Mrs. Gilliland Entertains

Mrs. M. A. Gilliland entertained a number of her friends very delightfully Saturday afternoon on the beautiful lawn of her home on Kansas avenue, in honor of the Misses Pearl and Blanche Pope of Red Cloud, who are her guests.

The afternoon was spent in sewing and visiting and the many worth while experiences and the various witticisms from the different ladies permitted no dull moments to enter the group.

The delicious refreshments that were served by the hostess and the comforts of the beautiful shady lawn certainly made each one forget for a few hours the relentless heat of Nebraska's August days.

Miss Allen of Chicago, who is visiting Misses Gladys and Amy Lewis was an out of town guest. It was with great reluctance that the guests bid the hostess and her two charming visitors adieu and the delight of those hours together will long remain a pleasant memory.—Superior Express.

89th Division Plans Big Reunion at Omaha

Omaha will show its appreciation of the remarkable war record of the 89th Division by providing one of the liveliest series of real entertainments during its second annual reunion September 20-22 inclusive that have been staged in the Gate City for years. Omaha believes that the veterans had enough of the serious side of life during the war, so the program for the three days and nights is filled with fun and frolic.

A barrage composed of Horse Races, Vaudeville Shows, Boxing and Wrestling matches, Cabaret Entertainers Ak-Sar-Ben Electrical Pageant will be laid down for the veterans.

Their appetites will be appeased at a big barbecue where Army Chow is barred. Valuable prizes will be given to the winners at the big field meet, where events have been scheduled so that all can participate. A pass to all entertainment features will be given each 89th Division man when he registers.

The City will present a war front atmosphere for the occasion. Several blocks of the main thoroughfares are to be placarded like the roads and villages were on the front in France. The interior of the mammoth city auditorium will be decorated to recall the various phases of camp and trench life. There will be the well known canteen workers. The general's dugout has not been overlooked. In fact everything to make the "Fighting Middle Westerners" feel at home will be included.

The "Buck Private" will be presented with the key to the city and when the reunion is over "Buck" will know that he has been some place, according to the several hundred Omaha 89th Men who have the reunion in charge.

Fare and one half rates for the round trip on all railroads. Hotels are providing rooms for the veterans at about half of the regular rates, but advance reservations must be made to E. O. Malm, Chairman Reunion Committee at 500 Electric Bldg., Omaha. Omaha's hotels are always filled to capacity during Ak-Sar-Ben Festival, which will be at its height during the reunion.

All drafted men from Nebraska, Missouri, Colorado, South Dakota, Kansas, Wyoming, Arizona and New Mexico were detailed to Camp Funston to this Division. Since 85,000 men were in its ranks at one time or another Omaha is preparing to entertain thousands of veterans. Any man who served with 89th regardless of length of service eligible.

The C. F. Cather family are in receipt of one of the first complete printed editions of their daughter, Willa Sibert Cather's latest book, "One Of Ours" and from every indication the demand for this now world famous novelist's latest production, is to exceed the supply. One of our local book sellers is authority for the statement that although figuring at the time he was stocking up sufficiently strong as to be able to supply this community's demands along this line, he is already convinced from present requests, that he is to fall short—a condition which is also said to exist in other localities as well.

British House of Lords.

John Wilson Croker, in a letter written shortly before his death in 1857, mentions that going over to the lords from the commons one evening he noticed, as a fact, "not unimportant to constitutional history," that every one of the 30 peers then present had sat with him in the house of commons. "It shows," he says, "how completely the house of commons has been the nursery of the house of lords." There are usually in the house of lords about 200 peers who have sat in the house of commons.

The Folly of Wedding Sunday.

It must be dreadful to be the husband of a notoriously beautiful woman, three-quarters of whose waking days is devoted to keeping her face up to the mark. How humiliating to hear one's self referred to as "the husband of that beautiful Mrs. Dash, my dear." Such an ordinary looking man, too! A few short years of such bitter experience would be enough to make any man wish that instead of a wife he had acquired a bit of old Worcester china (not sauce), which is just as good to look at, wears better, and costs less.—London Mail.
