Need Groceries To-Day?

"ALWAYS prepared and waiting to fill any Grocery order" is the motto under which our store is run. It means that no matter how small your order may be or what particular items you may want, we are ready to supply them.

We never allow any of our lines of package, bottled or canned goods to decrease to a "sold out" level. Neither do we offer anything in the Vegetable or Fruit line, unless it is strictly fresh. And what's more, we are sure our prices will please you.

LOCAL ITEMS OF THIRTY YEARS AGO.

(Friday, Sept. 30, 1892)

Al McClintock, day operator at the depot has returned home.

Miss Cora Kaley and Dollie Shephardson of Franklin were in the city this week.

George Newhouse who has been absent for two years has returned home. George has been very successful in learning his trade.

The Ringling Bros., circus was the best ever held in Red Cloud. More than 8000 people attended it. 6000 were in attendance in the afternoon and more than 2000 at night. It was good and drew people from 30 to 40 miles distance.

Mr. Fred McKeely has gone to St. Louis to take a further course in medicine. Fred is a bright and energetic young man and we mistake not, will be a shining light in his profession before many years.

Marshall Roby, who we remember as one of Red Cloud's youngsters years ago, and who has been west, returned this week to visit his parents. Marshall has out-grown himself and his friends. He now weighs 235 and is "clear out of sight." He is depot agent for the B. & M., at Atlanta, Neb., at present.

(Items of Twenty Years Ago.)

Grant Turner was in the city over Sunday.

Bruce Frame is now at work, for Rife and Robinson.

Ed Platt left Tuesday morning for Omaha for a short visit.

Miss Stella Ducker was on the sick list the first of the week.

George Coon has begun the erection of a dwelling house on what was the Fair grounds.

Home r Sherrwood and wife returned Monday morning from their trip to California and the Pacific Coast.

Fred Temple and Hugh Beal went to Omaha, Thursday morning to take in the sight of the Alsbaten, festivities.

John Jessen, the original oil man of this city but who is now with the Economy Society of Pennsylvania, is visiting old friends in this city. John talks very entertainingly of the society and speaks in terms of praise of John Duss, who is at the head of the society, and who also was formerly a citizen of this county. Beyond looking a little older Mr. Jessen looks and acts like the same old John of former days.

Hubert Neperburg, the depot restaurant man is rejoicing over the arrival of a fine large baby girl, which event occurred last Sunday morning.

At the colt show, which was held at Charles McKighan's last Saturday, George Amack was awarded 1st on shire colt, Bert Tenant 1st on all purpose colt, and A. B. Wiggins 1st on mule colt.

WHAT WOOL TARIFF WILL COST THE FARMERS

As the farmers of the United States buy half of the products consumed they will pay half of the enormous bill imposed on the American people for the enrichment of the profiteers for whom it was primarily intended. H. E. Miles, chairman of the Fair Tariff League, a protectionist organization, in a statement to the Senate Finance Committee, said of the tariff which the Fordney-McCumber bill has put on raw wool "to stimulate agriculture."

"At 33 cents per scoured pound duty (the rate in the Fordney-McCumber bill), the cost to the public will be $198,000,000, of which the wool growers would get $79,200,000, against which the farmers as a whole would pay $99,000,000 and the rest of the public an equal sum.

"This estimate is extremely conservative. A widely experienced manufacturer has given his estimate that this $60,000,000 of protection on wool (protected by a duty of 25 cents a pound) would cost the consumer $250,000,000. Personally I think the farmer would pay $100,000,000 to get his $60,000,000.

"The farmer puts upon his own back as much wool as he raises. He is therefore only taxing himself. He also pays full wool duties on the 40 per cent of cotton and 30 per cent of shoddy adulteration in his winter clothing—another, says, $25,000,000 loss."

Pride and Vanity.
I would much rather fight pride than vanity, because pride has a stand-up way of fighting. You know where it is. It throws its black shadow on you, and you are not at a loss where to strike. But vanity is that delusive, that insectivorous, that multiplied feeling; and men that fight vanity are like men that fight widges and butterflies. It is easier to chase them than to hit them.—Henry Ward Beecher.

You don't have to coax big and little folks to eat Kellogg's Corn Flakes

Just as soon as you serve Kellogg's you'll note fussy and faded appetites getting mighty sharp; you'll find big bowls being handed back for "just a few more Kellogg's, mother—they're wonderful!"

And, that'll make you glad, for Kellogg's Corn Flakes are a great speed-start for the day's doings! They make for health and happy digestions! Kellogg's are never leathery or tough, but always joyously crisp!

Kellogg's—the original Corn Flakes—will be a revelation to your taste if you have been eating imitations! For your own enjoyment, do this:—compare the big, sunny-brown Kellogg's Corn Flakes with other "corn flakes." Eat some of Kellogg's—then try the imitations! You'll realize then why Kellogg's Corn Flakes are the largest and fastest selling cereal in the whole world!

Do more than ask for "corn flakes." Insist upon KELLOGG'S Corn Flakes in the RED and GREEN package! My, but it's worth while!
