Groceries and Queensware

If it's worth printing at all-- it's worth printing well!

Nothing gives a business concern a "Cheap John" appearance as quickly as the use of poorly done printing. A concern is judged by the appearance of their place of business and by the class of correspondence and the kind of advertising matter used. Since the success of any business institution depends upon the impression made upon the public the necessity of using only the very best printing is obvious.

It costs as much to do a job poorly as to do it right

We are prepared to handle high grade commercial printing of all kinds and enjoy doing work for those who are particular about their printing and want it right.

Service Rendered by Bees.

While the bees of this country gather something like $75,000,000 worth of honey in a single year, they do a larger service for mankind in that they enable the fruit-grower to produce from five to ten times that value in more and better fruit. In order to raise young bees the older bees gather what is known as pollen from the flowers. In the act of gathering it they scatter the pollen from one flower to another, thus bringing about what is known as pollination, so necessary to perfect fruitage. While the bee, of course, has no regard for its human owner, yet in the very act of serving itself when it carries pollen into the hive to feed its young, it makes more and better fruit.

Patrol System for Roads.

The federal government requires the several states to maintain federal aid roads after they have been built, writes Charles Pierce Burton in Harper's Magazine. This is leading inevitably to a general adoption by the states of the patrol system of maintenance, which has been brought to great perfection in France. The patrol system is intensified maintenance. A section of from five to ten miles is allotted to one man, who constantly watches for defects and repairs a break at once, instead of waiting for the entire road to go to pieces before doing anything which until recently, was the American plan. Eternal vigilance is the price of other things besides liberty.

Why Write?

At a recent meeting of a London literary club an author gave an address on the subject, "Why Write?" Least anyone should accuse him of adopting any pose of literary Pharisism, he frankly treated his theme autobiographically and for this purpose set out arithmetically his motives (a) when he first began to write, and (b) at the present day. In the first case the total was made up of 50 per cent ambition, 25 per cent vanity, 20 per cent the urge to earn a living and 5 per cent something to say. In the second case ambition had disappeared and the proportions had changed to 20 per cent vanity, 25 per cent something to say, 20 per cent the urge to earn a living, and 25 per cent something to say.

I. W. EDSON

Democratic Candidate for State Representative - 7th District.

I am for: Economy in State and Local Government. To this end I should be glad to vote to: Repeal the Code Law; Eliminate useless and unnecessary State Boards and cut down expenses of those retained; Repeal the election of State Officers and Legislative Members to point of view; Repeal the election of judges and officers service the rule everywhere. If you believe many of these things, you will appreciate my support at the Primary.
