thirty-seven years old, and the mother of 14 children, said:

"Judge, anybody that had to live as hard a life as I do, would cuss."

Mrs. White testified that she was forced to take in washing and other work to support herself and her children. The judge dismissed her, after telling her to go and curse no more.

Home Gardening Beats Golf.

Detroit, Mich.—Thousands of Detroiters who acquired the gardening habit during the war have continued the practice of making and tending patches of vegetables and small fruits until it has become a hobby with a large proportion of men here. More interest is being taken in gardening than in golf, baseball or other sports during the summer months, according to those who have made a study of the situation.

CORNHUSKER ITEMS

News of All Kinds Gathered From Various Points Throughout Nebraska.

Nebraska farmers are not in a position to stand continued pressure in the financial deflation which has been taking place. Governor McKelvie informs Governor Harding of the federal reserve board. Governor McKelvie goes exhaustively into the conditions as recently sent to over 700 Nebraska bankers asking their views as to what was needed to assist the farmers of Nebraska in recouping their losses of the last year. The farmers of this section, Governor McKelvie informs Mr. Harding, have been compelled to bear more than their share of the burden. It is time now that the federal reserve banks extend sufficient credit, he says, so that the farmers may hold what wheat remains on the farm and to feed the cheap corn to live stock, giving promise of insuring a reasonable return for their work.

Brady and Maxwell on the east and Hershey, Sutherland and Paxton on the west have each voted bonds to jointly build a power line from North Platte to the respective villages for the purpose of obtaining electric "juice" for light and power purposes from the North Platte Light & Power company. These villages have had municipal plants, but they have proven very expensive and not altogether satisfactory.

Judge Paine in district court, on the representations of attorneys for bondholders, ordered a decree of foreclosure on the Grand Island property of the North American Hotel company, consisting of an uncompleted 10-story hotel building. J. L. Leary and R. R. North were appointed referees, with a bond of $100,000. The decree was for the benefit of creditors to the amount of $190,000. It is expected that the foreclosure sale can be had by December 1, after which it will be possible to complete the building.

WOMEN WHO CANNOT WORK

Read Mrs. Corley's Letter and Benefit by Her Experience

Edmund, S.C.—"I was run down with nervousness and female trouble and suffered every month.

I was not able to do any work and tried a lot of medicine, but got no relief. I saw your medicine advertised in a little book that was thrown in my door, and I had not taken two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before I could see it was helping me. I am keeping house now and am able to do all of my work. I cannot say enough for your medicine. It has done more for me than any doctor. I have not paper enough to tell you how much it has done for me and for my friends. You may print this letter if you wish."—ELIZABETH C. CORLEY, care of A. P. Corley, Edmund, S.C.

Ability to stand the strain of work is the privilege of the strong and healthy, but how our hearts ache for the weak and sickly women struggling with their daily rounds of household duties, with backaches, headaches, nervousness and almost every movement brings a new pain. Why will not the mass of letters from women all over this country, which we have been publishing, convince such women that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help them just as surely as it did Mrs. Corley?

MARITAL LIFE ONE OF SURPRISES

His Nuptial Race Not "for Maidens" but "Previous Winners."

Instead of Getting Widow With One Child, Got Woman With Seven Children and Two Husbands.

New York.—Meyer Mauer's marital life was just one surprise after another.

He told the Supreme court about it when he asked for an annulment of the match and recited the list of unexpected events that came to him after he was duly wed.

When he married Becky Mauer, he says, she represented herself as a widow with one child. Surprise No. 1—Another child came to the home, calling his wife "mamma."

Surprise No. 2—Second child came along later, also child of wife.

"How come?" asked Meyer. "Thought you only had one child?"

"Oh, I merely forgot to tell you about this one," said his wife.

Surprise No. 3—Third child, also added starter, comes along to live with mother.

Surprise No. 4—Fourth unheralded infant adds itself to home circle.

"How much of a family have I?" asked Meyer.

Surprise No. 5—"There are two more," said the missus, and the family grew from the one listed child to seven.

Surprise No. 6—Meyer discovered that Mrs. Mauer had two other living husbands and then he decided to let the Supreme court put an end to his family surprise party.

"It is a case of fraud and misrepresentation," he said in asking annulment. "Here I thought I was getting a widow with one child and I find that I got a woman with seven children and two husbands."

The word reverend occurs only once in the Old Testament.

KING BARS CREAM HORSES

Famous British Hackneys Grow Too Small, Owing to Inbreeding.

London.—The famous six cream ponies, which were formerly part of the state pageantry of London, will never appear again drawing the royal coach through the London streets, as, owing to inbreeding, the stock has grown too small for ceremonial purposes and their places have been taken by the "royal blacks."

The stock of creams, however, will not be allowed to die out altogether, for the king has presented them to the army council, and in future they will be used as cavalry drum horses.

O. K. "Barnyard Golf" Sunday.

Lincoln, Neb.—Sitting as a court, the Lincoln city council decided the game of horseshoes on Sunday is not a desecration of the Sabbath and is lawful. The action followed the arrest and fining of boys indulging in the game on Sunday at the suburban town of University Place.
