The W. G. Hamilton Clothing Co., and R. P. Weesner Co., both open up in the morning with a sale that promises to be two of the biggest events in local business circles this season. Starting price reductions will be made which will make a strong appeal to the purchaser under the present stringent financial conditions.

The Argus office printed 8000 large sale bills for the Weesner sale and this office made a similar amount for the Hamilton Clothing Company, both papers this week carry four pages of advertising for these events. Both stores have been closed for two days to prepare for the trade that is expected during the next ten days.

E. M. Trumbull, of Minneapolis, has charge of both sales. The prices offered on their regular stocks of high class standard goods are as low as ever made by the big department stores of the larger cities in their sales, and great publicity had been given in this part of the state.

Suggestive Reading

You will hear it said that such and such a magazine prints suggestive stories, meaning that they present corrupting ideas in an attractive dress. But there is a suggestiveness also of quite a different sort—the suggestiveness that quickens the reader's sense of duty, stimulates ambition, gives courage to face adversity, fortifies against yielding easily to temptation. It is this better kind of suggestiveness that you will find on almost every page of The Youth's Companion. Which of these two kinds of suggestiveness would you wish to have exert an influence in your family life?

The 52 issues of 1922 will be crowded with serial stories, short stories, editorials, poetry, facts and fun. Subscribe now and receive:

- 1. The Youth's Companion—52 issues in 1922. 2. All the remaining issues of 1921. 3. The Companion Home Calendar for 1922. All for $2.50. 4. Or include McCall's Magazine, the monthly authority on fashions. Both publications, only $3.00.

Think it Over! Are you going to stay at home all winter, or will you seek the comforts and benefits which the delightful, semi-tropical climate of the South affords? Geographically, the South is not as far away as it seems, but climatically, in winter, it is about as far away as could be--and in the right direction too--for balmy breezes, sunny skies, moonlit bays, tropical flowers and foliage are the order of the day in the winter time in the Southland. And, those who pack their grips and bid farewell to the North at this time, reap rich rewards and return with a full realization of the real value of a winter's vacation in that romantic, historic and beautiful land south of the Mason & Dixon line. Instead of saying to yourself-- "I wish I were in Dixie," why don't you go South this winter? The cost is low--perhaps not as much as you thought it would be, when the price of things generally is considered, and you deduct the cost of staying at home. Tickets covering tours to Florida, the South Atlantic and Gulf Coast states, Texas and Cuba are now on sale. You can go one way and return another; there is splendid train service via Denver, Kansas City, St. Louis and Chicago; liberal stop-over privileges, final return limit May 31, 1922. Burlington Route. When you're ready, I'll gladly help you plan your trip and make your reservations. N. B. BUSH Ticket Agent
