As a rule we care very little for the ordinary show that comes along. But when it is announced that W. B. Patton is coming, we begin to conserve our spending money against the time of his arrival. The only thing that would really keep us away from one of his shows would be the lack of the price, and we are not saying this simply for effect, but because it is true. For the past ten or twelve years we have seen Mr Patton almost every time he has come through this section. Every year he has a new play—this year it happens to be "Chasing Sally," and while we do not know anything about it, yet the title sounds good and we believe it will be appropriate. He is going to be here on Sunday, Nov. 13th and this will give us about a week to save enough money to buy a ticket.

GRAIN DEALERS DON'T WANT PRICE OF GRAIN DOWN

Professional organizers and promoters are telling the farmers and grain growers that the grain men on the grain exchanges want the price of grain down. This is not true as any farmer may prove for himself if he will investigate the present system of marketing grain. The grain commission men get a per cent of the amount of money each shipment sells for. Not a flat charge per car or per bushel. The higher the price of grain the more money the grain man receives up to a certain price and then the charge is stationary. This is true of all grain dealers on the grain exchanges. When the price of grain is high, memberships on the exchange are high and hard to get. When the price of grain is low memberships are low and many may be on the market. The grain dealers realize that their prosperity depends absolutely on the prosperity of the farmer so when grain goes up there is often the wildest enthusiasm on the floors of the exchanges. Promoters could not make farmers believe false statements if farmers would investigate the present system of marketing grain. When grain is marketed for a fraction over 1 per cent and most other commodities are marketed for 33 per cent it seems as if the agitators could find other fields for their so-called efforts to help the farmer. It is the duty of every grain grower to learn both sides of the grain marketing question. Come to Omaha and investigate or write at once for information.

Think it Over!

Are you going to stay at home all winter, or will you seek the comforts and benefits which the delightful, semi-tropical climate of the South affords?

Geographically, the South is not as far away as it seems, but climatically, in winter, it is about as far away as could be—and in the right direction too—for balmy breezes, sunny skies, moonlit bays, tropical flowers and foliage are the order of the day in the winter time in the Southland.

And, those who pack their grips and bid farewell to the North at this time, reap rich rewards and return with a full realization of the real value of a winter's vacation in that romantic, historic and beautiful land south of the Mason & Dixon line.

Instead of saying to yourself-- "I wish I were in Dixie," why don't you go South this winter? The cost is low--perhaps not as much as you thought it would be, when the price of things generally is considered, and you deduct the cost of staying at home.

Tickets covering tours to Florida, the South Atlantic and Gulf Coast states, Texas and Cuba are now on sale. You can go one way and return another; there is splendid train service via Denver, Kansas City, St. Louis and Chicago; liberal stop-over privileges, final return limit May 31, 1922.

When you're ready, I'll gladly help you plan your trip and make your reservations.

Husking Bee

This is the open season on Husking Bees in Inavale. Some time ago Cecil Bean, who lives four miles north of Inavale, went to Lincoln for an operation on his nose. A number of his friends in the Pleasant Hill District decided that a trip to the hospital ought not to interfere with the business of husking corn. Telephone lines got hot with conversation; chickens, who heard the rumor began to roost high Tuesday morning things began to happen. Seventeen wagons manned by twenty five husky huskers invaded the corn field west of the Pleasant Prairie school house. The weather had just enough of an edge to keep the ears flying. By mid afternoon the job was done. There was a slight interruption about noon when the November breeze wafted to the cornfield the irresistible odor of chicken pie with all the fixin's. It was a little hard to tell where the most havoc had been wrought, in the field or at the table. At the conclusion of the day both had been equally cleared. From thirty five acres were gathered over five hundred bushels. There is no way of computing the additional dividends in the form of good-fellowship, and the warm, satisfying feeling that always comes when you are helping somebody else. Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bean take this opportunity of thanking in behalf of their son Cecil all those who helped to make the day a success.

Those who officiated in the corn-field were: George Pitney, Jim Ornduff, Renfrew Pitney, Hugh Carter, Alva Michaels, Louie Johnson, Ray Mayo, Glen Olmstead, Paul A. Pitney, Ralph Grossman, Rev. Schofield, Leslie Reigle, Albert Skjelver, A. L. Grossman, Nels E. Nelson, George C. Cordie, Thad Pichler, Jim Harvey, Hassal Harvey, Chas. Copley, Chester Pitney, Grover Reigle, G. H. Michaels, W. E. Bean, and Chas. Jeffery.

The culinary ceremonies were in charge of: Mrs. Carrie Pitney, Mrs. Lena Mayo, Mrs. Louise Olmstead, Mrs. Nora Schofield, Mrs. Phrona Michaels, Mrs. Laura Reigle, Mrs. Elma Pitney, Mrs. Tena Bean, Miss Anna Pichler, and Miss Ruby Carter.
