Paxtine TOILET ANTISEPTIC

NOTHING LIKE IT FOR

THE TEETH Paxtine excels any dentifrice in cleansing, whitening and removing tartar from the teeth, better destroying all germs of decay and disease which ordinary tooth preparations cannot do.

THE MOUTH Paxtine used as a mouth-wash disinfects the mouth and throat, purifies the breath, and kills the germs which collect in the mouth, causing sore throat, bad teeth, bad breath, grippe, and such sickness.

THE EYES when inflamed, tired, ache and burn, may be instantly relieved and strengthened by Paxtine.

CATARRH Paxtine will destroy the germs that cause catarrh, heal the inflammation and stop the discharge. It is a sure remedy for uterine catarrh.

Paxtine is a harmless yet powerful germicide, disinfectant and deodorizer. Used in bathing it destroys odors and leaves the body antiseptically clean.

NEWS FROM THE METROPOLIS

Society Agog Over Engagement Report

NEW YORK.—The report from London that Eleanor Robson, the actress, is to marry August Belmont has caused no surprise among the friends of the two in this city. A strong friendship has been known to exist between Miss Robson and Mr. Belmont for some time.

No man in New York is better known than August Belmont. He is first of all an aristocrat. It is claimed that the blood of the canny Scottish warrior, William Wallace, flows in his veins. But the man who can claim Oliver Hazard Perry, hero of the battle of Lake Erie, as an ancestor, is not required to go back to Wallace for fighting blood.

The young August Belmont was born in this city in 1853, and is therefore almost twice the age of the young woman he is reported engaged to marry. He decided to follow in his father's footsteps and in 1875, a year after his graduation from Harvard, he had taken a desk in his father's banking house. For 15 years young August developed along the lines of the young banker, joining clubs, cultivating athletics, getting acquainted with society, to which he had free entrance—becoming more and more interested in stable and kennels. He became a judge of a good horse, of a fleet or game hound, and an accomplished yachtsman and polo player. Then the elder Belmont died and August Belmont, Jr., took up the business of his father—became head of the banking house of August Belmont & Company, the American representatives of the great house of Rothschild.

When a young man Mr. Belmont married Miss Bessie Hamilton Morgan, who died more than ten years ago. He has three sons—August Belmont, Jr., Raymond and Morgan. His city house is in East Thirty-fourth street, and he has a country place at Hempstead, L. I.

Miss Eleanor Robson, the reported fiancée of Mr. Belmont, has a career which, though brief, is brimful of interest. She was born in England 30 years ago, her parents and her grandmother being players of distinction.

Miss Robson's most notable success was as the slavey in Zangwill's play of "Merely Mary Ann." In this piece Miss Robson played for an entire season in New York and subsequently won a triumph in London. Last season Miss Robson toured the country in the Fitch comedy, "The Girl Who Has Everything."

Hottest Places in City of New York

THAT is really hot. Yes, it's the hottest place in New York where men go and live afterward to tell the tale. But few are hardy enough to hear it.

This hottest place in New York is in Desbrosses street in a vulcanizing factory, where telephone wires are insulated by being coated with a preparation of rubber. In the room where this process takes place the temperature rises to 212 degrees—100 degrees hotter than the hottest it may be outside in the sun.

Man can endure no more. Actually, there are some who can stand this, however. Only a few, mind you, but still some. They are only the strongest and hardest of the workmen, and they can be in the room but a few brief minutes at a time. Several times daily it is their duty to enter the room to see that all goes well.

To keep from losing their skin and to protect themselves from the terrible heat, these men wear heavy woolen shirts, buttoned high about their necks, and woolen masks and gloves. Four or five minutes at the most in the vulcanizing room is all they can stand without collapsing, and some can't even stay that long.

Outside these men, nobody is ever allowed to endure such a frightful heat. In fact, it is hard to convey the idea of 212 degrees. You can get the same degree of temperature by thrusting your finger into boiling water. Water boils at 212 degrees Fahrenheit.

No native born American can stand such heat, and foreigners—Italians and Sicilians—make the best hands at such work and make up the staff of employees in the vulcanizing room. Even these hardy sons of southern climes often collapse from the terrific temperature.

There are plenty of other hot places in New York, but none to compare with this. In some of the big hotels it gets to 145 degrees in the great kitchens. Cooks and helpers have to work in that temperature for hours unprotected. There is a great difference between 145 and 212 degrees above zero, just the same. Some races can endure a temperature of 150 degrees without protection, but after the mercury has passed the 170 or 180 mark it means death for anyone to remain in it for any length of time.

Handle Billions but Never Lose a Cent

PERHAPS no other two men on earth ever packed as much money for shipment as John R. and Charles J. McManus, coopers. These men, who have a shop in a dark and dingy basement in Beaver street, New York city, pack in kegs all the gold coin exported from that city. They also pack up coin shipped to interior points in America.

These men have been in the business of making cases and packing gold in them for more than twenty years, during which time they have handled more than $2,000,000,000 without even having lost or mislaid a paltry million, or, to be exact without having lost a penny.

As McManus Brothers are the only men in the city who make a specialty of packing gold for shipment, they are employed by all the banks that export the precious yellow metal and by the sub-treasury when it wishes to send some of its wealth away.

They use three-gallon kegs, which hold $50,000 each, for gold coin, and seven-gallon kegs for silver. When coin is to be shipped to Germany, which is seldom, boxes with rope handles are employed instead of casks.

Charles J. McManus said the other day that the most gold they had ever shipped in any one year was in 1896, when they packed more than $200,000,000, much of it going to Panama. That year they shipped for J. P. Morgan & Co. alone more than forty-five million dollars.

The brothers, who have been handling vast sums of money daily for many years, have become so accustomed to the sight of gold coin that it has no more significance to them than so many potatoes, but they have found that a new man on the job often becomes so nervous when handling such great quantities of wealth that he is unable to work.

Hotel to Have Luxurious Ocean Yacht

THAT Fred Sterry, managing director of a New York hotel, is to equip a luxurious yacht to carry the guests at the hotel to Europe, if they so desire, is the story that has been circulated there. The difficulty of obtaining accommodations on the crowded liners suggested the idea, which was first made public in London by William C. Skinner, representing Mr. Sterry.

—With this arrangement there will be no hustle and bustle for staterooms. It will be a private yachting party in the full sense of the word. Every possible luxury and accommodation that a yachting party can have will be afforded on these trips. This private yacht of the hotel is something that has never been known before.

wishes to pass the summer in Europe, the main difficulty is to obtain proper accommodations on a steamship in the rush season. To get these accommodations takes many weeks and possibly months and often then they are not satisfactory and would likely be disappointing. The hotel yacht, which is a misnomer, of course, will obviate all that trouble for the guests.

To get down to cold and hard facts, which are necessarily uninteresting but important, the boat's length over all will be 540 feet; tonnage, 8,000; horsepower, about 5,000; speed, from 15 to 20 knots. These figures sound like an ocean racer, and so the boat is.

Mr. Skinner declares the rates they will charge for crossing on the yacht will be only about 15 per cent. more than those charged by first-class steamships.

The enterprising Americans who are in this deal with Mr. Sterry will endeavor to make the yacht in appearance as near like the hotel in question as possible. It will resemble the hotel, especially, in regard to the cuisine.

SOLID GOLD & SILVER AWARD
For the Best Ear of Corn
 To be Known as the N. K. Kellogg National Corn Trophy
 To be Awarded at the National Corn Exposition, Omaha, December 6 to 18, 1909.

Over one hundred thousand million (100,000,000,000) ears of corn were grown in the United States last year. Over a billion dollars were paid for them. More than a million and a quarter extra dollars went into the pockets of the farmers for corn this year than they received for the previous year's crop. The reason for this may be found in the fact that the people of the United States are beginning to learn how delicious corn is and to realize its full food value.

Kellogg's Toasted Corn Flakes has placed corn among the indispensable items of daily fare. The makers, therefore, are interested in the development of the King of Cereals, and have decided to award a beautiful trophy for the man, woman or child who can produce the best ear of corn in two different seasons.

Professor Holden, of the Iowa State College, the greatest authority on corn in the world, will award the prize at the National Corn Exposition, to be held at Omaha, Neb., December 6th to 18th, 1909. Two single rules will govern the plan, and they are—that you send your best ear of corn to the National Corn Exposition, Omaha, Neb., before November 27, 1909, and that you are a member of the National Corn Association. Full particulars regarding which can be had by writing to National Corn Exposition, Omaha, Neb., or a tag securely to your specimen and word it. For the Kellogg Trophy Contest, and write your name and address plainly. If yours is judged the best, you will get the trophy for 1909. If you succeed again next year or the year following, the trophy will become your property for all time. In other words, you must produce the best ear of corn two different years.

There will be no restrictions. Any man, woman or child belonging to the Association can enter. It will be open to every state in the Union. Professor Holden will judge the corn particularly on the basis of quality. The growing of more corn per acre is one object of the award, but the main purpose of the founder of the trophy is for Eczema Made Hands and Feet Swell, Peel and Get Raw—Arms Affected, Too—Gave Up All Hopes of Cure.

Quickly Cured by Cuticura.

"I suffered from eczema on my hands, arms and feet for about twelve years, my hands and feet would swell, sweat and itch, then would become callous and get very dry, then peel off and get raw. I tried most every kind of salve and ointment without success. I tried several doctors, but at last gave up thinking there was a cure for eczema. A friend of mine insisted on my trying the Cuticura Remedies, but I did not give them a trial until I got so bad that I had to do something. I secured a set and by the time they were used I could see a vast improvement and my hands and feet were healed up in no time. I have had no trouble since. Charles T. Sweet Eighteen.
 A professor of the class in English history was telling his young men of the impressionable age about the Elizabethan era, when suddenly turning to one of the young men who seemed to be in a dream, with a far-away gaze, he said:

"And how old was Elizabeth, Mr. Case?"

"Eighteen last birthday," came the instant reply.

USE THE BEST FAULTLESS STARCH FOR LAUNDRY WORK

FOR SHIRTS, COLLARS, CUFFS AND FINE LINEN

Crop Growing on Small Scale.
 A small holder in East Lexham is making an interesting experiment in barley growing upon his land to test the possibility of raising corn on a small scale. In 1907 he sowed 78 specially selected grains of barley, which yielded 400 ears. The resulting kernels he sowed in 1908 and harvested in 14 weeks, with the result that he got a bushel of threshed barley, which he has shown this year, his object being to show what can be done in cereal cultivation from very small beginnings.—London Standard.

The Clothesline Test.
 "Let me see her clothes on the line," said an old-fashioned woman recently, "and I can tell you if she is a good housekeeper!" The test lies in the way the garments are hung. If the skirts are scattered around promiscuously the woman lets garbage stand on her kitchen table over night. The skirts, like we men, should always hang together, shoulder to shoulder, and everything of its kind should hang in a row.—Acheson Globe.

Got His Answer.
 Uncle—You are a very nice little girl to ask me to have more soup. Now why do you want me to have it?
 Niece—So you won't eat so much of the chicken as you did last time.—Flegende Blatter.

Rare Combinations.
 "The time, the place and the girl. How seldom we see them together!"
 "And another rare combination is the man, the scheme and the coin."

There are imitations, don't be fooled. There is no substitute! Tell the dealer you want Lewis' Single Binder cigar.

Silence is indeed golden to those who are paid to keep quiet.
