Since no legalized temptation to drink liquor as a beverage would exist in our city, but for the co-operation of thirty free-holders, we have taken the advice of many persons and give to the public these names found on the city clerk's record as having signed the petitions of our saloon keepers for license to take money "for that which is not bread and which satisfieth not." Temperance people who wish to be loyal to their principles will know better to whom to give their patronage. We thought we were doing these signers a kindness to ask them to take their names off the petition but find they could not do so without application to the council. It is difficult to undo a wrong act. W. C. T. U. Committee.
