HIGH TALENT EVIDENT ON THIS YEAR'S PROGRAM

Samuel Hardman, local manager of the Red Cloud Chautauqua, has received an interesting letter from S. M. Holiday, the manager of the Midland circuit, telling of the talent to appear this year. The letter is too long to reproduce entire, but we are publishing the following excerpts:

"Until we got the program together we had not occurred to me that we would have three plays, but virtually here for the reason that we have our big headline play, 'Peg O' My Heart' which is one of the very few American plays that have become popular in Europe. You will find that many of your people have heard, at some time, 'Peg O' My Heart' and they will all be anxious to hear it again. It went over the top big when I heard it, and we have a most excellent company, and the most wonderful 'Peg' that we could have discovered in the United States. The man who plays Jerry doubles and also plays Mr. Hawks. It is certainly clever and intensely interesting. 'Peg O' My Heart' has a splendid moral.

"The second play is a musical comedy put on by the Copley Opera Company composed of topnotch singers from Boston, using for their program 'The Chimes of Normandy', an old classic in Comic Opera. We are proud indeed to have the opportunity to present this most excellent musical comedy and play to the patrons of the Midland Chautauqua Circuit in your town."

"The third play is given by Prof. I. M. Cochran of Carleton College, Northfield, Minn. Mr. Cochran is known all over the middle west for putting out the most wonderful debaters and speakers in the United States. He is at the head of the Public Speaking department at Carleton College and he will read for you 'The Man Of The Hour,' a most extraordinary play given in the form of a monologue. Mr. Cochran beautifully impersonates all the characters in the play."

"We are repeating the Ernest Toy Concert Company. Mr. Toy has just returned from a trip around the world, having visited his boyhood home in Melbourne, Australia, where he played several big concerts in the city of Melbourne. We predict that Ernest Toy will become one of the great violinists of the world. His pianist is Mrs. Toy, an English woman of unusual ability and they have with them Miss Doyle of Chicago, who has taken part in opera for the past three or four years. Miss Doyle has a beautiful soprano voice and will please the most critical. I feel that the repeating of Mr Toy will be pleasing to many of the leading patrons of your Chautauqua."
