The editor has gone to the Grand Island convention. Its just our luck (the devil's) to have him away when there are no ball games. We always do our best but what's the use luck is against us. Funny he could not go away sometime when there was something doing here.

The republican convention at Lincoln declared for county option and the initiative and referendum altho there was considerable opposition to those measures. The progressive wing had complete control and endorsed the actions of the insurgents. Populists also declared for county option and all the principles of the party as given in the first platform.

While the politicians all over the country are pointing with pride to their party achievements just take a look at our court house park. When they get thru fixing, the commissioners can point with pride to the beautiful grounds and the trees. They are doing a much needed work and the entire county will thank them for making the county grounds presentable.

We know that it is not just the right thing to roast our home ball club but sometimes forbearance ceases to be a virtue. We speak advisedly when we say that when men sell their time we are entitled to their best. Our team can play ball but no team can play and lose sleep after night. We are convinced that loss of sleep is the only cause for our poor showing and that makes us angry. We trust that the management will come down hard on the boys by the time Chautauqua opens so that they will be in condition to play ball and give the people their money's worth. When they give us their best we are perfectly satisfied win or lose but when they are dead on their feet we draw the line.

The Farmer's Independent Telephone company is to be congratulated upon its progressive spirit. The copper toll lines will soon be extended to Lincoln and this will give direct service to all important cities. The managers are placing the system upon a scientific basis and success is assured. Competition is the life of trade as it spurs on the other fellow and the result is that the people receive better service. The Independent company is in a position to render the best service possible and under efficient management it will capture its share of public trade and at the same time make itself invaluable to the shareholders.

The more we think about a cold storage plant here the more convinced we are in its feasibility. Besides making a paying investment for the owner in the way of profit from butter and eggs we would have clean manufactured ice all the year. This in turn would give employment to eight or ten men and the more men we have employed so much the better. There is another use for the cold storage and one in which the entire population will be more directly interested. For years we have heard people complain that the best meat is shipped out and we are compelled to put up with what is left that it was a shame that people who live right in the heart of the stock growing belt should not be able to eat the best that the country afforded. Now with a cold storage plant the meat man could kill a dozen of the best fed cattle and hang them up and use them as he wanted. This would give us the best meat in the world and would be cheaper because we would not be compelled to pay the transportation charges both ways to and from the packing houses. View the question from any point and but one deduction can be made and that is that a cold storage plant established here is a necessity and a paying investment.

The State Convention

Nearly all the delegates to the state democratic convention arrived in Grand Island Monday night. They gathered in little knots all over the business district and it was evident that all were impressed with the idea that something would be doing. The advance men of the leaders were already on the ground and had established head quarters. Wheel horses and new recruits mixed generally but all seemed to be playing the writing game. County option was freely discussed but at this time no general sentiment could be discerned. Everyone was alert however and anxious to learn the latest move of the leaders.

The city was taxed to its utmost to care for the visitors who poured in from all parts of the state. Rooms in private houses were secured so that all delegates and visitors were accommodated.

Tuesday the real fight began. County option received its first defeat upon a resolution offered by Congressman Hitchcock relative to the manner of receiving platform planks and resolutions. Mr. Bryan offered an amendment and the result was a defeat for Mr. Bryan's motion 394 to 465.

Addresses were made by Dahlgren, Shallenberger, Bryan and others. Mr. Bryan spoke for a little over an hour but was unable to stem the tide that had set in against his favorite issue. All of the speakers spoke right from the shoulder and the convention proved to be a veritable clearing house of political ideas. On the direct vote on declaring for county option the result was 198 for and 668 against. However the convention did not declare against that measure but decided that it was practically not an issue at this time.

The great convention adjourned harmoniously to the chagrin of those republicans who have persistently been predicting a disruption of the Democratic party. Our party will go before the voters this fall a united party and will work harmoniously for the initiative and referendum. The eight o'clock closing law and the actions of the last legislature was warmly commended.

LINCOLN LETTER

LINCOLN, NEBR., July 26.—(Special Correspondence)—An injunction has been handed down by the district court of Lancaster forbidding Secretary of State Junkin from certifying as candidates to county clerks the names of those who have filed as the candidates of more than one political party. The object is to prevent the democratic candidates from also having the Peoples Independent party label after their names, and vice versa. The hearing is set for July 27th. Secretary of State Junkin held at the beginning that the payment of one filing fee as sufficient, and in this he was upheld by an opinion written by Attorney General Thompson. Gilbert M. Hitchcock paid the $50 fee when he filed as a democrat, and later tendered a fee of $50 when he filed as the Peoples Independent candidate. The latter fee was returned to him by Secretary Junkin with a letter stating that the payment of one fee was sufficient. It is a commentary on Secretary Junkin's rank partisanship to know that he has changed his opinion and now holds that it requires two fees, and that since the date for filing is past those who failed to tender two fees are now stopped from standing as candidates of the two parties. It is a chilly day when Mr. Junkin does not go the limit in exhibiting his rank partisanship, even at the expense of the best interests of the state.

When the democrats were demanding the election of precinct assessors by the people the republican organs charged that it would result in a constant fight between townships to get the lowest assessed valuation so as to avoid the payment of the state tax. It is interesting to note that under the first year of the precinct assessor law the personal property assessment has been increased upwards of $12,000,000.00. The precinct assessor law is proving satisfactory to all concerned.

A few days ago W. R. Patrick, who has filed for the democratic candidate for governor, told a prominent democrat in Omaha that as between Shallenberger and Aldrich he preferred Aldrich. This is evidenced by the fact that he filed for governor, evidently with the view to pulling as many votes as possible from Shallenberger so as to secure the nomination of Dahlgren, thinking that Dahlgren's nomination would result in an increased vote for Aldrich at the general election. The injection of Patrick into the race has had the effect of solidifying the Shallenberger support and bringing it into evidence in a most surprising manner in the least expected quarters.

During Governor Shallenberger's first term the following beneficial legislation recommended by him has been enacted:

The bank guarantee law.
