A Big Mass Meeting

A big mass meeting was held Monday night in the Commercial Club rooms attended by nearly all our prominent citizens. Word was received here that the new passenger schedule between here and Hastings arranged for the train to leave Red Cloud in the morning. The meeting proved to be in reality an indignation meeting. Such a schedule if put into effect would be a body blow to the interests of Webster County. That the railway commission should ignore the request made by those who fled the complaint is inconceivable. The people of Cowles started the movement by protesting against their present service and testified that a train from the north in the morning would be of material advantage to them. At the conference held in Hastings by the railway commission about fifty witnesses testified that it would be to the best interests of all concerned to have the schedule provide for a morning south train and one witness, a resident of Hastings, gave opposite testimony. Our people feel that in all fairness to Webster County their desires should be acceded to. Protests against the proposed arrangement are being circulated all over the county which will be filed with the commission. The whole county is up in arms.

We have the utmost confidence in the fairness, honesty and integrity of the members of the commission and we believe that as soon as they are fully acquainted with all the particulars they will give us what is so obviously for our best interests.

We Want That Pennant

The Nebraska State League Base Ball schedule is out and the arrangements meet with the approval of our base ball fans.

Manager Grant has secured his release from the southern league and has already booked some excellent players. Under our present organization we are protected against outlaw players and we are assured of a team composed of high class gentlemen players. Already we are on the tip-toe of excitement for the first game. As usual more interest is manifested in the games with Superior than with the others. Superior is our old time and natural friendly enemy and we want to chase her to the woods. We will do it too. Superior always does her best and it is a pleasure to lock horns with a people who are game. Win or lose, its fun to play with Superior and we warn them now that we are after their scalps.

We will have a team of real live Indians this year and incidently we are after that pennant.

BREACH OF PROMISE SUIT FOR LINCOLN MAN

Young Colorado Widow Wants $10,000 From Frank H. Young—Says He Trifled

Denver, Colo., March 18—On his first trip to Greeley, Colo., eight months ago for the purpose of investing largely in the beet sugar industry, Frank H. Young, a capitalist of Lincoln, Neb., met Mrs. Cora Whitaker, a young widow of Red Cloud, who was visiting at Greeley. It was a case of love at first sight, according to a complaint filed by the widow in district court at Greeley for $10,000 damages for alleged breach of promise.

But there was no love at all on any kind of sight, said the Nebraska financier, when served with a summons in the case at the Union depot in Denver last night by Deputy Sheriff Crocker. He was just boarding a train for Lincoln when the deputy handed him the document that will require his return to Greeley and not only meet the frate young widow, but also face a stern judge and a jury of twelve to explain what kind of love he offered.

Mrs. Whitaker was informed of his sudden departure while she was waiting to see if she should begin the preparation of her wedding trousseau or begin a suit in court. She hurried the summons to Denver, where Attorney D. W. Strickland was asked to take a hand.

Mrs. Whitaker, who is 26 years of age, alleges that some eight months ago she agreed to marry the Nebraskan after many requests on his part. She had given out the fact of her engagement with him. This has caused her humiliation and disappointment at heart and the damages she says is easily worth $10,000.—World Herald.

LINCOLN LETTER

The spectacle of Rev. Mr. Ludden, the preacher-political-secretary of the normal school board threatening to revoke the certificate of a teacher who dared to criticize the action of the board is merely what might have been expected from that source. Professor Cline, against whom the threat was issued, has called the Ludden bluff, and if the preacher-secretary should attempt to make the threat good it is highly probable that Professor Cline will bring action for attempted blackmail. The resignation of President Crabtree has been accepted, but he will continue at the head of the Peru normal until the end of the school year.

A majority of the county assessors met at the state house the first of last week and consulted with the attorney general concerning the interpretation of some sections of the revenue laws. With the exception of three or four assessors all were well satisfied with the law providing for the election of precinct assessors. The tax-shirking corporations are not well satisfied with the law, however. Under the old rule they had no trouble in securing the appointment of precinct assessors who would "do the right thing," but now that the people elect, the aforesaid corporations will have to bear their proper share of the tax burden. The republican assessor of Lancaster county criticized the precinct assessor law very bitterly, but the answer to that may be found in a recent list published by the State Journal, showing how the aforesaid assessor has failed miserably to properly assess a number of men now deceased.
