SCHOOL NOTES

(BY WHISPERING SMITH)
The Literary Society is not "dead but sleeping."

Miss Richards spends her Thanksgiving in Hastings.

Frank Ellinger and Cecil Essig are again in school after a week's visit in Denver.

The High School was favored by an instrumental solo by Miss Berta Green last Friday.

The teachers of the Lincoln school gave an unusually fine Thanksgiving program, this year.

The Normal class having finished Reading and Grammar took the regular teachers examination, Saturday. They now take up Geography.

Our foot ball boys are doing credit to themselves this year. They will play Oberlin, Kas., Thanksgiving, the weather permitting. Don't eat too much Turkey boys, you may want to play another game.

Dr. Sheppard of Lincoln gave a most interesting and humorous talk to the High School Monday. He spoke about the Sailor's life and compared our school life with the life on high sea. His talk was much appreciated by the students. We are always glad to take advantage of the instructive lectures given by learned men.
